for county judge, may feel that with republicans are sometimes ungrateful. It was Judge Kirkpatrick, who through his juggling and delays, prevented the building of the bridge across the Willamette until this year. When the proposition came up to build the bridge, Polk county was to pay one third. Two years ago, the contract could have been let for $100,000 and Polk county would have paid as its share about $33,000.

National Director Mott Asks Increased Subscriptions

Local campaign leaders for the United War Work Drive have just received the following telegram from State Headquarters:

"John R. Mott, national director United War Work Campaign has just telegraphed insisting that the subscriptions of all states and communities be increased not less than fifty per cent above quotas to enable the several war agencies to carry on their necessary work. Mr. Mott states that this action has the unanimous endorsement of the thirty five members of the executive committee composed of five from each participating organization and has unqualified endorsement of the President of the United States and the secretary of war."

"ORLANDO W. DAVIDSON, Director. The former quota for the county was $40,000 and the city of Salem $25,000 will therefore have to be raised as follows: Marion county, $63,000; City of Salem, $37,500."

TERMS OF ARMISTICE NOT MADE PUBLIC KNOWN IN CAPITAL

All Cities Celebrate And Work Is Suspended Everywhere Today.

R. D. Great. (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Nov. 7.—The armistice terms, not yet made public here, require evacuation of occupied territories. Probably they also demand surrender of part of the German fleet and allied occupation of the rest of it; investment of border strongholds; surrender of a portion of the German artillery and equipment; return of allied-American prisoners at once.

The surrender was an admission of defeat. Staged in the field, it put a touch of added humiliation to the bitter dose the Germans swallowed. The scene of signing was behind the French lines where the German retreat was the most pronounced, according to press dispatches this forenoon. The government is without official confirmation of the signing. For some days cabinet members have been confident that the Germans would quit.

They knew better than the general public how desperate was Germany's internal situation. The Germans were protesting here as hurrying to accept before some field disaster, or some destructive revolution overtook the nation.

The armistice terms are known here but were withheld pending official word of the surrender. Chairman Hurley of the shipping board, turned all the girl clerks in his department loose for the afternoon, telling them to "go out and make it good."

Treasury employees poured into the street, work there being suspended. All other departments were completely demoralized. Great army trucks, filled with singing girls and cheering soldiers swept down the center of the city, dropping the United Press news in the form of bulletins. Then a crowd marched in their wake shouting and cheering. At 3:30 the crowd had increased to tremendous volume.

Spokane Enthusias. Spokane, Wash., Nov. 7.—Spokane went wild today over the news announced by the United Press that the armistice had been signed.

Chicago's Greatest Day. Chicago, Nov. 7.—Chicago celebrated the cessation of hostilities today with the wildest demonstration in her history.

The United Press telephoned the great news to the city hall and federal building, the stock yards and telephone offices. Almost immediately whistles in every corner of the city were shrieking the tidings. Bells were rung and guns were fired and at the end of two hours the din had increased rather than diminished.

In spite of a drizzling rain the streets filled magically with people. At State and Madison streets, Chicago's busiest corner, traffic was halted while thousands of laughing excited people vent from curb to curb.

A bluejean band that appeared as at most overwhelmed by shouting citizens. Thousands fell in behind bands that paraded down town streets blaring "A Hot Time in the Old Town" and "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here."

Man, business houses dismissed their employees at noon to permit them to join in the celebration. Tops of office buildings and windows were jammed with cheering, flag-waving multitudes.

From every window in the Loop drifted floods of torn paper and ticker tape descended. The air was so filled that it was almost impossible to see the streets from an elevation. The paper storm continued unabating for hours.

Police joined the joyous crowds, many emptying their revolvers into the air. News stands were overturned by crowds trying to purchase extra editions carrying the United Press dispatches.

Men in army and navy uniforms were hugged and pounded on the back whenever they appeared in the streets. Mayor Thompson this afternoon officially declared a holiday.

