Machine Gun Inventor Charged With Bootlegging
San Francisco, Oct. 29.—John H. Browning, Utah capitalist, said to be son of the machine gun inventor, Joseph Eccles, president of the Amalgamated Sugar company, of Ogden, and James H. Devine, attorney, are charged with violating federal laws prohibiting the shipment of liquor from wet to dry territory and warrants for their arrest were telegraphed from San Francisco this afternoon.

Browning, Eccles and Devine were involved in the operations of an alleged bootlegging ring through reputed confessions of Horace M. Brad and Joseph P. Dolaney, train messengers of the American Railway Express company, who are now under arrest. R. E. Price, baggage man, and James H. Browne, railroad electrician, are other members of the alleged ring under arrest.
Federal authorities said this afternoon that on October 15 they seized five trunks containing 50 gallons of whiskey at a Utah station being shipped by the ring. Twenty-five thousand dollars worth of liquor, federal agents declare, have been shipped by the ring in the last few months.
Agents of wealth, Utah men and prominent San Francisco liquor dealers are said to be involved and further arrests are expected.

GRAND JURY SIFTING PENITENTIARY SCANDAL

Allegations Now Being Probed in Multnomah And Indictment Likely.

Investigation of the state penitentiary parole scandal is now being made before the grand jury in Multnomah county, and reports from there predict that indictments will be returned very soon. However, it is said that the charges involving Parole Officer Joe Keller will be sifted by the Marion county grand jury.
Last week the investigating committee, comprised of Attorney General Brown, District Attorney Evans of Multnomah, District Attorney Hill of Linn and District Attorney Gehlbach of Marion, undertook to bring before them the convicts on parole in Multnomah county who might have information on the traffic in paroles at the prison. But most of the convicts refused voluntarily to visit the court house, where the committee was working as they said they had been warned that the court house was being watched and any paroled convict who went before the committee was in danger of having his parole revoked.

Not to be thwarted by someone evidently interested in the outcome of the investigation, the committee decided to turn that portion of the investigation over to the grand jury and then subpoena these paroled convicts and in that manner bring them up for questioning.

In connection with this feature of the investigation, it has come to light that the investigators are looking for H. M. Hudson, alias Wax, who gained national notoriety a short time ago when he impersonated former District Attorney Osborne of New York and made love to a Miss Rae Tanner, who filed a breach of promise suit against the district attorney for $250,000 damages.

Hudson is a forger with a long prison record, but he was given a conditional pardon by Governor Withycombe October 9, of this year, and quickly disappeared. The investigating committee wants to know how he happened to get his pardon in the face of his black record.
Hudson, who had served a term in the Walla Walla prison and also in San Quentin, was sent up from Portland for forgery in June, 1913. He escaped the following September, and immediately began a career of robbing women by making love to them and stealing their money and jewels as soon as he had gained their confidence. This ended with the New York affair. He was returned from New York to the Oregon penitentiary April 18, 1917, with many crimes chalked up against him and practically all of his original five-year sentence yet to serve.

But in a little more than a year he has his freedom again, this time by virtue of a conditional pardon.
All reports indicate that the investigating committee is unearthing conditions which show that the parole system now being handled is loaded with graft.
Whether the people of the state will be appraised of the conditions prior to the general election next Tuesday is an uncertain question. Attorney General Brown is in Pendleton attending the sessions of the supreme court, but that is not delaying the investigation in Portland. If acts have been discovered which are crimes it is also considered doubtful if the committee will include them in its report until after indictments have been returned and the indicted persons placed under arrest.

Many of Governor Withycombe's political supporters are uneasy about what the nature of the report will be, if it should be made public prior to the election, as the revelation of a serious prison scandal would not have a beneficial effect upon the governor's chances for re-election, as it has been many years since a scandal of any kind has broken over any of the state institutions.

Germany Is Torn By Conflicting Ideas
Washington, Oct. 29.—German opinion is torn between desires for war, peace and revolution. This was the declaration of diplomatic cables from central sources today.
The perturbation of the German people as a result of the law to bring the military power under civilian control, Ludendorff's resignation and Berlin's request to the entente for armistice terms, have brought passionate and contradictory comments from the press and public, the cable says.
Partisans of the democratic idea are gathering around the government while the junkers and conservatives of the old regime still strive to maintain their power. In addition, the advice state, there are the independent socialists "who form the center of a movement that could be called revolutionary, but which the more moderate call bolshevist."

