

When the Skin Seems Ablaze With Itching and Burning

There's just one thing to do. If your skin seems ablaze with the fiery burning and itching of Eczema, real and lasting relief can only come from treatment that goes below the surface—that reaches down to the very source of the trouble. So-called skin-diseases come from a disordered condition of the blood, and search far and near, and you cannot find a blood remedy that approaches S. S. S. for real efficiency.

The proper treatment is through the blood. S. S. S. has been on the market for fifty years, during which time it has been giving uniform satisfaction for all manner of blood disorders. If you want prompt and lasting relief, you can rely upon S. S. S. For expert advice as to the treatment of your own individual case, write today to Chief Medical Adviser, Swift Specific Co., Dept. C. Atlanta, Ga.

Civilian employees of the United States, whose number has been greatly increased by the war activities come under the scope of the federal compensation act.

The soldier vote has changed the result of the election in the Eleventh congressional district of Pennsylvania, electing John J. Casey, democrat, by 61 majority.

BLOOD POISONING

How often lockjaw and blood poisoning result from the neglect of a slight scratch or little cut! Hamlin's Wizard Oil is a safe and effective first aid treatment. It is soothing and healing and quickly drives out pain and inflammation in cases of sprains, bruises, cuts, burns, bites and stings. Just as reliable, too, for stiff neck, sore feet, cold sores, canker sores, earache and toothache.

Get it from druggists for 30 cents. If not satisfied return the bottle and get your money back. Ever constipated or have sick headache? Just try Wizard Liver Whips, pleasant little pink pills, 30 cents. Guaranteed.

Taken Pola Harbor. Rome, Nov. 18.—(Delayed.)—In conformity with the armistice, Admirals Cagni and Koek have taken over Pola harbor. The Austrian dreadnaughts Togetherth and Prinz Eugen are now flying the Italian flag. The American naval mission under Admiral Mayor just completed an inspection of the recent Italian war boats.

The dreadnaughts Togetherth and Prinz Eugen are units of a class of four of which the Viribus Unitis was one. The latter ship was frequently destroyed as were the others. When the Viribus Unitis was torpedoed just before the armistice was signed, it was announced that its destruction wiped-out the last of this class. The ships are of 20,000 tons, carry twelve inch guns and were built in 1911-12.

momentous question out of the way first. There was lively discussion here today of the possibility that President Wilson, in deciding to attend the peace conference, might cause the heads of other belligerent nations to attend also—at least for one or more of the sessions. It will be pointed out that in the greatest world adjustment it was more than likely there would be at least "kingly concave" at which King George, King Victor Emanuel, President Poincare and President Wilson would assemble together. Who will represent Russia at the peace conference is a moot question, the answer to which is not in sight.

A pretty college event of yesterday was that held at the residence of Mrs. William E. Kirk on State street, when the junior girls of Willamette university entertained their university sisters of the freshmen class at a lovely tea. In accordance with the "big sister" idea being successfully worked out in many of the eastern colleges, the Willamette junior girls have each one or more of the incoming class girls, thus ideally offering the new comers the advantages of friendly interest and freely given assistance at the start of their college careers.

The guests were received yesterday by Miss Mary Findley and further greeted by Miss Genevieve Yanke. HOWARD OFFERS

(Continued from page one) by the local French newspaper and the civilians, soldiers and sailors had their celebration under full headway before I was able to get from Admiral Wilson personally a copy of his written announcement and his personal assurance that the bulletin was official. "The admiral then sent his personal aide with me to assist me in filing the dispatch, as I do not speak French fluently.

It was the fact that all Brest, including operators and censors, accepted the news as official and was celebrating at the time, that caused my wife to pass the French censorship at Brest unchallenged. "Upon my return to the United States I learned that no news had been published here of the fact that celebrations of the signing of the armistice took place on Nov. 7 at practically all the army and naval bases on the French coast.

Celebrations in Paris "I was also surprised to learn that nothing had reached here by cable concerning the fact that all Paris had the report of the armistice being signed. At the American Luncheon club meeting in Paris on that day, the toastmaster arose, and with Admiral Benson seated on one side of him and American Consul General Thacker on the other, announced on what he said was the authority of the American embassy that the armistice had been signed. "All the celebration on that day was by no means on this side of the Atlantic.

Source of Story Not Public "Nothing much has yet been said as to the source of Admiral Wilson's information. This is not for me to discuss. Nothing has been said as to the reason for the report current on that day throughout France. No explanation has yet been offered of how the report reached the American embassy in Paris as official. Neither has any explanation been offered yet as to what became of the first German armistice delegation headed by Von Hintze which was reported to have reached the French lines on Nov. 6 and which then disappeared from the news, being supplanted by the Erzberger plenipotentiaries. "Some of these matters will be cleared up after peace is signed."

democracies in the present war. There is absolutely no spirit of criticism or jealousy in any of the nations with which the United States is associated in the war. All former hostilities on account of America's tardy entrance into the conflict have been smothered in the sincerest gratitude, not only because of the republic's timely help, without which it is generally recognized the war would not have been won, but also because of Wilson's masterly handling of the conversations before the signing of the armistice. The allies not only trust the American executive, but are depending on his counsel and advice, thoroughly appreciating his high mindedness and his vision. It is understood here that while Wilson was considering the advisability of a trip to this side of the Atlantic, both Lloyd-George and Clemenceau were urging him to come to the peace conference. It is believed his final decision was largely the result of their representations.

GERMANY CAN NEVER

naughts, which are the ultimate strength of a nation on the seas, require about three years to construct. The number of dreadnaughts any nation can build in a year is strictly limited both by expense and by yard facilities. When, therefore, the major portion of a country's first line fleet is surrendered, it can seldom overcome the handicap thus imposed on its future program of construction. The only practical hope of recovery is a new era in warship designing which would make obsolete all present types and would compel every nation to start afresh from zero on a common equality. No such prospect is now in sight.

"Der tag," the famous toast of German naval officers to the day when they would meet the British fleet, has come at last. It is the day of ruin for Hohenzollern, so fond of describing himself as the "admiral of the Atlantic." It is the day of destruction for all pan-German hope of overseas domination. It is the day of retribution for German submarine piracy. It is the day of freedom for the world's democracies.

REVELATIONS ABOUT

Only 12 Percent Active

"In January, 1917, when conditions were favorable for submarine work, only 12 per cent were active, while 30 per cent were in harbor, 28 per cent were undergoing repairs and 20 per cent incapacitated. "Submarine crews were not sufficiently educated and trained, and they looked with distrust upon the weapon. In the last points, indeed, it was very difficult to get men for submarines, as experienced seamen looked upon submarine warfare as political stupidity. "When, at the beginning of November, the navy was ordered out for the purpose of attacks, a mutiny broke out. Had the seamen obeyed, innumerable lives would have been lost. Every thinking man, therefore, is of the opinion that the seamen on November 4 rendered invaluable service to their country."

EXPRESS RATES WERE

RAISED BY M'ADOO

Washington, Nov. 20.—Rates on all express lines under federal control were raised today by Director General McAdoo. The increases, which range from ten to 17 cents per hundred pounds, are expected to produce approximately $34,000,000 additional revenue annually. The essential features provide that in territory east of the Mississippi river and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers, the increase will be 16 to 17 cents per hundred pounds, regardless of the distance hauled, in the balance of the country the increase averages from 10 to 12 cents per hundred pounds. The increase on food products will be slightly less than that on the merchandise. Approximately half of the increased revenue will go to the rail-
