The funeral services of W. Al Jones, who died last Saturday were held this afternoon at the home of T. B. Jones on North Commercial street. The services at the house and cemetery were under the auspices of Salem Lodge No. 336, B. P. O. E., of Salem, of which Mr. Jones had been a member. The Rev. G. L. Lovell of the United Evangelical church assisted with the services. The active pall bearers were Ben F. Oloffe, Dr. H. H. Olinger, George Waters, Clifton H. Evans, Howard Ramp and Romeo Goulet. Burial was in the City View cemetery.

By the latter part of this week the local exception board hopes to have mailed to all registrants their questionnaires. In the rooms on the second floor of the court house, in Judge Bushey's court room the special legal advisory board will hold its daily session. For Tuesday those in charge will be Frank Davey, captain; D. W. Miles, M. E. Pogue, Roy F. Shields, Sam Richardson, W. M. Pilgrupton and L. P. Aldrich.

Clifford Leroy Vestal was sent Saturday to Ft. Stevens by the local exemption board on special orders from the office of the provost general at Washington. He will go into the artillery.

J. S. Marple, a representative of the British army canteen and British ministry of shipping, was a guest at the Marion hotel last evening of the pruner packers of Salem. Mr. Marple met in Portland last Saturday the packers and growers of the northwest in a general discussion of the prune situation in reference especially to shipping instructions. Those present at the dinner with Mr. Marple were W. F. Drager, H. H. Reynolds, W. T. Jenks, Robert C. Paulus, W. G. Allen, W. S. Walton and L. R. Le Pury. Mr. Le Pury is one of the inspectors for the British army canteen.

No money orders will be accepted for the present for Finland. Postmaster Huetkestein announced today. Instructions have been received from Washington that mail service with that part of Russia has been discontinued because of the German occupation. No time has also been received that money orders may be sent to civilians in that part of Palestine occupied by the allied forces.

I wish to thank my neighbors and friends for the kindness shown during the recent sickness and death of my wife, Nancy A. Wimer.—J. O. C. Wimer.

For his size, it is said that man has the largest feet of any animal in existence. This can be proved by comparing his weight and size of feet to those of a cow, horse, alligator or elephant. What we intend to say is that the shoe dealers of Salem can see no reduction in the prices of men's shoes this winter and even next spring after the order of the war industries board goes into effect, those who are willing to pay the price, may go as high as $12. The old inequality still exists wherein a man who wears a number six shoe will have to go just as deep into his pocket when buying as the man who has understandings that will fill a shoe number eleven.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. John Savage returned to their home in Portland yesterday. Mrs. Savage has been visiting her brother, Lester E. Davis.

F. L. Wilkinson of St. Paul, Minn., has located in Salem and will handle outside farm lands. Mr. Wilkinson was formerly manager of the Wilkinson Land Co. of White Bear, Minn.

Joseph H. Baker was called to Tacoma yesterday by the death of his nephew.

Capt. A. A. Hall, now stationed at Portland, was in the city over Sunday visiting friends.

Mrs. W. G. Prunk has returned from a month's vacation at Newport where she visited her daughter, Mrs. H. H. Saxton. W. G. Prunk and Mrs. W. H. Prunk also returned after a ten day visit at Newport.

Died

MEYER—At the Salem hospital Nov. 3, 1918, William Meyer at the age of 74 years.

He is survived by three daughters: Miss Margaret Meyer of Salem, Mrs. May Walker of Albany and Mrs. D. P. Wright of Portland. Also by two sons F. H. Meyer and S. H. Meyer, both of Portland.

The body was forwarded this evening by Webb & Clough to Albany where funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon. Burial will be in the Albany Riverview cemetery.

William Meyer enlisted in the Illinois 49th infantry, Co. B, in 1861 at the beginning of the Civil war. He was taken prisoner in November of 1862 at Henderson Station, Tennessee, and sent to Camp Chase, where he was paroled and later exchanged. He then enlisted in the 1st U. S. cavalry and served for three years. He was given his honorable discharge Nov. 12, 1864 at Charleston, Virginia.

