COMING EVENTS

Nov. 5.—Election day. Nov. 11-18—United War fund drive, Marion county quota $42,000. Nov. 1.—The funeral of... Webb & Clough Co. 'The best' is all you can do when death comes. Call Webb & Clough Co. phone 123. A call was received by the local exemption board this morning for 15 men. They will entrain sometime during the five day period beginning Nov. 11. Vote 46X Clark H. L. for county judge, independent. Reverse tires; Clark's tire house, 319 North Commercial street, Salem. (Paid adv.) 11-2 Dr. Schenk has now returned from his vacation and he extends a cordial invitation to his patrons and friends to visit his institution. Mrs. Moulth Blatchiff, proprietor of the Blatchiff house at 305 North High street has sold out to Mrs. Nellie Price. The new proprietor will take possession Nov. 1. Milton Kooreman who was ill when he returned from the presidio early in September, is now reported to be recovering and expects to be out within a few days. Tomorrow, Oct. 1, the legal advisory board will be assisted by the following: Ben W. Olcott, captain; W. A. Wiest, Edmo S. White, G. E. Urub, Thomas A. Hinchart, T. M. Hicks, W. F. Fargo, and James G. Hettzel. O. J. Franklin of the Standard Cleaners has bought out his partner C. G. Foreman, and is now sole proprietor. They have been associated in the business for the past six years. Mr. Foreman has not as yet announced his plans. The funeral services of Mrs. George Wiche who died Oct. 29 were held this afternoon and were conducted by the Rev. Leland W. Porter. Burial was in the Bethel cemetery. Today is the close of the season's hunting for Chinese pheasants and geese. Also of silver gray squirrels. Ducks and geese may be shot until Jan. 15. The proper temperature for an apartment house is 68, according to a recent ruling of the fuel administration. When there was a great cry of conserving heat a month or so ago, it seems that the owners or lessors of apartment houses in Portland agreed with the fuel administration so cheerfully that about every one with rooms in apartments was half frozen or at least kept at a temperature that is less cheerful than shoe freezing. Now the order is to fire

PERSONALS

Attorney Frank A. Turner is in Portland today on legal business. S. J. Starr was in Salem Thursday from Sublimity. The Rev. W. C. Kantner returned yesterday from an extended stay in Portland. Mrs. S. S. Mamey left for Portland yesterday to care for her daughter who is ill. Miss Mary Barrick, who has been with Urub & Macy for the past month, will leave in a few days to make her home in Portland.

Born

VAN LAANEN—To Mr and Mrs. George Van Laanen, Oct. 29, 1918, a daughter. She has been named Ruth Elizabeth.

Died

NELSON—Edward Nelson died last evening, Oct. 30, at Portland following an attack of influenza. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nelson, 224 Court street and was twenty seven years old. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at Webb and Clough chapel. They will be private.