Pandemonium Beliegs. New York, Nov. 7.—On account of the pandemonium that followed the announcement of the signing of the armistice, governors of the New York Stock Exchange announced that the exchange would close at 2:30 o'clock. The jubilation was so great that trading

General March Says We Had Them Licked. San Francisco, Nov. 7.—"Gee, that's great!" "That's what the dignified Colonel Frederick Marsh, commander of the coast artillery said when the United Press told him that an armistice had been signed on the west front."

"We have been going on with our preparations, as though we were to fight indefinitely, but of course this will have an immediate effect on all camps and contentments."

GERMANY'S LAST WAR COMMUNIQUE

Berlin, via London, Nov. 7.—"Between the Oise and the Scheldt, the enemy by heavy attacks endeavored to hinder the methodical continuation of our movements which were commenced Monday," the German war office announced today.

Note—The above is probably the last official statement from the German war office on military operations as the next communique undoubtedly will contain announcement of the signing of an armistice.

was impossible. The market was very strong at 2 p. m. Some peace stocks reached their highest records. The market stood still for ten minutes, then bedlam broke loose in the financial district. Wall Street looked like the scene of madrigals carnival.

Many dumped their shares. Bethlehem B sagged nearly four points to a new low of 60 1/2; steel common yielded to 100% from a height of 104 1/2. Alcohol and whiskey shares were thrown overboard.

At the close Northern Pacific gained seven points; Great Northern preferred gained 3, Union and Southern Pacific gained about three each. All these stocks made new highs for the year. Erie gained 3 points in a few hours of trading, selling up to 2 1/4.

Motor stocks boomed. Willam Overland gained three points and Studebaker five points. General Motors gained seven points. New highs were hung up in United States rubber, tobacco products and American smelter. Mexican petroleum gained about thirteen points. Steels rallied but met pressure.

Holiday In San Francisco. San Francisco, Nov. 7.—A holiday was immediately declared in San Francisco this morning when the United Press informed Mayor Rolph that Germany had signed the armistice.

"Let us set this city afire with rejoicing and proclaim the news far and wide," he said. "This is a great holiday."

Pandemonium broke loose as soon as the news reached the city over the United Press wires. Newspapers carrying the story were unable to get enough papers on the street. Business halted. Stores were emptied. Business houses may close this afternoon.

Half-Holiday Declared. Oakland, Cal., Nov. 7.—A half holiday was declared in Oakland this morning when Mayor Davis learned from the United Press that an armistice had been signed.

Los Angeles Wild. Los Angeles, Nov. 7.—The United Press announcement of the end of the war set Los Angeles wild with joy today.

Fifteen minutes after the first carrying the United Press story reached the street the crowds were cheering while fighting for a chance to buy a paper. Papers are known to have sold for as high as $10 for a single copy.

At 11 o'clock newspaper men on the street were still unable to meet the demands for papers.

Died. SEAMSTER—In Portland Nov. 4, 1918. Ruth Seamster, at the age of 15 months.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Seamster former residents of Salem.

HOFFMAN—At the Willamette sanitarium, Wednesday evening, Nov. 6, 1918, Harlan Hoffman, at the age of 10 years.

He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hoffman living a few miles east of the city. He was a graduate of the Salem high school. This year he entered Willamette university and had been inducted into the army as a member of the students army training corps.

About two weeks ago he contracted a slight cold which developed into influenza and pneumonia. The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Higdon chapel and will be conducted by the Rev. Edmond Porter of the First Christian church. Burial will be in the Lee Mission cemetery.

WRIGHT—In the city, Nov. 6, 1918, Reece Wright, at the age of 34 years. The body will be forwarded to Roseburg for burial.

Cerpin Cure for Croup. Mrs. Rose Middleton, of Greenville, Ill., has had experience in the treatment of this disease. She says, "When my children were small my son had croup frequently.