George J. Watson, formerly with the Salem abstract company, writes from Y. M. C. A. headquarters in Paris that he is enjoying life. He relates that Lou Compton, who had been wounded and had spent three weeks in the hospital was out and had called at Y. M. C. A. headquarters. He says that Compton's wound, though painful, was not serious. Mr. Watson also gives the news that Russell Brooks is in Paris and in good health and that Ed Rauch had recently been a caller at the Y headquarters while passing through Paris. The letter was dated Oct. 12 which is regarded as remarkable quick time to hear from France.

T. A. Rinehart has no enemies to punish. Elect him justice of the peace. His election will insure every one a square deal. (Pd adv.)

The Salem Ministerial association, at its meeting today noon strongly urged all Christian people to get together to support the United War Fund campaign to be put on next week. The association takes the following stand: "The need of strong support was never more needed and urgent than now. While peace seems imminent, the need of relief will be greater for a long time. The weary months of waiting for opportunity to return will seriously affect our men and make the work of these organizations imperative. Let there be a prompt and generous response on the part of the people."

Mr. Voter. Are you going to voluntarily double your taxes to help Mr. Richardson pull Pierce and Stewart out of the hole he got them in on the Oaks addition? If not vote 101 X No. (Pd adv.)

The present police force, is composed of citizens and taxpayers of Salem, and have demonstrated their efficiency as peace officers; several of them have been members of the department for years and have the love and respect of everyone who knows them; under their efficient work, the city for sometime, has been absolutely free from bootlegging, gambling and immorality; life, property, the business interests and home life of the city, has been carefully guarded; the young people and children of the city, have been protected and guided with paternal care—WHY CHANGE? Experience and efficient peace officers are invaluable at this time. J. E. Wright, Night Desk Sergt., Police Dept. Candidate for city marshal. (Paid adv.)

Vote X 54, for a thoroughly qualified man for justice of the peace. T. A. Rinehart is a member of the bar, and a graduate of a law school. (Pd ad)

Lester E. Davis, P. E. Fullerton and E. A. Kartz are home from a fishing trip on the coast. They report plenty of fish in the ocean and an abundance of mud in the Grand Ronde.

Word has been received today of the death of Mrs. A. W. Dennis at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Gillett of Haneyton, Iowa. Mrs. Dennis will be remembered by a great many Salem people having lived here more than 20 years. Lee Davis, pressman foreman of the Capital Journal, is a grandson of the deceased.

The polls will be open tomorrow from 8 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock in the evening. Judging from the past, it will be along towards 9 or 9:30 o'clock before the judges of elections will have counted enough ballots to give a general drift of how things are going. Also judging from other elections, the general feeling of the public may be pretty well gauged after 25 to 35 ballots in a precinct are counted. This was tested and found to be the case at the May primaries.

John Bernovich of Centralia is under $500 bonds, on a charge of bootlegging.

Court House Notes

In the matter of the suit of Josie M. Moe against Clarence A. Porter and others, the viewers, Clarence King, E. E. Callister and B. B. Herrick set off to the plaintiff for her dower right $42.56 acres, in two large tracts of 160 each and two small tracts. There remains of the estate besides that or the dower of Mrs. Moe, four tracts with a total of 372.68 acres.

Middy Robbing has filed suit against Hubert Gillhouse and others including the Oregon State Bank. She claims she rented land to the defendants on which there was considerable personal property and that the defendants held a sale and disposed of the property when they decided to move off the land. She claims that the Oregon State Bank assisted in the sale. She asks a restraining order preventing the bank from disposing of notes received from the sale and that an accounting be made.

Austin, Noble & Co., a corporation, has entered suit against E. W. Powers & Son. They allege that the defendants in April of 1914 entered into a contract with Nathan Abramovitz for the sale and purchase of a carload of prunes and that the contract was assigned to the plaintiff. Alleging that the contract was not carried out, the complaint recites that prunes advanced two and five-eighths cents a pound and that in order to fill a contract, the plaintiff was obliged to go in the open market and buy. The damage is set at $500.

W. M. Zander has filed a suit for divorce from Nellie Zander. They were married at Missoula, Mont., in 1895 and have five children, three of whom are minors. There is no property involved. He claims in his petition that she left home in October of 1909.

Willis Brown was today committed to the Oregon state hospital. On the commitment papers, it is stated "wanders from place to place with no definite object in view. Simple and feeble-minded."