out that the delay in sending inspectors here was working a great hardship on all those interested. Mr. Reynolds was not especially anxious to leave his work and go on the inspecting job but it was put up to him that his help would to some extent relieve the situation here. Today he was assigned to inspecting at Dallas. Leo N. Childs has disposed of his confectionary store at 538 State street. He expects to be called into the service this fall. On account of a delay last week, no questionnaires to men between the ages of 35 and 46 were sent out until last Monday. The schedule calls for 10 per cent each day. As there is a large amount of work piling up on the local exemption board, it is probable that all questionnaires will not be mailed until about next Thursday. Hence if the citizen happens not to receive his questionnaire for several days, there need be no cause for worry. Nurses seem to be a little backward about filling out the questionnaires sent them for the purpose of securing a nurse census of the two counties. There seems to be an impression that in filling out the questionnaires they are placing themselves subject to government orders. This is not the case. The survey is for the purpose only of compiling a complete census of nurses in Marion and Polk counties. It is thought that if this is understood no patriotic person would refuse to give the information wanted. Every woman who has had any nursing experience is asked to fill out the questionnaire. Miss Grace Taylor who has charge of the survey in this district reports that only between 25 and 30 nurses have been located. It is hoped that all others with nursing experience, whether graduates or not will report their names to Miss Taylor or at Red Cross headquarters. The man who happens to do his eating at a restaurant or cafeteria may now order every kind of meat in sight if his appetite happens to demand it. It was about ten days ago that the various meat combinations were placed under the ban by the food administration and restaurants were not allowed to serve but one kind of meat to a customer. Mince pie is also again in favor along with hash, meat pies and the old time combination of liver and bacon. These were taboo according to the food administration order for October 21. Now the order is cancelled and all sorts of meat combinations are permitted at eating houses. The house at 960 Broadway was broken in recently by boys who stole electric fixtures, window weights, night lock and other fixtures. By the way, this is the oldest one in Salem. It was built by Jason Lee in 1840 and used by him as a home before he went east a few years later, never to return. The back part of the house, running east and west, is exactly as Jason Lee built it. The early illustrations of the house show the front addition running north and south. The father of Reuben P. Boise built the L addition in 1880 and the property is still owned by the Boise family. From a historical standpoint, the home is of special interest, especially to those familiar with the early Methodist history of Chemeketa, now Salem. Russian Bugaboo Raised By Germans Now Washington, Oct. 31.—Germany is starting to raise up the bugaboo of Russian troop assistance as a trap to force favorable allied armistice terms, according to reliable information here today. Reports that Lenin and Trotsky are threatening to send two to three million troops to aid Germany should peace fail, are considered as solely propaganda matter. The state department said it had heard vaguely some time ago that Lenin and Trotsky were making speeches to that effect. This happened, it was said, at about the time the bolsheviks and Germany were making their offensive and defense alliance which required mainly that Russia give Germany troop assistance. This will do away with the night shift and save several men for day work, which is most essential, as all business and commercial cars are usually thru with their day's work by that time. 11-4 The caating season is now about over. At least it is out of the question now to get any more ten pound sugar permits for caating purposes. The order is final from the food administration and C. M. Lockwood, county food administrator has received his definite instructions. The boys who try any fancy pranks this evening and happen to be caught by the police force or by the plain clothes men to be put on the force this evening, will find free lodgings in the city jail over night. Formerly there was an unwritten law for Halloween night that permitted boys to do a lot of mischief. The police say that unwritten law is old stuff and if they catch any youngster trying any Halloween business, he will be arrested and given city lodging and permitted to state his case tomorrow morning. The Rev. J. A. Stansfield, recently elected rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church in Salem left a few days ago for San Francisco, later to go to New York. Mr. Stansfield is from the diocese of Colorado and on account of the demand for church services there, the Colorado bishop would not consent to the transfer of Mr. Stansfield to the Oregon diocese. The Rev. C. H. Powell of La Grande was in the city a few days ago in conference with the vestry of the Episcopal church and who probabilities he will be called to St. Paul's. The voters in ward two and who happen to also live in precinct 16 will not be obliged to travel around to any extent next Tuesday when voting. Ward 2 will vote down stairs, while those who live in precinct 16 will vote up stairs in the city hall in the council chamber. For the benefit of the voter who will probably get mixed up next Tuesday, it may be said that the chances are elections hereafter will be all in charge of the county and there will be but one election booth for city, state and county voting. The last legislature passed the law but failed to make it workable. It is expected that the legislature to convene next January will remedy this. On account of the rain last evening Company M of the Oregon National guard did not drill. The order is now given by Captain Leroy Hewlett that the company will assemble in front of the armory Friday evening at 8 o'clock weather permitting. The armory has been closed by Colonel Woelpert for meeting of any kind. The Oregon National Guard, Company M, is a state organization, and subject to service anywhere, just the same as the old Company M. This organization is in no way connected with the Oregon Guard which has four companies in the city. Lloyd T. Reynolds has been appointed inspector of prunes to be shipped to the United States army. SALARY INCREASES BOTH STATE BOARD

Governor And Other Members Do Not Agree On Method Of Increase.

