SOCIETY

By CAROL S. DIBBLE.

Interesting visitors entertained in Salem this week were Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Minthorn, who as the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Miles, spent a few days in the city enroute from Metlakatla, Alaska, to Newport, Oregon. Dr. Minthorn located in Metlakatla, which is an Indian mission of note, a number of years ago and was the physician of the colony until last spring, when the death of William Duncan, leader of the mission, and widely known throughout the west, left Dr. Minthorn in sole charge. Both he and Mrs. Minthorn had many incidents of interest to relate concerning their Alaskan experiences.

The travelers left for Newport this morning where they plan to reside permanently, Dr. Minthorn continuing his profession in the coast city.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lampert have returned to Salem, Mr. Lampert having been released from the navy. He has been stationed at Bremerton during the past year. Mrs. Lampert left Salem several months ago to join her husband at Seattle. The Lamperts are now domiciled in their attractive home at Ben Lomand Park.

Mrs. C. K. Spaulding is spending the day in Portland.

Miss Helen West, daughter of former Governor and Mrs. Oswald West, and well known Salem maid, is prominently identified with the activities of the Junior Portland Hunt club, being a leading member on one of the committees in charge of the dinner dance to be given tonight by the Juniors for their friends at the club house at the Garden Home station. The affair promises to be most delightful, as the Juniors will be hosts for various groups of the younger girls and boys of Portland.

Christmas shoppers are turning with the usual eagerness to the annual church sales and bazaars, now claiming so large a space in the pre-holiday calendar, realizing that the dainty hand worked novelties the original array of useful home articles and the ever inviting variety of homemade candy, offer a wide choice of ideas for that long sought, seldom found, gift of the last minute. Affording an especially large range of Christmas suggestions is the sale to be held tomorrow under the auspices of the Guild of St. Paul's church, at the Salem Hardware store. The various articles on sale will be arranged in the State street windows of the store. Among those who are assisting to make the sale a success in every possible way are Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner, Mrs. James Walton, Mrs. U. G. Shipley, Miss Mary Chadwick and Mrs. Russell Catlin.

Mrs. Norris Hunt and children are visiting in Salem as the guests of Mrs. J. T. Hunt at her home on North Front street.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church held a very enjoyable meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. A. Lee on State street. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. M. B. Paroungian, and Mrs. Kierpopp.

The Columbia River Branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society held their annual convention in Portland recently, when the following women were placed in office: Mrs. M. S. Hughes, president; Mrs. A. E. Malfe (Maude Keaworthy), recording secretary; Mrs. W. Rouse Keene, associate secretary; Mrs. A. N. Fisher, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Nettie Whitney, treasurer; superintendent of children's work, Mrs. Katherine Umpeyer; superintendent of young peoples' work, Mrs. James.

With the mutual fire insurance business prospering, officers of Oregon mutual fire companies who met today in conference with Fire Insurance Commissioner Harvey Wells declared that they wanted the next legislature to make no changes in the insurance laws affecting their business.

"In particular, we want to prevent any legislation which will add to the cost of doing business and consequently increase the cost of insurance," declared Herman Loeding of Portland, representing the Farmers' Mutual.

W. C. Haggerty, representing the Oregon Fire Relief association of McMinnville, and J. P. Feller, representing the Farmers' Mutual of Butteville, were also present.

A MOTHER'S STRENGTH

Mother, whose hands rock the cradle, often needs more than ordinary food to help maintain the blood-quality and strength and to assure adequate nourishment to the child. It is as unwise for the mother, as it is dangerous to the child, to place dependence upon alcoholic stimulation, for strength is not found in alcohol.
