men and to all the federated clubs to see behind the food administration now. All the clubs will be needed for reconstruction work and their organizations should be held intact she says. Without the support of the clubwomen, the food rules will have poor support, and Mrs. Casner, who urges all housewives to remember that the thousands of soldiers abroad and the hungry people of Europe all look to this country to keep them from starving. Mrs. Casner wants to interest the Red Cross circles that have worked together so efficiently, to become a part of the state federation in the new plan for Americanization work and reconstruction. The whole machinery of the big state federation will be put to work for the benefit of the women abroad, for the help of the home workers, the families of soldiers needing help in communities or for any other purpose in which the women are needed. The Americanization work will be an important part. Study along these lines will be necessary. As the war work will lessen there will come the reconstruction work. For this the clubs will be a great strength. Mrs. Amy Wright was the motif of a lovely birthday party Tuesday afternoon, when a group of intimate friends surprised her at her residence, 1543 Mill street. They came laden with a festive birthday cake, an offering of gorgeous white chrysanthemums and a gorgeous birthday feast. The afternoon was merrily whiled away with games and music. Those comprising the party of guests were Mrs. George Yokum and small son George, Jr., of Dallas, Mrs. Emil Donaldson, Mrs. William Wilkins, Miss Laura Bandle, Mrs. D. W. Pugh, Mrs. George D. Donaldson, Mrs. Minnie E. Hussman, Mrs. J. Biver, Mrs. Emmett Hinkle, Mrs. R. C. Kiesel, Mrs. Pascal Traglio, Mrs. E. S. Wright, Miss Alpha Wright. The members of the Friends church in Highland held a most delightful reception Wednesday night in honor of the new pastor of the church, Dr. Lee Guernsey and his wife, Dr. Ida J. Guernsey, who is also an ordained minister. A varied program was given during the evening, about 45 members enjoying the affair, which took place at the parsonage. Dr. and Mrs. Guernsey are newcomers in Salem, having arrived from Kokomo, Indiana, the first of September. A group of the younger set will make merry tonight at the "annual informal" held by the Julius Caesar club of the high school. The affair will be given at the Masonic Temple and about eighteen couples will participate in the dancing gayeties. A suggestive holiday touch will prevail in the decorations, of mistletoe and other Yuletide greens. Several alumni club members from the University of Oregon and O. A. C. will come up for the dance. The chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Staley, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Heckart. The annual official visit of the work grand matron of the Order of the Eastern Star, Mrs. Mabel Settlemier, formed the occasion of an especially interesting lodge session Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple. The regular order of business was gone through with, after which a most pleasing program was given, followed by dancing. The parlors were brilliant with masses of deep yellow marguerites. Featured on the program were the musical readings of Mrs. Blanche Howard, who has frequently charmed Salem audiences with her readings, which are invariably characterized by a delightful simplicity of interpretation and a whimsical note of blent humor and tenderness. Mrs. Howard studied under Mrs. Anna Rogers Fish during the latter's residence in Salem. Mrs. Howard gave as her first number, "An Old Sweetheart of Mine," by James Whitcomb Riley, and followed with "There Little Girl Don't Cry," also by Riley. Mrs. Howard was sympathetically accompanied by Mrs. J. S. Austen on the piano.

Outside visitors for the event included Mrs. Mabel Settlemier of Woodburn, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Swank of Aumsville, Mr. and Mrs. Kuhn and Mrs. Stiles of Pullman, Washington, Mrs. Wakefield of Creswell, Oregon, Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Sites of Salem and Mrs. Gray. The Epworth League of the Leslie Methodist church held an interesting meeting Thursday evening at the church parlors. The gathering formed the midweek meeting of the "Win My Chum" series, a weekly church session participated in annually by the church members. The meeting Thursday night was led by Miss Helen Ingrey. A social hour including music and games followed, concluding with the refreshment hour. The social program was planned especially for the younger members of the Epworth League. About 45 attended. The senior Kings Herab's society of the First Methodist church was entertained this afternoon by Mrs. A. A. Lee at her home, 1515 State street. Miss Faith Friday is president of the society, which numbers 15 girls in all. The director is Mrs. F. S. Francis. Gervais News. The public schools which have been closed for the past month on account of influenza, will open again on Monday, Nov. 25, unless new cases develop. The parents of Frank Brasco, who was wounded some time ago in battle in France, have received the sad news of his death from the wounds. Mrs. Carrie Helbock has purchased the August Nibler cottage, and Ruben Cutsforth will move into the M. S. Cobb house opposite the F. A. Mangold residence. Gervais is getting to be quite a hog center. Wednesday there were about forty teams lined up at the yards to unload; Cutsforth Bros. shipping four car loads to Portland. The majority of farmers are about through sowing grain and most of them are taking advantage of the coming demand by sowing large acreage. If the weather keeps good a week or so longer there will be more grain sowed this year than for several years in this section. Lauren Christofferson, who has been home on a furlough, returned Tuesday morning to his duties in the postal service at the Brooklyn Naval yard. He had been summoned home on account of the serious illness of his brother Hans, but did not arrive until after the latter's death and burial. Laurena was looking well and says, now that the war is over he does not know how long he will be kept in the service. Dr. H. O. Hickman, who has been down with the influenza for the past week, was able to get out for a short time Wednesday and although yet quite weak he hopes to be able soon to resume his practice. The doctor had been going night and day for some time on account of the epidemic, and contracted a cold which developed into influenza. He came near having pneumonia, but credits his escape to having previously taken the influenza serum. Star. GOLDEN-ROSHEIM WEDDING. The news of the marriage of Miss Nettie Rosheim to W. F. Golden reached Silverton early this week. The marriage took place Tuesday morning in Portland. Both the bride and groom are well known here where they have many friends. Mrs. Golden is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Rosheim
