Constables Called Out

London, Nov. 11.—(12:40 p. m.)—Special constables were called out today to assist the police in handling the crowds celebrating the signing of the armistice.

GERMAN NAVY LOSSES HEAVY DURING WAR

Twenty-Seven Thousand Of Navy's Personnel Has Been Killed.

London, Nov. 11.—The United Press was authoritatively informed today that since the beginning of the war British warships operating off Heligoland in the Baltic sea and in the sea of marmora have destroyed two battleships, two armored cruisers, two light cruisers, seven destroyers, five gunboats, twenty submarines, one Zeppelin and five armed auxiliaries.

Vessels which reached port damaged, included three battleships and one light cruiser.

The British navy from the beginning of the war has lost from all causes the following ships:

Eleven battleships, three battle cruisers, ten armored cruisers, seven light cruisers, 54 destroyers, six torpedo boats, four submarines, 15 mine sweepers, four monitors, four gunboats, 33 trawlers and 33 auxiliary cruisers, and ten motor boats. Not less than 27,000 of the navy's personnel have been killed.

NAVY TO GROW.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Extension of the American navy will go ahead despite the armistice, Secretary of the Navy Daniels stated today.

The United States fleet will bear a heavy share in policing of the world in the future and must be extended accordingly, the secretary stated.

Enlisted men, however, will be permitted to leave the service, it is explained although they will have enlisted for definite terms. Secretary Daniels stated college men and young business men who entered the navy for patriotic reasons and who desire to get back into their peace time work, will be given every opportunity to do so as soon as arrangements can be made. He made it clear, however, that the personnel of the navy will have to be kept close to the present mark and that recruiting for the merchant marine must go on at least until further arrangements are made.

The navy has 70,000 men aboard, including marines, Daniels said.

Work on battleships and larger vessels which has been slackened because of the urgent necessity for patrol and destroyer craft will be resumed as part of the permanent expansion policy of the navy.

The coastwise patrol will not be demobilized at once, the secretary said. Plans will not be changed except after careful deliberation in the next few days. Contracts for eagle boats may not be carried through. Delivery of one hundred was expected by next summer.

Return of marines in France will be entirely under the direction of General Pershing, Secretary Daniels said. It was observed, however, that in the past marines have usually been the last to leave, being used as guards.

The war is not over, it is only halted, Secretary of the Navy Daniels said today. It is the job of the navy to carry it on for the present.

GOODING AND RYAN INJURED

Geo. X. Gooding was quite seriously injured Tuesday while sawing wood with a power saw. While bearing off the cut wood, the saw struck a piece he was holding. The stick struck him in the face, breaking his nose, and knocking him down. When he fell he struck the back of his head on a limb or log on the ground. He is now resting quite easy, though at first it was feared that his injury was much more serious.

The same day Jas. Ryan was injured when his team ran away at his farm near Champoug. One leg was broken when he was thrown from his wagon, and the other sprained. He also, is getting along as well as can be expected.—Aurora Observer.

FRED EHLEN REPORTED WOUNDED

To casualty lists this week carried the name of Fred Ehlen of this city, among those slightly wounded in France. It is not positively known, however, whether this refers to a wound received in July (but not reported until now) or whether it is a second wound that he has received. It is known here that after several weeks in the hospital due to shrapnel wounds, that young Ehlen returned to his company. But as all the wounded are not reported by cable, many being reported by slow letters through government "channels," it is possible this report may be of the wound Ehlen received in July.—Aurora Observer.

SECOND CELEBRATION OUTRIVALS FIRST ONE IN ITS ENTHUSIASM

Kaiser Is Given "Last Long Ride" In Portland Followed By Mourners.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Fuel Administrator Garfield today lifted the order for lightless nights so that the country could have illumination for its victory celebration.

Work Non-essential Today.

Portland, Nov. 11.—All work became non-essential in Portland today.

Parades starting from all points of the compass met in a turning twisting mass in the center of the city, all celebrating the end of the war. Mourners passed through the streets following a casket covered with flowers. On it was the inscription: "The Kaiser's last ride."

Mayor Baker proclaimed a general holiday.

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—Wild is a mill ward for describing the monster celebration held early today by San Francisco in sounding "taps" for Germany and the great war.

The sounding of six brass bands of whistles brought several thousand joyfully clad citizens to the civic center within half an hour after the news was announced. Blazing bonfires lit up the Peaks, Telegraph Hill and Scotch Hill. Red flares illuminated the city hall where several thousand cheering, singing, excited people gathered. A parade was formed and led by an impromptu band they marched down Market street.

