Court House News

A transcript was filed from Justice of the Peace Daniel Webster to the circuit court of Marion county in the case of C. Wolford against Arthur Beard, in a civil action. In the court of Justice Webster $40 was awarded to the plaintiff and costs of $15.45. It seems that Mr. Beard's is not satisfied and is willing to take his chances with a jury trial before the circuit court. The plaintiff claimed that he worked 17 1/2

GOVERNMENT WILL ERECT BUILDING

This State Probably Selected As Site For Addition To Industrial School.

If the government will erect the building for taking care of 25 or more girls at the state industrial school for girls, the state board of control will ask the legislature for the maintenance of the girls.

This was the conclusion reached at a meeting of the state board today, when James B. Williams of San Francisco, district director of the war department commission on training camp activities, and Mrs. Aristene Felts of Portland, secretary of the advisory board of the state industrial school for girls, suggested that the government might erect such a building if the state will maintain it.

The purpose of the government is to provide treatment for women and girls having venereal diseases, and as Oregon is in advance of other states in its social hygiene work Mr. Williams pointed out that it is probable the government will select this state as the site for a model institution along this line.

The commission represented by Mr. Williams will make a recommendation to the government as to the best location for a building for this purpose. If a building is erected it will have a capacity for not less than 25 girls.

Convict Has Appealed To Attorney General Brown

C. D. Smith, who is serving a term in the penitentiary for forgery committed in Lane county, has appealed to Attorney General Brown and the other members of the committee investigating the penitentiary parole-selling scandal to investigate the legality of his commitment to prison.

He raises the point that his commitment is illegal because it was made by T. J. Cleeton of Portland during the time that Cleeton was serving as circuit judge under an act which was later declared unconstitutional. He was convicted in March, 1914, when Judge Cleeton was substituting for the circuit court for Lane county.

"If you had questioned the authority of the circuit court judge at the trial," says the attorney general in his reply to the convict, "preserved the record and taken an appeal to the supreme court of this state in due and lawful form, then in such case the point you raise could have been heard and possibly might have availed you something."

In state vs. Holman, the supreme court held that Cleeton was de facto judge at that time and his acts as such were legal unless they were challenged before the final determination of the question at issue.

STATE HOUSE NEWS

A trust company which does not receive deposits, has a paid up capital of $500,000 and has $100,000 in cash or interest bearing securities on deposit with the state banking department in its liberty to buy "Bankers' Acceptances" without limitation as to amount, according to an opinion given by Attorney General Brown today to Superintendent of Banks W. H. Bennett.

The question arose in connection with the Lumbermen's Trust Company of Portland, which desires to purchase a block of United States grain corporation drafts, secured by warehouse receipts. Under a ruling of the comptroller of the currency banks are limited to 50 per cent of their capital and surplus in the amount of such drafts which they may purchase.

The state highway department is advertising for bids, to be received November 22, for grading and graveling 2.3 miles of the John Day highway, near Prairie City. It is estimated the work will cost approximately $145,000. The road, which is used for hauling chrome ore from the mines to the railroad, is being improved by the state and government.

days at the rate of $2.50 a day and was only paid $3.90.

The question as to whether an insane man can make a business deal is soon to be tried out in the circuit court. Yesterday a suit was filed by Mary Ellen Hager against C. H. Allison and O. C. Burt in which she alleges that she had $2,300 on deposit in the bank and that she had given W. N. Hager a power of attorney to check on the amount equally with herself.

That October 20, 1918, he developed signs of insanity and that he was insane November 1.

That Allison and Burt, knowing that Hager was insane, defrauded and induced him to pay $1,950 as a pretended consideration for a bill of sale or contract for territory to manufacture a contrivance known as "hydrocarbon burner."

She alleges that the contract is void for the reason that Hager at the time was insane. She asks for the recovery of her money.

Hager is now in the insane asylum.

The final account of W. I. Staley, administrator of the estate of John W. Meredith was filed with the county court. He was discharged and exonerated from further liability and trust.

LOSSES OF AMERICAN NAVAL FORCES IN WAR

Have Sunk At Least Four Submarines And Damaged Eight.

London, Nov. 13.—Since the beginning of the war American naval forces in European waters have lost one destroyer, one coast guard cutter, one armed yacht and two transports, the United Press was informed by American naval officials today.

In the period since January 1, 1918, the Americans are known to have sunk four submarines and probably two more and have damaged eight. The majority of American warships were engaged in convoy work on the Atlantic, where the chances of making big bags of submarines was small.

During July and August 1918, the total losses of all shipping conveyed by American vessels was one per cent. During the same months, American forces with their base at Queenstown escorted 2,752,908 tons without any loss. They steamed 260,000 miles. The individual record for consecutive days at sea was established by the U. S. S. Allen, 52 days.

American forces quartered in French waters during the summer of 1918, escorted 2,402,412 tons, steaming a total of 567,261 miles.

Since the beginning of the war the total steamed by United States destroyers was 4,500,000 miles. The individual record of the whole war is held by the U. S. S. Ericsson, which up to September 1, steamed 84,931.

