Mr. and Mrs. Daue Injured By Automobile Saturday

While waiting on south Commercial street Saturday evening for a street car, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Daue were run down by an automobile driven by Donald W. Miles. Mrs. Daue sustained two broken ribs besides severe injuries on the head while Mr. Daue received several painful cuts about the head.

They were rushed at once to the Perry drug store for medical attention and later both taken to the Salem hospital. This morning Mr. Daue was able to come down town but the injuries of his wife are much more serious and she may be confined to the hospital for two weeks.

According to eye witnesses, four people were standing on the street awaiting an approaching street car. Two stepped back on the sidewalk as the automobile approached, but Mr. and Mrs. Daue, thinking that the car would drive to the right, stepped forward on the street car tracks. They were knocked down by the car, which is said to have skidded, and carried about 60 feet. That they were not both seriously injured was due probably to the wet and slippery condition of the street.

Bootlegging Is Said To Be A Profitable Business

The colored Pullman porter on the Southern Pacific railroad who was arrested a few days ago on a bootlegging charge, was let off Saturday with a fine of $75 and discharged in the court of the justice of the peace. When first arrested he thought he was not guilty, but later figured out that he was, claiming that he was the middle man who handed the suitcase of booze to the brakeman on the Southern Pacific. However, in the transfer of handing from one to another, there was found to be one bottle of Hermitage whiskey missing.

As to why Southern Pacific Pullman porters occasionally engage in bootlegging, the following figures were given by one who probably knows: The Hermitage probably cost the porter, say $2.50 or $3 a quart in San Francisco. The porter then sells the case to the brakeman for $60 on the supposition there was 12 bottles in the case.

Then the S. P. brakeman sells it to the Falls City conductor for $6 a bottle, or $72 for the suitcase of 12 bottles. The Falls City conductor then is supposed, according to the best of information, to sell it to a hotel at Dallas for an advance on the $6 a bottle as he could not afford to take all the trouble and risk for nothing.

Now with the profit of the Falls City conductor added to the $6 a bottle, the hotel man at Dallas must also have a fair price for having that kind of Christmas cheer handy and they do say that a bottle of Hermitage is worth from $10 to $12 at Dallas or about 50 cents a drink.

Bootlegging And Christmas Giving Mixed Up In Court

According to the usual standards, Oscar Williams of Silverton is a fine thoughtful young man, as he sent his mother $25 for a Christmas present while she wrote him for only $10. It is the little things that count and in this instance, the little things that counted were not exactly anticipated by Mr. Williams who happens to be about 20 years old.

From the police records, the fact is noted that young Williams works for the Silver Falls lumber company at Silverton and also the fact that he left Saturday evening a suitcase with six bottles of booze in it at a local rooming house. It seems he had gone down or up to Hornbrook and when he returned to Salem, proceeded to dispense at Silverton some of the merchandise for which Hornbrook is famous or infamous.

Anyhow, when arrested by the police he had in his pocket the key to room 12 of the Hornbrook hotel. The mere fact of having such a key would not ordinarily incriminate any man, but it also seems the police had the goods on him, charged with bootlegging.

Hence when he appeared before city recorder Race, and the cards were laid on the table, and also the fact that the young man had on his person $58.50, the judge sentenced him to a fine of $25, which went into the city treasury, and also that his mother's request as noted in a letter for $10 be increased to $25. Max Gehlar accompanied the young man to the express office to see that the $25 was sent to the mother and he was then permitted to return to his Silverton home with $8.50 in cash and $50 worth of experience.

A Maxwell car owned by John Poyree of Macleay was wrecked Saturday evening at the intersection of Fifth, D and Church streets, due to the fact that the driver was under the impression that Church street extended straight ahead, instead of bending to the left at this particular point. A light is placed at this bend in the road, but being placed on the right, as one drives west, a stranger gains the impression that the road continues on north. It seems the driver of the Maxwell Saturday evening found out his mistake too late and attempted to veer off to the left but only succeeded in smashing his car on the curbing. It is probable that the placing of the light at this particular point will come up for discussion at the meeting of the city council this evening. It is claimed that the light is on the wrong side of the road.

Company M is planning on holding a banquet some evening this week at the armory. When the date has been decided all members will be notified.

A meeting will be held at the armory this evening of men interested in military matters for the purpose of formulating plans to organize another Oregon National guard company. At present Company M is the only National guard company in the city but with the muniting out of the four Oregon guard companies within the next few months, it is thought there is plenty of material not only to give Company M the few necessary to complete its quota but to also organize another company.

REV. PAUL SMITH SPEAKS.

Story of Dramatic Initial Presentation of Pastor's Great Picturized Sermon.

The first public showing of "The Finger of Justice," Rev. Paul Smith's dramatic motion picture triumph, was staged in San Francisco, amid scenes and conditions which write a spectacular page in the book of motion picture history. It was significant that the first showing of "The Finger of Justice," which will be shown in this city begin ning Sunday at the Liberty theatre, should be held in San Francisco. The film is based upon Rev. Smith's successful fight that closed the notorious Barbary Coast in that far west metropolis.

WILSON'S BED TOO SHORT

Paris, Dec. 16.—President Wilson's "empire" bed is too short but he is sleeping in it, nevertheless.

The custodian of the Murat palace did not want to change it, owing to the fact that none of the other beds match the Napoleonic fittings in the room.