Members of the state board of control, when in session this morning, were divided on the question of fixing the amount of salary increases for the heads and assistants at various state institutions which the board would recommend to the forthcoming session of the legislature. As a result, the board decided not to make any specific recommendations but to make a general recommendation that the salaries of institution heads, which are fixed by statute, should be increased. Governor Withycombe started down the list, saying he favored an increase from $5,000 to $5,800 a year for Dr. Steiner, superintendent of the Oregon state hospital, from $3,000 to $3,300 a year for Dr. McNary, superintendent of the Eastern Oregon hospital, from $2,500 to $3,000 a year for Dr. J. N. Smith, superintendent of the state institution for feeble-minded. Secretary of State Olcott and State Treasurer Kay said there should be some uniformity in the increases, and this led to a discussion which brought the board members into agreement that only a general recommendation should be made, without specifying the amounts. It was brought out that the superintendents are provided with all their living expenses, except clothing, in addition to their salaries. In an effort to put a curb upon the extravagant expenditures now being made for the upkeep and maintenance of state automobiles and trucks, the board directed Secretary Goodin to send a letter to all the heads of state institutions requesting them to give special attention to the state machines and see if the cost cannot be reduced. The board appointed Warden Murphy, Dr. Steiner and Secretary Goodin as a committee to ascertain the number of cords of wood which were destroyed by the fire last summer at the prison wood camp on the Frank L. Smith place. The board will then recommend to the legislature that an adjustment of the loss be made with Mr. Smith. The budget for the state training school for boys was approved. For salaries and maintenance, $109,920 was allowed, and $16,000 for repairs and betterments.

German Declares Whole System Wrong

London, Oct. 31.—(British Admiralty wireless).—Speaking in the reichstag Friday, Herr Cohn, independent socialist, declared it was necessary at this time to fix responsibility for the situation in which the German people have found themselves. The war had not arisen, he said, from the faults of individuals but from the whole political and economic connection of things. Essentially predatory and desirous of power, it was youthful German imperialism, which was supported, to this end by strong and offensive militarism asserting itself by means of force and lies. That a special edition of the Lokal Anzeiger which announced mobilization was under way when it had not yet been ordered, that it might be telegraphed abroad will not be forgotten, Cohn said. Declaration of war on France was officially based on a French airman's attack on Nuremberg, which was a lie. The civil government conducted negotiations with President Wilson. This did not suit the military who thwarted negotiations by declaring an intensified submarine war.

Allies Will Occupy Constantinople At Once

London, Oct. 31.—The occupation of Constantinople by the allies is expected momentarily as the result of the signing of an armistice by the Turkish government. The terms of armistice, it was learned authoritatively tonight, include the complete laying down of arms by the Turkish army and submission to the allies the release of all British prisoners of war and the immediate opening of the Dardanelles. Little attention is given these possibilities of Russian aid. Secretary Lansing has not received the Russian note which press reports said asked to the time when allied forces would evacuate Russia. This note was regarded by some as bringing up to date the bolshevik threat.

RUSSIANS JOIN ALLIES

Washington, Oct. 31.—The third unit of Russian prisoners in Germany has escaped to Holland and thence made its way, via England, to Marmansk, where it joined the Russo-allied forces against the Germans and bolsheviks, a cable to the Russian embassy here from The Hague stated today. The number of Russians in the unit was not stated.

WOULD BE DEFEATED

(Polk County Post) In a time of peace, Governor Withycombe would be defeated. We can go further and say that in a time of peace, he would not have been re-nominated. War or no war, if a majority of the people of Oregon want a change in the governor's chair, they should make such a change, and not be bullied by any "war governor" stuff. It is political twaddle without merit. There are 25,000 men in the state who would make just as good a war governor as has Mr. Withycombe; in fact most of them would have done better.