The total fighting strength of the American navy in European waters is 364 vessels, of which 204 are warships. The personnel on these warships is 72,000 men. There are nine naval bases and 27 naval aviation bases. These are scattered along the coast of France and Ireland and there are some in the Mediterranean and the Adriatic.

American craft constituted 27 per cent of the grand fleet.

The naval aviation personnel totals 19,300.

The heirs are declared to be Mrs. Jessie Creighton Jones, and the two children, May Rosalie Jones, age nine and Creighton Denton Jones, age seven.

In the will the two children are given share and share alike all of the interest of W. Al Jones in the farm home, a part of the Silas Jones don't, eight miles north of Salem. They are also given share and share alike all his war savings stamps.

To Jessie Creighton Jones is given the residue of the estate, both real and personal and in the will she is appointed executrix, to serve without bond.

Log Owners To Furnish Equipment For Rafting

Rates and rules being established by the Chas. K. Spaulding Logging company for handling logs on the Luckiamute river under the terms of its log boom franchise have been presented for approval before the company formally files them.

The rules provide that owners of logs or other timber products to be floated must furnish the equipment and lines for rafting. All sorting and rafting is to be done at the boom near the mouth of the Luckiamute river.

With 1000 board feet in saw logs as the basis, the charges will be as follows:

Driving in quantities of 1,000,000 feet or more, $1.
 Driving in quantities less than 1,000,000 (accepted only with other deliveries making total drive of 1,000,000 feet or more), $1.25.
 Gathering up logs that hang along banks after a drive, including rolling in logs within the banks of the stream, but not logs thrown outside of the banks by freshets, $1.50.
 Booming and rafting, .50.
 Sorting (as to species only), .20.
 Storing per month or fraction thereof, .25.

No State-Wide Action To Lift Influenza Ban

Portland, Nov. 13.—State Health Officer Seely said today that no state-wide action opening all the schools of the state is contemplated at this time.

"I will act in regard to the individual counties after receiving recommendations from the county health boards," he said. Dr. Seely said in many counties the influenza situation is still very bad.

"ECONOMY" WILL BE NEW WATCHWORD OF CONGRESSMEN NOW

Important War Legislation Ceases With Signing Of Peace Treaties.

Washington, Nov. 13.—"With the signing of the armistice the nation is already preparing to place itself on a peace basis in anticipation of the time when war legislation will automatically cease.

Economy will be the congressional watchword from now on. This sentiment originally voiced by Senator Martin, democratic leader, was echoed by Senator Borah, Idaho, and Senator Smoot, Utah, republicans.

Important war legislation that ceases with the signing of the peace treaties or a few months later, includes:

The food conservation act which ceases when the state of war shall have terminated.

Aircraft board to continue not longer than six months after the war; trading with the enemy act, nearly all activities of which cease upon the termination of the war, except certain duties of the alien property custodian.

War finance corporation, to cease six months after the termination of the war.

Housing act to cease with the termination of the war.

Overman bill, authorizing the president to consolidate coordinate executive bureaus, to cease six months after the termination of the war, or at such earlier time as the president may designate.

Government control of wire systems to cease at the end of the war.

Emergency Fleet Corporation to cease six months after peace.

Government control of railroads to cease twenty one months after the end of the war.

Food and fuel administrations to cease at the end of the war.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDY HOURS LENGTHENED

High school pupils will have their daily study extended twenty minutes each day. This will dismise the high school daily at 4 o'clock instead of 3:40 o'clock. The junior high schools will remain in session as usual until 4 o'clock each day. The primary grades will dismise at the usual hour.

At the meeting of the board of education last evening, to help in making up the four weeks' lost time, this change in the schedule was made, affecting only the high school. However, to make up part of the lost time, there will be but one Thanksgiving day vacation and only one week will be given for the holidays. By adding a little time to each day at the high school, the board hopes to make up for the greater part of the lost time.

B. S. Wakefield and Louis J. Murdock of the high school will be commissioned as officers, according to the offer made the board by Governor Withycombe, permitting the board to name commissioned officers who are in charge of military instruction for the high school.

Miss Frederica Kopf elected school nurse and transient officer for the school year at a salary of $85 a month. She is recently here from New York where she received her training in a New York hospital and in social service work. Miss Ethel Brinkerhoff was elected teacher of the economic department of the junior high schools at a salary of $90 a month. She received her training at the O. A. C. and from two years' experience in the Lux Normal School of Industrial Training at San Francisco.

Spruce Production Stopped By Order

Portland, Nov. 13.—The prohibition of spruce and fir for airplane production in the Pacific camps and mills of the Pacific Northwest has been practically stopped in accordance with orders which were received today. Soldiers who have been engaged in the work will be held, it is reported, until the ratification of peace terms.

Railroad Securities Decline In Wall Street

New York, Nov. 13.—The New York Evening Sun says:

Outside of the declines in railroad shares, ranging from fractions to three points in the case of Canadian Pacific, a rise of about two points in Baldwin Locomotive and about three points in Mexican petroleum, and a general weakness in the copper, the range of the active list was narrow. Motors were helped by the orders of the war industries board lifting a partial extent restrictions on the output of industries in the non-war class.

It was a tedious market throughout the session. There was a brief period of renewed settlement, with a new low for steel common at 98 with a special weakness in coppers and a general reactionary movement.