LOST TIME WILL BE MADE UP BY SALEM SCHOOLS
School teachers in Salem will probably be given a chance to make up the time lost while the schools are closed by order of the state board of health.
The annual teachers' institute will not be held, according to the announcement made yesterday by W. M. Smith, county superintendent. This will give the Salem schools a chance to catch up one week.

It is more than probable that during the annual holidays, the vacation will be limited to one week instead of two. This will give the schools an opportunity to make up another lost week.
Then there are several holidays on which the schools will be in session during the school year. For Thanksgiving, instead of a two-day vacation, the chances are good for the one day only.
In the country, the rural school teachers will be given the usual institute week to make up that much lost time and again, it is probable that but one-weeks vacation will be taken during holidays. Many of the country schools will lose but two weeks.
With teaching going on the usual institute week and a shorter vacation during the Christmas holidays, the average rural school will have no difficulty in making up lost time.

Opposes Bringing Non-Resident Insane Into State
Many states have enacted laws against the bringing within their borders of insane persons who are non-residents," says Dr. R. E. Leo Steiner, superintendent of the Oregon state hospital, in his biennial report to the state board of control. "Oregon is being imposed upon in this regard and suitable legislation should be enacted to prevent this abuse."

Three Hundred Thousand Dollars For Penitentiary
The budget for the state penitentiary, after being trimmed by Governor Withycombe at a meeting he held yesterday afternoon with Warden Murphy and Secretary Goodlin of the board of control, totals $213,940.92, which is an increase of $105,585 over the appropriations made by the 1917 legislature for the institution.
It is an increase of $109,840 over the appropriations made by the 1915 legislature for the biennium of 1915-1916 and it is an increase of $145,750 over the appropriations made by the 1913 legislature for the last two years of former Governor West's administration.

STEEL DIVIDENDS
New York, Oct. 29.—An extra dividend of two percent on the common stock, in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of one and a quarter percent, was declared by directors of the United States Steel corporation here today.
The regular quarterly dividend of one and three quarters percent on preferred stock was declared.
For the quarter ended September 30, the corporation's net earnings after war tax, were deducted were $42,961,589. For the previous quarter the earnings were $62,557,391.

State House Notes
The Sumpter Valley Railroad company has notified the American Railway Express company that it will not renew its contract next month for carrying express over its line, and it is reported that the railroad company will do its own express business. Complaints against the change have been filed with the public service commission.

Orders Of War Boards Will Be Strictly Adhered To By Oil Companies.
No gasoline will hereafter be sold to any firm in the city until that firm has signed an agreement to conform to the fuel administration's request not to sell after 6 o'clock of evenings and not at all on Sundays. This question of Sunday selling came to a head today when all three of the gasoline companies agreed to cooperate.
The dealers who by mistake failed to obey the order of the fuel administration and have been selling on Sunday and after 6 o'clock in the evenings, it is reported on authentic authority, will be unable to purchase gasoline from any of the three leading oil companies until they sign a statement in writing that they will hereafter obey the law.

GASOLINE SALES ON SUNDAY PROHIBITED
The Pacific Coast Petroleum War Service committee with headquarters at San Francisco writes: "While of course there has been no order issued as yet prohibiting the sale of gasoline and distillate on Sundays and after 6 o'clock, we are asking your voluntary cooperation in discontinuing sales Sunday, and after 6 o'clock in the evening in order that the oil companies and distributors on the Pacific coast may be helped in releasing men for more essential employment."
The war service committee has also issued the following circular addressed to users of gasoline and engine distillate: "Asking the co-operation of the oil industry and the public at large in the movement to conserve man power D. M. Dolsom, federal oil director for the Pacific coast has announced that all sellers and distributors without exception have been requested to limit their sales between 6 a. m. and 6 p. m. This appeal is made in all states of the Pacific coast section. The limit of the hours of service will work no inconvenience on the gasoline and engine distillate consuming public, requiring only a little forethought in order to secure their requirements."

Not only the fuel administration but also the state council of defense is back of the order to discontinue the selling of gasoline on Sundays and after 6 o'clock in the evening. All dealers in the smaller towns in the county have been observing the law and it is understood but one dealer in Salem failed to obey the instructions of the fuel administration last Sunday.

Salem, Oregon, July 6, 1918. An open letter to Bishop Matthew Simpson Hughes:
Dear Bishop: Four weeks ago a public letter addressed to you charged the Sunday newspaper with being an abominable nuisance, and the republican party with being "an hypocritical, godly old hipor party, over forty years behind the times, ruled by liquor and tobacco." I boldly renew both charges. To me these seem to be vital and irrepressible issues, of vast and immediate importance. Are you a Souther? Respectfully, Wm. N. Taft.
