While there are several cases of influenza in the city, Dr. O. B. Miles, city physician, reports no large increase and as yet no special need for alarm. He will go to Portland tomorrow to confer with the state authorities as to the best means to fight the disease should there be indications of its return. In some cities the councils are passing laws by which an entire household may be quarantined in case the flu develops in a house. Quite a number of cases are reported from Silverton and Dallas is taking radical means to fight the disease.

Mrs. Housewife—Do you realize that the bakeries of your city are capable of and are daily producing the best bread on the market today? During the war we have cooperated with our national government in the very necessary conservation of food supplies and wheat flour ranked among the first of these.

Since last winter we have struggled with substitutes and other restrictions, which with a few exceptions have recently been removed. Through this past period of adverse conditions we have given the very best loaf possible with the materials at hand. Now that the lid is off the flour barrel our products are superior to those of pre-war days. In view of the fact that it is possible for you to purchase bread that is above question in quality, made in your home town protecting the local pay roll, we respectfully solicit your undivided support.—Salem Bakeries.

Chief of Police Poland is privately of the opinion that when any one happens to have a horse not worth its board and lodging, that said horse is turned loose and then the city is obliged to take up the animal and as a matter of mercy an law, put it on good feed at the city boarding school for stray horses. This is regarded as rather expensive as it costs about $1 a day to feed a horse with a coming appetite. One was taken up last week wandering at large in the city and another one yesterday. Before a horse can be legally sold, it is necessary to advertise and meanwhile the board bill is making it a more expensive horse every day, that is, provided the city is reimbursed.

The rather unfortunate condition of the Southern Pacific crossing at Trade and Church streets, near the Cherry City mills is creating considerable comment from those who live in the neighborhood and also those who are obliged to use the street at that point. One man became so dissatisfied with the crossing that he offered to pay the costs of repairs if the city street department would do the work. This offer was not accepted as the city hall understands it is not according to Hoyle that private interests should stand the expense of putting in condition S. P. crossings.

Robin D. Lay, an attorney in Salem before he volunteered for service with the friends on paper with a letterhead "Les Foyers Du Soldat, Unios Franco Americaine." He is in one of the gas flame throwing companies over there.

"I am thankful for the good I have received by using Chamberlain's Tablets. About two years ago when I began taking them I was suffering a great deal from distress after eating, and from headache and a tired, languid feeling due to indigestion and a torpid liver. Chamberlain's Tablets corrected these disorders in a short time, and since taking two bottles of them my health has been good," writes Mrs. M. P. Harwood, Auburn, N. Y.
