Letter Received From Leonard Hamilton

The following is part of a letter received by J. M. Hamilton, from his son Pte. Leonard Hamilton, of the C. M. G. C., some where in France: September 25, 1918.

Dear Father and Nellie: I received your letter of August 10 last night and will try and answer now. I'm still on top and feeling fine, though Fritz sends over quite a bunch of scrap iron. Makes a fellow duck when he hears them coming, all the way from 4 inches up to 16 inches. Some of those big ones make a hole in the ground large enough for the basement of a house. There has been several of our lads in this battery wounded with shrapnel the last few days, but not bad. I was hit on the shoulder with a piece, but only stung a little, as it was a glancing hit. I don't think he's got my number. Right now I am sitting in a hole in the ground behind my machine gun not far from the front line. Yes, I received the tin box of things before I left England. Every thing was O K and many thanks.

The poem you sent in this letter was good; send some more. Well, Dad, I guess I'll have to close for now. Hope this finds you all well and enjoying life. PTE LEONARD HAMILTON.

Election to Approve of School Budget Nov. 30

On account of the increase of teachers' salaries, the purchase of the Holman property adjoining the high school, a loss of 666 names in the school census it has been found necessary to increase the school budget for the coming year more than six per cent.

As is customary in such cases, there will be a special election to pass on the matter. It will be held November 30 at 379 State street.

To keep up the efficiency of the teaching force, it was found necessary to increase the salaries of teachers as has been done in every high school in the state. The Holman property adjoining the high school is considered a good buy for the district at $3250.

In the loss of 666 in the school census by many with large families moving to the shippard district, the district lost $5,300. It is estimated that the levy will be raised from 6.4 mills to that of 7.6 mills. Last year the total amount raised was $80,000. This year it will require $95,818.54.

Through the closing of the McKinley schools $1,736.00 was saved the district. In addition to the general up-keep of the building. The election to be held November 30 is in the way of a general election to which all voters in school district No. 24 are entitled to cast a vote.

BULLETINS POSTED IN CAFES TELLS PARIS THAT PEACE IS NEAR

London's Darkening Regulations Rescinded and Bonfires Allowed.

By William Philip Simms (United Press Staff Correspondent). Paris, Nov. 11.—Paris is smothered with allied flags.

News of the signing of the armistice became generally known at 8 o'clock this morning through bulletins posted in cafes, shops and other places.

The first announcement was made in a bulletin in the cafe Anglaise, formerly the Cafe Viennois, whose manager was famous as the double of Franz Josef, the late Austrian emperor. It read: "The armistice is signed. Vive les allies."

American doughboys, awaiting the report in an apartment broke into cheers. The streets became more lively every hour. Throngs of women and girls carrying flags and flowers, were everywhere. People laughed, cheered and shook hands.

A handful of Georgia colored doughboys were a big success in an unofficial parade up and down the boulevards carrying a huge American flag.

A truckload of Yankee beef hash nosed its way through the crowds and was laughingly cheered.

London Celebrates. London, Nov. 11.—"The cruellest war in history ceased at 11 a. m. today," Premier Lloyd-George declared in the house of commons this afternoon after having read the terms of armistice accepted by Germany.

"This is no time for words. Our hearts are too full of gratitude. I move that the house of commons immediately adjourn to St. Margerets to give homage and reverent thanks for our great deliverance."

This was done, the house of lords doing likewise. The people celebrated joyously. Anti-aircraft guns and bombs previously used as air raid warnings, were fired, adding to the din.

The celebration became general at 11 o'clock. The work of cleaning up the street lights, which had been dimmed because of the danger of raids, was begun immediately.

All recruiting has been ordered suspended and all notices calling men to the colors have been cancelled. The king and queen appeared on the balcony at Buckingham palace attended by Princess Mary and the Duke of Connaught. Thousands gave them an ovation and sang "God Save the King."

Darkening regulations were officially rescinded and fireworks and bonfires permitted.

ON THE BATTLE FRONT. (United Press Staff Correspondent) With the American Armies in France Nov. 11.—At 11 a. m. hostilities ceased on the American front.

What was probably the most wonderful collective demonstration of joy the world has ever seen began immediately. The momentous news flashed along the line like a roller coaster.

The Americans continued their advance until the last minute. Our gun roared all morning. At the stroke of eleven, thousands of guns in the Verdun sector blazed in a last salvo.

Then a hush settled over the battlefield, broken only by the cheers of the victorious armies.

CITIZENS MUST GIVE MORE THAN DAY'S PAY

All Should Subscribe Not Less Than Ten Per Cent Of Month's Salary. Many reports have already been received from captains and solicitors for the United War Work campaign at headquarters. There seems to be a general impression that one day's pay will not do.

The morning when it was announced that by proclamation of the government, the day was to be observed as a holiday, hence court was adjourned and the case will be taken up again tomorrow.

A cablegram was received this evening giving the news that Lieutenant Claud D. Rauch had been given a commission as captain. The news came from his brother, Sergeant Ed Rauch, who is in the supply service at Contres France. Captain Rauch went over the top September 26. In the serious work of the succeeding nine days, three of his officers were gassed and two missing. Captain Rauch came through the ordeal uninjured.

Posters of an entirely different kind from those issued in this country may be seen in the lobby of the U. S. National bank. These are the French national defense loan posters and are works of art. They are suggestive of the heroic nation that has withstood the attacks of the Huns for the past four years or more.

It is announced that Mrs. Carrie Day is able to be out again and has about recovered from an attack of influenza that kept her in doors for the past two weeks.

Come on with your champion potato. George F. Benson of 531 North High street announces that he dug up the other day an Early Rose potato 12 inches long and four inches in diameter and that it weighed three pounds. There were six potatoes in the hill but the three pound one was the champion.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Standifer have just received a letter from Carson Standifer in which he tells of his experiences when lost at sea for 19 days. He left for France from Norfolk, Va., on the boat West Apsum on October 15. After a few days out in a big storm the boat was separated from its convoy and after floundering around for 19 days finally managed to make port at Halifax. He left Salem May 23, 1918, going first to Bremerton and after three weeks training, assigned to duty ship board. When he wrote his letter telling of his experiences, he thought he would soon be sent to France.

Now that the ban against public meetings has been lifted, the W. C. T. U. will again hold its regular sessions. The first one will be Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the W. C. T. U. hall, South Commercial and Ferry streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Nist have received a wire from their son stating that he had arrived safely at West Point.

Movie fans may now have a sigh of content as the ban is off and all morning picture shows opened this afternoon. At the Liberty for this evening, beginning at 7 o'clock, Ethel Barrymore is the attraction. At the Bligh there is a comedy showing Alice Howell and a strong film featuring Priscilla Dean.

Two deaths yesterday and one today is the toll of the Spanish influenza at the state penitentiary. The victims yesterday were Timoteo Cavena, committed from Marion county in 1914, and Sam Yarbrough, committed from Malheur county in 1914, while Rex Sheldon, committed from Crook county in 1914, died today. It is reported that all three were in poor physical condition when they were stricken with the influenza.

Bud Stubler and Earl Riley, two convicts employed with digging potatoes at Lake Labish, escaped Saturday night. Stubler was serving time for forgery and Riley for larceny. Stubler is the convict who wrote a letter to Joe Keller, parole officer, offering to pay for parole.

Acting under the authority of the city health officer, the Salem public schools opened today with the usual attendance. Late Saturday evening it was decided to remove the ban from the schools and all public gatherings, schools were closed four weeks.