In the matter of the estate of Bernard Vincent Shadley, the appraisers Eva Wolfe, Mrs. Ernest Klingler and F. L. Newman reported the estate consisted of $978.06 cash.

Sallie Graham, executrix of the estate of John Graham, reported to the county court cash on hand amounting to $881.50.

Olive C. Porter was appointed by Judge Bushey as administratrix of the estate of Ora E. Cavitt, who died October 23. The estate consists of personal property of the value $1,500.00. In the court's decree it is stated that the heirs are Anna Porter, mother, Salem, rural route 1; Mattie E. Stout, sister, of Salem; Jessie McDowell, sister, of Salem and a brother, John C. Cavitt, who is now in the service of the United States.

In the matter of the estate of John Graham, December 9 was set as the date for the final settlement of the estate. Sallie Graham is administratrix.

In the matter of the estate of Edward Uppendahl, the appraisers, L. M. Scholl, John Stauffer and Adam Willer report property valued at $5,378.00. A farm near Hubbard containing 76 acres was appraised at $85 an acre. The estate had a one-half interest in this farm.

Congressional Result

Very Much In Doubt

Washington, Nov. 4.—A careful analysis of the political situation today, based on the latest reliable reports from various states, shows that the control of congress will be decided in the following states: The senate: Michigan, West Virginia, Nebraska, Rhode Island, Illinois, South Dakota, Idaho, Colorado, Montana, Nevada and Wyoming.

The house: New York, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri and New Jersey.

These are the states where close contests, the president's appeal, or complications due to state issues, have made the decision in doubt. The senate is composed of 52 democrats and 44 republicans. With four unexpired terms to be filled, 36 senators are to be elected. Ann Martin, suffragist, is an independent candidate in Nevada, against Senator Henderson, democrat and E. E. Roberts, republican. Senator Warren strong campaign by democrats backing John E. Osborne.

With regard to the house, the situation is not nearly so clear as it is in respect to the senate. Both republicans and democrats are claiming the house by from 29 to 60. The house is now composed of 214 democrats, 207 republicans, 7 independents, with seven vacancies.

Alabama, usually regarded as safely democratic, has one contest of importance. In the ninth district there, Representative Huddleston is seeking re-election after having won the democratic nomination in the face of the expressed opposition of President Wilson. He is opposed by James O. Thompson of Birmingham.

Eight of Ohio's 22 congressional districts have developed strong contests. The Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Twelfth, Fourteenth, Sixteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-first are doubtful according to campaign managers here.

Members of the S. A. T. C. at Oregon Agricultural college will wear olive-drab woolen uniforms this winter.

Secretary Lansing Says Armistice Not Signed

Washington, Nov. 4.—Secretary Lansing today issued a formal statement denying that the German armistice was signed three days ago, as reported by Senator Weeks.

"The statement of Senator Weeks has absolutely no foundation in fact," said Secretary Lansing. "The German armistice has not yet been signed."

Boston, Mass., Nov. 4.—The Boston Traveler, in an extra edition late today, printed with reserve a statement from United States Senator Weeks, in which Weeks was quoted as saying that he had information that an armistice had been signed with Germany.

There was no confirmation of the news and it was pointed out that the official statements from the commanders of the allied armies were issued as usual today.

Prune Situation Now Looks Much Brighter For Packers

J. S. Marple, representative of the British canteen and British ministry of shipping was in the city today looking over the prune packing plants and becoming familiar with packing conditions in the valley.

At a meeting held in Portland Saturday between Mr. Marple and the prune packing plants of the valley, the general situation was gone over, and from now on, it is hoped there will be no unnecessary delays in the shipment of orders.

The Drager Fruit company will begin shipments of part of the English allotment the latter part of this week. After a shipment is made, the bill of lading must be sent to J. P. Morgan & Company, New York city, English representatives, and it will require about eight days for the proper auditing of the bill of lading and invoice there. Then the check for each shipment will be forwarded, requiring four or five days in transit.

It has been figured that after a bill of lading is forwarded to New York, it will require at least two weeks before the money is received here. No sight drafts with bill of lading attached are permitted against the United States or English government.
