HOW VICTOR BERGER ADHERES TO THE SOCIALISTIC PRINCIPLES

(Mt. Angel Magazine.)

Is an economic system socialism denies the right of private property but how about those Socialists whom Mammou as befriended. Victor Berger of Milwaukee, Wis., is one of these lucky Socialists.

Arthur Brisbane in a recent Washington Times had a very striking illustration of the danger of Bolshevism to those misguided intellects of the United States who have gone beyond the tramp class.

Victor Berger is one of the prominent Socialists of this country; a citizen of Wisconsin. He seems to be extremely friendly to the Bolsheviks and declares that Socialists sympathize with them.

Here is what Arthur Brisbane says to Victor Berger:

If Bolshevism came to this country, Victor Berger—and he probably knows it—would be one of the first victims. The American Trotsky or Lenin would say:

"Citizen Berger, you are accused of having an umbrella with a silver handle and an overcoat with a fur collar. Citizens have testified that you live in a comfortable house, with the entire upper floor given over to bookshelves. It is further stated that you have a bathtub. Can you offer any good reason why you should not be hanged, your plutocratic $4000 mansion sold, and the money divided among the proletariat?"

There is no imagination about this. The Russian lives now in Milwaukee, Victor Berger's city, that would cheerfully move to hang Berger. Then somebody would hang that Russian. And when the people get tired of it, he well-known Bourgeoisie would arise and govern.

Perry Reigleman Was In Bordeaux For Celebration

It seems that Salem boys over there were fortunate in being stationed in big cities when the news of the armistice was announced. Perry Reigleman of the U. S. signal corps, photo laboratory, happened to be in Bordeaux when it happened. In writing his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Reigleman, of Salem, he tells of part of his observations as follows:

"When the people of Bordeaux realized that it was all over they were almost delirious. They shouted, sang and danced, waved flags, shouted and crowded the narrow old streets until they were almost impassable.

"The young men and women paraded the streets shouting 'We have them' dancing in circles around French and American soldiers. The band played and everybody threw bonnets by the barrels.

"While in Bordeaux I saw Sergeant Bruce McDaniels, now a second lieutenant. Also Lieut. Compton, Lieut. William R. Day, a former Willamette University, major engineer Joe McAllister, private Frank Barton. I also met on the street Lieut. Pomeroy of the navy medical department who is stationed near here.

"The weather here is very much like that of Oregon except the fogs. Bordeaux is dull compared to Paris. The theaters have closed down on account of the Spanish flu and we have to get off the streets at 9 o'clock."
