Lawrence Gale, manager of the Gale & Co. store, was operated on at the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland last week. Today he is reported as making a most satisfactory recovery.

The English department of the Salem high school will present a recital to be given Friday evening, Dec. 6, Miss Lucile Elliott. The recital will be given in the auditorium of the Commercial club.

Beginning next Monday, the sugar allowance is four pounds to the person per month. So orders the state food administration. It is now three pounds a month and it was but a short time ago that the allowance was two pounds a month.

George F. Vick, will leave this evening for Detroit, Mich., to hold a conference with Henry Ford. In regard to the rumor that some radical changes would be made in the selling price of Fords, Mr. Vick said he had no information whatever. It is learned that a number of manufacturers who had intentions on the automobile market in the line of Ford prices are feeling a trifle nervous, fearing that Henry may spring something, notwithstanding the high prices of steel and auto materials.

Willamette chapter, Red Cross has received orders from headquarters at Seattle to dispose of materials collected by the surgical dressings department at the postoffice. This will include the sale of 10,800 yards of gauze dressings, 300 yards cut gauze, several hundred sacks of sphagnum moss and other minor articles. As soon as these are sold, headquarters as well as all other departments of the Red Cross will be moved to the second floor of the postoffice building.

It was rather lonesome in the city and county jails yesterday. There was no one entitled to turkey as a transient boarder in either place.

Dr. C. B. O'Neill, prominent member of the Elks' lodge who went into the service a few months ago, writes that he is now in Charleston, S. C. and that he was waiting for a ship to take him to Santo Domingo, West Indies. From the standpoint of the doctor, old South Carolina doesn't stack up with Oregon when it comes to climate. He writes: "This is not much of a country. Give me old Oregon. It is much colder here at present than any time on the Pacific coast so far this winter."

Two letters are at the Salem postoffice, both from the war-risk department from the U. S. treasury. This means that both contain allotments, but as the parties to whom they are addressed are unknown nor have any record at the postoffice, nor have ever called at the postoffice for mail, there is of course no chance for delivery. One received Nov. 27, is addressed to Anna Jane Shearer, Salem, Oregon. The other was addressed in Salem, Nov. 5, and is addressed to Jess A. Wilkinson, Salem, Oregon. Anyone having information as to these parties would confer a favor on the "nixie" man, as well as the parties themselves by calling or sending word to the postoffice where they may be found.

Contrary to the state law, an schools in the county are not flying the national emblem. The Battle Creek school two miles west of Turner is pretty close to the law. It has a fine big flag pole but just at present the flag is floating from a small pole without much dignity. The Union Hill school near Silver Creek Falls has been doing pretty well with its flag this fall but recently a storm came along and blew down the flag pole. Hence no flag is flying today. The Pleasant View school four miles south of Turner has the flag and pole but the teacher was under the impression that the right place to show the national emblem was in the school house. The law says the flag pole is the right place when school is in session. Silver Creek Falls district is up and coming with a new flagpole and a new flag. Summit school about four miles southwest of Turner has no flag pole and its flag is in pretty bad condition, hardly fit to fly. But in general, rural schools are complying with the law which provides that the school must have a flag pole and flag and that the flag must fly when school is in session.

When it comes to one family being the whole thing in a country school, that of George M. Starr holds the Marion county record. He has five children of school age and they constitute the whole school for the Elkhorn district, 4 1/2 miles over the mountains from Mill City. The teacher is Martha A. Watts and the salary is $60.00 a month. Going to the district from Mill City, it is two miles up hill to the crest of the mountain and two miles down and then a quarter of a mile on level ground. But this district ranks with some of the best in the county when it comes to school building and school property. The school house is newly painted and the school property well taken care of.

WILL NOT JOIN ELEMENTS Washington, Nov. 29.—The United States probably will not join with the extreme in its reported plan to ask Poland to surrender the Kaiser, according to indications at the state department today.

Burford Rockefeller and Victor L. Gaume, both Winlock, Wash., boys, have been killed in action in France, according to word received by their parents. Each was 22 years old.

No Agreement Between Chile and Peru In Sight. New York, Nov. 29.—The dispute between Chile and Peru has not been settled and no amicable agreement between the two countries is in sight. This statement was made here today by Dr. Carlos Castro Ruiz, the Chilean consul general in New York. He said however, that both countries were quiet, according to his latest advice. Dr. Ruiz denied today that he had given out any statement that the controversy had been settled. He said that on November 26 he announced the receipt of a telegram from the Chilean foreign office stating that the Peruvian government had not accepted the apology.

There's a regular meal in POST TOASTIES. Bobby Meaty and Good.