San Francisco has not seen so much fire and works since 1906.

Sing "Star Spangled Banner."

"Over There" seemed to complete the repertoire of the band which might just as well have not been playing in the locality as the shouting, joy-stricken marchers easily drowned out all its attempts at music. The only time the parade quieted down was when the "Star Spangled Banner" was played and then all joined in singing the national anthem.

At Third and Market streets at four o'clock this morning the march paused to listen to a French sailor sing one of his country's favorites. He was wildly cheered at the conclusion and forced to sing again.

There were several parades during the morning, all winding up in the rotunda of the city hall, where they were addressed by Mayor Rolph.

The mayor proclaimed the day a holiday.

At five o'clock this morning the noisy celebrants were still parading the downtown districts. Street car schedules were somewhat off this morning owing to the halting of cars by the crowds.

The only hitch was when some one asked "who won?"

Hospital attendants promise to tell him when he wakes up.

located at Hubbard.

Tuesday G. W. Fry of Aurora received 68 votes for the position. L. S. Calvert at Hubbard received 18. As neither were candidates for the place there was no competition for the job.

Class Kinzer was re-elected constable. He received 89 votes here and probably a larger number at Hubbard.—Aurora Observer.

His Mother Needed Money —and She Got It!

AN American soldier hurries along the street of a shell-torn village, keeping close to the shelter of the crumbling walls, and runs up the steps of a battered chateau.

He climbs to a room where sandbags are piled high to the ceiling. Behind a rough counter stands a man of middle age—a man with an emblem on his arm and a smile on his face.

"In a hurry this morning, buddie?" he asks.

"You bet I am," pants the soldier. "We're going into the trenches at noon."

"Can I help you?"

The boy thrusts one hand into his pocket and with the other points to a sign on the wall. It reads:—"SEND YOUR MONEY HOME—ASK THE SECRETARY HOW."

"Can I send this to my mother?" he asks, and draws out a roll of French bills. "She needs it."

"Of course you can," says the secretary. He counts the money carefully—twice—and then does a little figuring.

"That makes $84.60 in American money."

"And will you see that my mother gets it?"

"We will," is the answer. "I'll give you this receipt and I'll send your money to the nearest headquarters. They will forward it to Paris, and Paris will tell New York to mail your mother a check for your $84.60."

"How much will it cost me to have you do that?"

The answer is it won't cost him one cent. His mother will get the whole $84.60. Every week the War Work organizations are transmitting more than half a million dollars from the boys over there to the home folks over here.

Why you should give twice as much as you ever gave before!

The need is for a sum 70% greater than any gift ever asked for since the world began. The Government has fixed this sum at $170,500,000.

By giving to these seven organizations all at once, the cost and effort of six additional campaigns is saved.

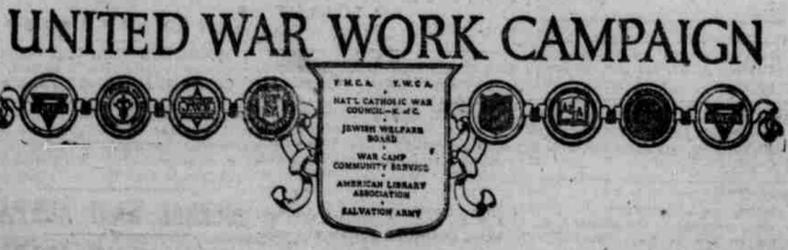

Unless Americans do give twice as much as ever before, our soldiers and sailors may not enjoy during 1919 their:

3,600 Recreation Buildings	2,500 Libraries supplying 5,000,000 books
1,000 Miles of Movie Film	85 Hostess Houses
100 Leading Stage Stars	15,000 Big-brother "secretaries"
2,000 Athletic Directors	Millions of dollars of home comforts

When you give double, you make sure that every fighter has the cheer and comforts of these seven organizations every step of the way from home to the front and back again. You provide him with a church, a theatre, a cheerful home, a store, a school, a club, and an athletic field—and a knowledge that the folks back home are with him, heart and soul!

You have loaned your money to supply their physical needs. Now give to maintain the Morale that is winning the war!

From the time your fighter starts for a cantonment until he reaches a front-line dug-out the seven organizations are ministering to him in big ways and little ways, to take the worries off his shoulders and to carry cheer and comfort to him. One aim —one need—now, altogether!
