After Your Baby Is Born

Think Now About the Time to Come Afterwards.

When you hold in your arms your tiny new babe, be sure that you can feel that before its arrival you did all in your power to give it a happy prenatal influence. Scientists say that the thoughts and feelings of the expectant mother greatly affect the health and disposition of the future infant.

For over half a century thousands of women who have used the time-honored remedy, Mother's Friend, say that they entirely escaped nausea, nervousness and that peculiar distressing feeling so usual where nature is unaided. They thus preserved a wonderfully bright and happy disposition which reflects so markedly upon the unborn child.
By the regular use of Mother's Friend the muscles are made and kept soft and elastic to readily yield to nature's demand for expansion without the usual wrenching strain. The nerves are not drawn upon, and as a consequence the expectant mother is calm and serene and the nights are not disturbed with nervous twitches, and the crisis is one of joy and happiness.

Write the Bradford Regulator Company, Dept. 2, Leavenworth, Kansas, for their Mother's Friend, of value to every woman, and get a bottle of Mother's Friend that will bring real results.

One Of Polk County's Oldest Pioneers Dies

(Capital Journal Special Service)

Dallas, Ore., Nov. 2.—Thomas J. Hayter, one of the oldest surviving pioneers of this section of the state and especially Polk county passed away at his home in this city Wednesday afternoon after an illness of several months due to old age. Mr. Hayter crossed the plains to Oregon by ox team twice, first coming in he fall of 1849 and again in the early 50s. He took up a claim west of this city and lived on it for several years engaging in the stock raising business. During the outbreak of the Yakima Indian war in 1856, Mr. Hayter enlisted as a volunteer in the First Oregon Regiment which was commanded by Colonel James W. Nesmith and remained with his company until the close of the scrap with the Indians when he again returned to this county and settled on a big ranch a few miles east of where Dallas now stands. Mr. Hayter was born at Old Franklin, Howard county, Missouri, on February 8th, 1830 and had always been a loyal democrat. He never sought office but was honored by the people of this county with being elected representative in the early city affairs of Dallas and took an active interest in educational matters. In 1856 the deceased was united in marriage to Miss Mary I. Embree, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carrie Embree, who were among the first pioneers to settle in this county and to this union five sons and one daughter were born, two of the children, Ellen the daughter, and a son Frank having died in infancy. He is survived besides the widow by four sons: Eugene Hayter, Dr. Mark Hayter, J. C. Hayter, and Oscar Hayter, all residents of this city. The funeral services over the remains of the late Mr. Hayter will be held this afternoon at the family cemetery near Rickreall. On account of the epidemic of Spanish influenza the funeral will be private.

A Law To Financially Ruin The Sheriffs

The Jackson tax notice measure might well be entitled "A Law to Ruin Financially Every Sheriff in Oregon," says The Oregonian.

In section 5 it makes the tax collector (sheriff) personally liable for any damages that may be sustained by a property owner through failure, neglect or refusal of the tax collector to keep the property owner's true address or to give him mail notice.

Infidelity in the office of tax collector is impossible. If this bill passes and any clerk puts on the work of getting out the notices overlook—as he undoubtedly will at times—a name, the sheriff will be liable for the interest penalty and possibly total loss sustained by the property owner.

We had not heard that any sheriff ever injured or insulted the author of this bill. So why the ferocity?
