One of the Willamette University boys taking training at Waco writes home that he is experiencing a lot of cold weather, even if Texas is supposed to be a southern state. It seems that when one of those Texas northers from the Panhandle comes sweeping south the thermometer drops 40 to 50 degrees in a few hours and this is what the Oregon boys are experiencing. It is understood that some of the boys at Waco will not be returned home until about the holidays.

Dance at Chemawa Friday night.

When the government released for civilian use all 40-50 primes, it relieved the situation in Salem. The Drago Fruit Co. is now shipping east five car loads daily. With the opening of the 40-50's the government turned into civilian channels about 50 per cent of the crop. In order to prevent speculation, the authorities have placed a maximum price but has made no regulations as to a price lower should there not be a market on account of the late season in getting primes to the wholesalers. However, just at present, east-prime markets seem willing to pay the maximum figure.

The Capital Journal Carriers' association now includes 25 carriers and substitutes and was organized some time ago to secure better co-operation among the boys in the work and also to hold business and social meetings. Each month one business meeting is held and one social gathering. Last Monday night the boys met at the Spa. The next business meeting will be held at the Y.M.C.A. on Dec. 12. Adlai Esteb is president of the association, Wilford Emmel vice president and Wayne Allen secretary and treasurer.

To night the first entertainment of the season for members of the Elks lodge will be given under the direction of Charles R. Archard, chairman of the entertainment committee. There will be a brief regular session of the lodge.

The war is over and one of the evidences is that the local exemption board has received instructions not to accept any recruits for the navy or marines and another is that all calls have been cancelled. And more than this, the quartermaster's department at Camp Lewis is advertising the auction of 250 mules and 250 horses for Dec. 10 with the information that the purchaser must remove his property within 24 hours after purchase.

Harry King of Salem age 26 died yesterday at Sellwood hospital, Portland, as a result of gun wounds. The body will arrive in the city this evening and will be in care of Webb & Clough. before his death Mr. King stated that he was accidentally shot by a revolver which fell from its case in the side curtain of his automobile. He was alone in his car when the accident occurred on the Milwaukee road just inside the limits of Multnomah county. Mr. King is survived by a widow and son five years old. No funeral announcements have been made.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Business Men's League held last evening at the Commercial club, it was unanimously voted that stores should keep open during the holidays, their usual hours. It was thought that since the public has become accustomed to early shopping, there was no need of late hours for Christmas shoppers. Mrs. Isabelle Gibson, the new secretary of the league, made a most encouraging report in regard to credit ratings and the general interest she had found among business men in the affairs of the league. There was also a lively discussion as to the future of business in the city and it was the consensus of opinion that the opportunities were great for the capital city and that the league should keep thoroughly organized in order that there may be co-operation among the merchants.

Abram Volchok, proprietor of a junk shop on Court street, was arrested yesterday afternoon charged with selling a 14 year old boy a 38-calibre revolver and with not making a proper report to the police authorities as required by city ordinances. Don Worden was the purchaser and nothing perhaps would have been known of the transaction had not the boy's father made the complaint. The gun was sold to the boy on Thanksgiving day out in front of Volchok's place of business. It is regarded as an especially dangerous weapon as the barrel is but two inches long and is made in such a way that if loaded and not cocked, the hammer rests against the cartridge. Volchok appeared before Judge Webster this morning, pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs.

People who have soldier friends seem to have a habit of moving about and failing to leave forwarding addresses with the postal authorities. Three letters were received yesterday, all written by the parties have left and the postal clerks have no record of them. There is one addressed to Miss Loh Howard, Salem, Oregon, general delivery. The "Miss" man whose business it is to look out for addresses of all kinds, has no record of Miss Howard. There is a soldier's letter addressed to William L. Mickelson, care Willamette University, Salem, Oregon. But he is not there. Another is to Miss Leatha Hall, Salem, Oregon, carp Deaconess hospital. But the hospital has no record of her present address. Anyone knowing of the whereabouts of above names would confer a favor at least on the soldiers writers by giving such information to the Salem postoffice.

 STATE HOUSE NEWS *****

The Benham Irrigation company of San Francisco, Cal., has completed its filing in the office of State Engineer Percy A. Cupper for the appropriation of the waters of the McKenzie river for the irrigation of 80,000 acres of land in the Willamette valley, near Eugene. This land lies around the towns of Coburg and Harzburg, on the east side of the Willamette river. It is estimated that this project will involve an expenditure of $1,235,000 in the construction of canals and other works. The construction work is to be commenced within a year after the filing is approved.

It will not be legal to pay the salary of a deputy labor commissioner out of the factory inspection fund and employ him for the special purpose of enforcing the rulings of the industrial welfare commission relative to the employment of women and minors, according to an opinion given by Attorney General Brown to C. H. Gramm, labor commissioner-elect. Replying to another question, the attorney general advises Mr. Gramm that it will be legal for him to open a branch office in Portland; he considers it advisable, and pay the office rent out of the factory inspection fund.

Otto Stamb, committed to the Oregon state hospital from Marion county, ran away from the institution last night. He was employed in the fields. He makes it a practice to run away once or twice a year, but usually comes back.

Land Eliminated From Deschutes National Forest

Portland, Or., Dec. 5.—On November 27 the president signed a proclamation eliminating approximately 46,062 acres from the Deschutes National forest, Oregon. The main area affected comprises a tract about 7 miles square, situated near the present southwestern corner of the forest. This tract is practically a solid body of privately owned land having become alienated as the result of consolidation of forest lands through the means of land exchange between the government and certain private land owners. Of all the lands excluded nearly 90 per cent of the total area is privately owned, only about 4,000 acres of government lands being affected. These areas were shown to have little value for national forest purposes, while at the same time containing agricultural possibilities. The president's proclamation results from recommendations submitted by the secretary of agriculture.

Ladies Of Salem Thanked By Army Y.M.C.A.

Through the courtesy of this paper, the army Y. M. C. A. at Newport, Or., extends to the ladies of Salem, Ore., their hearty appreciation for the delightful preserves and jellies given for the army camps in this vicinity for Thanksgiving day.

This kindness not only added to the holiday festival but brought the knowledge of the home touch so much welcomed by these men in olive drab. The generous quantity sent gave sufficient supply for all the camps in the district.

We trust that the knowledge of service rendered will suffice for the gratitude made and bring joy sufficient for serving.

Again thanking you, we remain, At your service,
ARMY Y. M. C. A.
Guy V. Lewis, Secretary.

Congress Favored League Of Nations Long Ago

Washington, Dec. 5.—Congress, it was disclosed today, went on record in favor of a league of nations to enforce peace more than a year before President Wilson.

On August 29, 1916, it passed a law authorizing and requesting President Wilson to call a conference of nations at the close of the war to discuss disarmament, international and other means of avoiding future conflicts.

Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, cited this law to show, he said, "that the United States had a definite policy with respect to the league of nations; originating not alone with the chief executive, but with certain members of congress."

He said if formation of the league is deferred until after the peace treaty has been signed the 1916 law could be invoked.
