PEDAGOGUES TO HAVE SERIES OF MEETINGS

On Account Of Influenza, Regular Institute Was Not Held This Year.

On account of the influenza, the regular annual teachers' institute was not held this year. But to take its place, a series of institutes are planned and one is to be held in Salem Saturday, Dec. 14, at the Salem High school. Teachers who attend the entire session will be given a 5 1/2 hours credit on the annual institute. In the afternoon business session four delegates at large from the county will be elected to attend the state teachers' association to meet in Portland Dec. 26. The principal's association will also elect one delegate.

C. R. Frazier who is on the program to give an address on "National Standards in Vocational Education" is director of vocational education in the Washington schools with headquarters at Seattle. Robert Max Garrett who will speak in the afternoon on "The Work of the Junior Red Cross" is director of the Junior Red Cross of the northwestern division of the American Red Cross. The program for Saturday, Dec. 14, is as follows:
9 to 9:30--Opening exercises.
9:30 to 10:15--Departments:
Primary Phonics, Emily DeVore.

HITCHCOCK AND HART BRAND STATEMENTS OF GERMANS AS UNTRUE

Nebraska Senator Declared That All His Actions Were In Open.

Washington, Dec. 10.--Senator Hitchcock, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee and Professor Albert Bushnell Hart, Harvard university today branded as false and unwarranted the efforts of German propagandists to connect them with German intrigue in the United States before this country entered the war. Hitchcock's denial was delivered to the senate while Hart's was made before the senate committee investigating propaganda.

Hitchcock referred to the letter dated July 22, 1915, read into the record by A. Bruce Bielaski, of the department of justice, in which German Consul Reiszewitz at Chicago said that Hitchcock, among others would aid in a movement to get an embargo on arms shipments to the allies. This letter was written to some unnamed "excellency" Was Author of Bill

"If this alleged excellency or Reiszewitz himself had any intelligence either or both of them might have known that I was myself the author of the bill to prohibit the exportation of arms and ammunition, and that I had introduced it in the senate more than eight months before the Reiszewitz letter was written," said Hitchcock.

Hitchcock declared the records show every move he made was in the open and was never a subject for apology on his part.

"The fact I was re-elected by a comfortable majority indicates that my course and my motives were understood and approved by the people of Nebraska," he said.

Explained Stand.

Hitchcock explained his stand for American neutrality in 1914 by saying that "in those days the country was under a pledge of neutrality by virtue of the president's proclamation made when the war broke out.

"My attitude naturally changed with changing conditions," he said. When Germany began a systematic on our commerce I was ready to fight to protect our neutrality."

He recalled how he supported the president's request for authority to assert and protect our neutrality by arming merchant ships. "I had charge in the senate," he said, "of what was known as the armed neutrality resolution which died so dramatically."

He said he had no disposition to criticize Bielaski for revealing all the secret correspondence of German agents and conspirators, but he said it was evident "that they, in correspondence, used the names of a number of public men recklessly, if not falsely."

Put Telegram in Record

Major E. Lovry Humes put into the record the telegrams he said were sent from W. R. Hearst from Florida to editors of his papers regarding war policies. The telegrams were produced from department of justice files by A. Bruce Bielaski. Dated February 25, 1917, a telegram read:

"Please make editorial advocating embargo from America along your lines. Also kindly make one for Evening Journal amplifying and improving following suggestions:

"America is not only being starved for the benefit of warring Europe, but is being plundered of its wealth as well. Uncle Sam is being gold-bricked."

"And why are we wasting our wealth? If it were for some noble purpose we could afford to go poor for a generation and comfort and consolation of a worthy deed."

"But, no, we are wasting our wealth to continue a carnival of murder to prolong an era of overwhelming disaster, to encourage destruction of the white race, to tear down the achievements of civilization which have taken ages to construct, to repudiate religion and violate all established standards of decency, morality and righteousness, to prostitute the progress of the world to the meanest and basest and vilest of purposes."

Another Message
A telegram from Hearst to Hale in Berlin, February 21, 1917:

"I firmly believe vast majority people of the United States are undecided of war with Germany. Also I believe people in Germany equally undecided war with United States.

"The course of my papers has been fair to Germany not because I am pro-German any more than pro-ally. I am simply patriotically interested in influencing my country altruistically interested in progress of the world."

Another telegram in the collection was addressed to Carralho in New York and signed merely "Doctor." No other identity of the writer was given.

Criticized Gregory

In referring to the Zimmerman note, the sender bitterly criticized Attorney General Gregory and Postmaster General Burleson.

The telegram read:
"Agree with Francis, Zimmerman note all probability absolute fake and forgery, prepared by a very unscrupulous attorney general's very unscrupulous department. Everybody knows the secret police are the most conscience-

2:30 to 3:15--Address, "The Work of the Junior Red Cross," Robert Max Garrett.
3:15 to 4--Address, "Motivation of Subject Matter in School work," C. R. Frazier.
