BIG MARKET AFFORDED FOR MANY VEGETABLES
L. J. Chapin was here from Salem recently representing the Salem Kings Products company, which has big contracts from the French government for evaporated potatoes, carrots, cabbage etc.

The enterprise is a big asset to the county. The work at the plant goes forward every hour of the 24. The fires are never out. The shipments are being made as fast as the products can be put into packages and loaded into cars. The raw products come from all over the state, for recently a carload of vegetables came to this plant from Idaho, and frequent shipments come from the other side of the Columbia river, in Washington. There seems no end to the market for these products. The difficulty is to fill the orders.

The company is ready to contract for almost any quantity of potatoes, carrots, parsnips, cabbage, spinach and many other crops. The freight rate on car lots from Aurora to Salem is low, and farmers in this section should investigate the condition and prices for growing these products.—Aurora Observer.

PUBLICATION IS PLANNED FOR ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

University of Oregon, Eugene, Dec. 20.—University of Oregon alumni will have a regular annual magazine if the plans of Miss Charlie Feuton, secretary of the University of Oregon alumni association are fulfilled. It is the custom in most universities and colleges of Oregon's size to publish an alumni magazine and Miss Feuton hopes, with the aid of the class in editing at the University in the actual editing of the proposed magazine, to have an Oregon alumni publication in circulation sometime after the opening of the term beginning January 6, 1919.

The alumni lists are not complete at the present time owing to changes of addresses of many former students, and it is impossible, according to Miss Feuton, that more than 1500 alumni of the approximately 3500 will be reached through the first distribution. One of the aims of the magazine will be to make this alumni list complete through publication in the first few editions asking for names and addresses of former University students.

The proposed magazine would be devoted to news of former university people of the different classes and to articles by and of special interest to the alumni, with the object of keeping them informed and interested in their university.

Although exact plans have not yet been completed, the tentative proposal is for a small size magazine of between 24 and 32 pages. The editing class and the university press will handle the printing of the magazine for the time being but there is a probability that the alumni association will take over the emanant and regular publication later on if the plan proves a success.

A BIT OF POPULAR SCIENCE

Chimney on Tree Stump.
HE economical removal of a tree stump is a problem frequently confronting those who live outside of a city.

The extraction of a stump of any size by mechanical means requires an elaborate plant and is likewise attended by more or less expense. Removal by fire is a convenient solution of the problem, but a slow one and the smoke resulting is a source of nuisance on account of the stump taking so long to burn through the lack of draught.

A device has been recently patented to quickly consume a stump by supplying a sufficient amount of air.

A small standpipe has a revolvable funnel mounted on its top and a connection with the lower part of the stump by which a current of air is driven through it. When a fire has been started in the stump its quick consumption follows.

Earthquakes.
Statistics gathered in Italy throw some light on the question of the relative frequency of earthquakes by day and by night.

It has been alleged that the supposed greater frequency of nocturnal quakes is only apparent, being due to the fact that quiet conditions at night make the shocks more readily perceptible.

It appears, however, that considering only those shocks which were so intense that they could not have escaped notice at any hour, 865 occurred during the 12 night hours, while only 638 occurred during the 12 day hours.

Use for Wood Scraps.
Here is another war use of forest products. A planing mill company in Oregon has recently received an order for 7,000,000 tent pins from the United States government. The pins are to be 24 inches long and will be made of maple and ash. Four months will be required to complete delivery.

Filling a Fountain Pen.
Oftentimes a person finds an occasion to fill a fountain pen, but has no dropper handy. So here is a little trick to try on your fountain pen, says the Electric Experimenter. Take a pin or match and draw a channel out to the edge of the mouth of the ink bottle with the ink. The ink will follow this channel and run into the fountain pen without spilling a drop.

Reversible Cuffs.
In these days of the H. C. of L. we are compelled to bring down the aggregate of our expenses by cutting off the little items, or at least cutting them down, and one way of doing this is suggested by demonstrating a method of

Odd Things In Scientific Circles

Increasing the length of the term of usefulness between wash days.

That is, a man is enabled to wear a shirt longer because it has reversible cuffs.

As a rule the cuffs become soiled quickly in wear because of their exposed position, and when they are soiled it is necessary to condemn the whole garment to the wash, although the remainder of the garment may be but little used.

With this system the cuffs may be turned three times.

Shutter Device.
A shutter device on the radiator of the automobile enables the owner to regulate the amount of air supplied to the engine. It is desirable that the volume be cut down very materially in cold weather.

Sandcrabs for Chickens.
The owner of a chicken ranch in California feeds his fowls on sandcrabs.

These he hatches in a trap, which Popular Mechanics describes as like a large dustpan with a wire screen bottom. He often gets as much as a peck of crabs at a dip. He boils them, dries them in the sun and grinds them to a coarse meal. The chickens grow fat and lay well on this diet.

Spark Plug Cleaner.
The spark plugs of the automobile need cleaning occasionally, and the job is not exactly an attractive one. The task is simplified by means of a new feature. You press a small plunger mounted upon the plug and the contact points are at once cleared of the soot deposit.

Vital Statistics.
Based upon 94,269 deaths of male and 102,467 deaths of female industrial policy holders, 15 years of age and over, as recorded in 1911, 1912 and 1913, by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company,

By A. Scientist

tuberculosis caused the death of 20.5 per cent of the former and 14.4 per cent of the latter, while organic diseases of the heart were responsible for 12 per cent of the deaths of males and 14.8 per cent of the deaths of females. The average of men dying from tuberculosis was 37.1 years and of women 34.1 years.

Paper From Twine.
It has been demonstrated at the experimental paper works operated by the Bureau of Standards that a good grade of paper stock can be made from used twine and cord that is usually wasted.

Handle for a Bottle.
At present the water bottle made use of is such a shape that the person who has occasion to carry it from one point to another is compelled to seize it by the neck, and if it happens that the hands are not clean, the water is seriously contaminated when the water is poured into the fountain. A handle for bottles of this character has been designed and it enables the bottle to be transported with ease and assurance that there is no occasion for soiled fingers coming in contact with it. It is made of stout wire with means of grasping the neck of the bottle at one end and a handle at the other.

"Trouble Truck."
By means of a new "trouble truck," designed for the use of automobile repair establishments, one man may load on a damaged car and convey it to the repair shop.

The musical acuteness of horses is shown by the rapidity with which cavalry horses learn the significance of trumpet calls.

Helps Fireman.
To help a locomotive fireman with his work a New York inventor has patented a vibrating pusher that moves coal from the back of a tender toward the front.
