WILL WOMEN GIVE UP POSITIONS FORMERLY HELD BY DRAFT MEN

What to do with the women who are holding down real jobs for the first time and really doing work that has heretofore been done by men will be one of the great problems for the council of defense and the labor organizations to solve. This developed last evening at the meeting of the county council of defense, the Woman's club and the U. S. labor bureau.

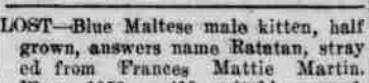

As to whether women who have been holding down jobs that ordinarily were thought to belong to men will cheerfully lay down, get out and seek domestic service or other service, or whether they will not, is the big problem, as well as that of finding jobs for the soldiers.

At the meeting last evening, a resolution was passed supporting the government in its endeavor to find work for returning soldiers. But as to what will be done with the men who are obliged to give up their jobs for soldiers, and for the women who do not want to give up their jobs, that is another question and from the general trend of opinion, is one of the most difficult ones.

Dr. E. E. Lee Steiner, chairman of the Marion county council of defense, upon being told that the women holding down men's jobs would not willingly quit, was inclined to think that if the women insisted on doing their work so well that the male creation was surely up against it.

Anyhow, the U. S. labor bureau, the Marion county council of defense and the Woman's club all endorse the action of the government in its efforts to secure employment for returning soldiers.

SAYS FRISCO POLICE REFUSE HER RECEIPT

Mrs. Baldin Has No Proof Of Amount Of Stolen Money She Returned.

San Francisco, Dec. 18.—Mrs. Lola G. Baldwin of Portland, who effected the capture of Arthur C. Davis, Portland bank robber, today accused the San Francisco police of refusing absolutely to give her a receipt for more than $40,000 turned over to them. The money, which she recovered from Davis, was stolen by him from the East Side bank of Portland. It was in bonds of all sorts, gold, currency and a great mass of small silver pieces.

Mrs. Baldwin today attempted to give the United Press an accounting of money turned over to the police, but gave up in despair.

"I have absolutely nothing to show for the money I have recovered," she said. "I demanded a receipt from the police but they refused it. They refused even to allow me to take the numbers of bonds turned over, saying they did not have time—that the safe was about to be closed. I haven't a scrap of paper to show."

Will See Thing Through
Mrs. Baldwin declared she would "see the thing through" and demand through the courts, if necessary that the police make an accounting.

The reward offered by the Portland bank included, besides a flat $500, ten percent of all the funds recovered. This would amount to over $4000.

The police, according to Mrs. Baldwin, said their books would show the amount of money turned over by her and that it was not customary to give a receipt in such cases.

Mrs. Baldwin admitted there was hard feeling between herself and the police and the various private detectives who have been searching for Davis.

"On my demand that the numbers of bonds turned over be noted," she said, "the police started to do this. They stopped, however, before half through, saying it would take too much time. I have turned money over to them several times."

"I am very unpopular here," Mrs. Baldwin said several times. She said Roscoe P. Hurst, Portland attorney, would be here tomorrow and she expects Hurst to help her.

FRANK WELLS TODAY OFFERS RESIGNATION

Has Held Position Of Assistant Superintendent For Six Years.

After six years of service as assistant superintendent of public instruction in the office of J. A. Churchill, Frank K. Wells today announced that he has tendered his resignation to become effective the first of the year. He has resigned to accept the position of Pacific coast manager for the Rocky Mountain Teachers' Agency of Denver. His territory will embrace the northwestern states and British Columbia and Alaska.

Superintendent Churchill stated today that he has named Mr. Wells' successor, but as the new assistant will not take office until 60 days or more he withheld his name for the present.

Was County Superintendent.
Before becoming assistant superintendent of public instruction, Mr. Wells was county school superintendent of Umatilla county for eight years and while in that office attracted considerable attention among school men by his vigorous campaign for better schools, longer school terms and better pay for teachers. During his term of office the salaries of teachers in his county were increased on an average of 80 per cent.

He was elected president of the Oregon State Teachers' association and also served for several years as officer of the Inland Empire Teachers' association. For several years he has lectured on educational subjects at summer schools at the University of Oregon and the Oregon Agricultural College.

Beginning with the new year he will open an office in Portland and will devote his energies to assisting superintendents and school boards in securing suitable teachers and in helping teachers to better their conditions.

STATE INSTITUTIONS WILL HAVE PROGRAM

Christmas Program Begins With Cantata For Custodial Children.

The state institution for the Feeble Minded has issued an attractive Christmas program of events to take place at the institution during the holidays.

All programs will be given at the institution and will begin with a cantata for custodial children Thursday Dec. 19. On Friday, Dec. 20 a cantata will be given for school children and friends. Sunday, Dec. 22 Christmas exercises will be held in the chapel. On Christmas day, there will be the distribution of presents in the cottages.

The Christmas menu includes roast goose, chicken fricasse, cranberry sauce, vegetables of four kinds, mince pie, coffee, tea and milk with a dessert of mince pie and fruit and nuts.

The Christmas cantata entitled "Santa Claus, Junior" is as follows: Synopsis—Ragged Dick learns of the proposed visit of Santa Claus to the home of Anne. While the children are gathered together discussing what they would like to have for Christmas, Ragged Dick enters with a note from Santa Claus informing them that Santa Claus Jr. will make the trip in his place. In the mean time Santa Claus Jr. sends a note telling him to arrive an hour late. Christmas eve arrives and with it Santa Claus Jr. He distributes the gifts to the children. But just as he is about to finish, Santa Claus arrives and has Ragged Dick arrested and hauled off in the patrol wagon for being an impostor. Santa Claus leaves the children in spirit of joy and gladness and promises to come again next year.

Another Day On N. Y. Stock Exchange

New York, Dec. 18.—The Evening Sun financial review today says: It was another dull day on the stock exchange, with nothing in the way of news developments to relieve the monotony of professional give-and-take. Wall street has settled down, resigned to waiting until a reasonable time after the turn of the year when it may be expected results of a reversion to open industrial markets will begin to appear and take form.

First Conference Of Peace Delegation Held Today

Paris, Dec. 18.—The first conference of the complete American peace delegation will be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon when President Wilson goes to the Crillon hotel to meet the other representatives.

The president's principal conversation today, preceding the American conference, will be with Gabriel Hanotaux, former French foreign minister. He was busy studying reports and data on recent conferences. Despite the rain he planned to take a motor trip this afternoon.

Cardinal Cerretti, papal under-secretary of state today delivered the pope's message to the president. It is understood the pope desires to secure Wilson's influence in obtaining representation for the vatican at the peace conference.

Mrs. Wilson motored through the shopping district today but did not leave her automobile.

Disclaims Authority.

Washington, Dec. 18.—Senator Lodge today disclaimed authority of the article credited to him in Paris and declared he had never announced that he favored a league of nations.

"I believe the plan for a league of nations should be considered as a separate, not be considered at the peace conference," he said.

"I have written no article for the Nation.

"Of course I believe the central powers should bear the cost of the Lodge explained.

"The speech I made last summer regarding peace terms, contained but 12 points. I do not know what is meant by my 21st point."

An increase of $2,131,887 is noted in Washington's state budget for the coming year.
