

SOCIETY

By CAROL S. DIBBLE

THE calendar of the past week has been productive of little in the purely social way, as society has been too busily engaged otherwise, a multitude of holiday arrangements, last minute shopping excursions, and plans for the entertainment of friends from out of town occupying every available hour, commonly devoted to social diversion. However a fortnight's galaxy of Christmas and New Year functions, brilliantly studying the holiday program, promises a sufficiency of gala and varied entertainment for even the gayest of the gay. Next week will partake in character of a homecoming festival, with numbers of soldiers returning rapidly to Salem from camps in this country, and others enroute from debarkation points in the east. These men will be the nucleus for a vast amount of rejoicing and festivity by their relatives and friends, many of the larger affairs being scheduled for New Year's week, with an aggregation of small, informal home gatherings claiming space over Christmas, this greatest of all family holidays.

The school holidays will be considerably shortened and many of the college girls and boys from afar will be unable to return home, as the time lost through the closing of the schools must be made up. Even those students in the near vicinity will honor the family reunions for brief time only, as many of the institutions grant just the week of vacation and some merely Christmas day.

The movement to heighten the reigning spirit of Yuletide joy this season by the rendition of Christmas carols throughout the city is rapidly gaining headway. Beside the church choirs, which have already evinced a keen interest in the undertaking, the high school Glee club under the direction of Miss Lena Belle Tartar and that of the grade schools, directed by Miss Grace Smith, have been asked to assist in the singing of the favorite old time carols. The girls of the Sacred Heart academy have also been invited to join the carollers, on Christmas eve.

A host of friends are anticipating the arrival Tuesday of former Governor and Mrs. Oswald West and daughters, Miss Helen West and Little Jeanne, who will participate in a Christmas family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Olcott. Joining the gathering will also be the parents of Mrs. Olcott and Mrs. West, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Hutton, who are making their home in Salem this winter.

Mr. West will probably return to Portland the middle of the week, but Mrs. West will remain over several days thus affording her many old time friends a much welcomed opportunity of renewing acquaintanceships and extending her charming social courtesies. Miss West will also be greeted by a bevy of maids among the younger set, as she numbers a galaxy of girlhood friends in Salem. Miss West is one of the active members of the Portland Junior Hunt club.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Fleming were hosts Tuesday night for the Merry-Go-Round club, the members assembling at their home on Court street for an enjoyable evening of five hundred. The high scores fell to Mrs. J. N. Smith and A. N. Moores. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Allen were bidden as additional guests.

A Yuletide atmosphere was simply suggested in the attractive decorations about the rooms. The evening culminated pleasantly with the serving hour. Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Smith will entertain the club next week.

Dr. and Mrs. B. E. Lee Steiner are expecting Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kerfoot of Portland as their guests for Christmas. The visitors will arrive in Salem Tuesday sharing the festivities attendant upon the family dinner for which Dr. and Mrs. Steiner will be hosts Wednesday, when Mr. and Mrs. Milton Moores, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denton and Mrs. G. Steiner, will be numbered among the guests.

Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Olinger were gayly surprised on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary Monday night, when a group of friends assembled at their home on Mill street for an impromptu jollification in celebration of the event. Cards and a variety of diversion followed gala entertainment for the merry makers, who included a group of close friends of Dr. and Mrs. Olinger. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Durbin, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Gillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, Mrs. Margaret Lovelace, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Locke, Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Griffiths, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dancy, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Meyers, Mr. Dickner of Portland.

Miss Lona Smith and Miss Minnie Goehring went to Portland this morning to pass a few days. This noon they were at business at a pretty luncheon given at the Multnomah Hotel in honor of several of their society sisters in Portland. Both Miss Smith and Miss Goehring are members of the Alpha Chi Beta. They are connected with the Salem schools this winter, Miss Smith being supervisor of music and Miss Goehring an instructor in the Great school. They will return to Salem the first of next week.

An extensive circle of Salem friends is looking forward with pleasure to the anticipated arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hunt, of Portland, during the holiday season for a few days' sojourn in the city. They will be entertained as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Glover. Mr. Hunt is now playing at the Majestic theatre in Portland.

It will also be of interest to their acquaintances, who welcomed Mrs. Hunt, as a bride from England three years ago, that she contemplates a trip to England this spring. Mrs. Hunt plans to leave in May and will visit her mother and other relatives at her old home in Eastbourne, England. She will be gone three months.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Livesley are anticipating a trip to Vancouver, B. C., the last of January to greet Mrs. Livesley's brother, Ward DeBeek, who is expected to arrive about that time from France. Mr. DeBeek went over with the first of the Canadian expeditionary forces four years ago, and under the plan being pursued by the government to return the volunteers first of all. Mr. DeBeek will reach home in time to share the close of the holiday festivities, which, in the case of the DeBeek family, will naturally be prolonged to include the eagerly awaited home coming of the soldier member of the household. Mr. DeBeek was attached to the field artillery branch of the service.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Carrier were hosts at a handsomely appointed dinner party last evening at their residence on Court street. A festive Yuletide motif prevailed in the table decorations, an artistic arrangement of the scarlet tipped holly predominating. A trio of maids, numbering Miss Eva Miles, Miss Laura Bell and Miss Lena Laym-brook, assisted in serving.

Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Boyer, Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Stevens, Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Legg, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Vandervort, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Miles, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Carrier.

Mrs. Zedee Riggs, who has taken up the study of pharmacy at the North Pacific College in Portland, returned to Salem last night to pass the holiday season with her husband.

Miss Mary Jane Albert, who is a student at Miss Catlin's School in Portland this winter, came home today to pass her Christmas vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Albert. Mr. and Mrs. Albert will be dinner hosts Wednesday for a group of guests, covers being laid for fourteen. Circling the table will be Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Krause, of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Sigel (Helen Krause) also of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Albert, Mrs. J. G. Griffith, Wallace Griffith, Miss Mary Jane Albert, Miss Josephine Albert and the hosts.

Mrs. D. A. Hodge is expecting her daughter, Miss Ruth Hodge, a teacher in the high school at Oakland, Oregon, home for Christmas. Owing to the necessitated closing of schools during the influenza epidemic, the Oakland high school will have vacation only Christmas day. Miss Hodge will probably arrive Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith of Lebanon, who have been the guests of Mr. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Smith at their home on Center street, for a few days, left for Lebanon today. They were returning from Portland where Mr. Smith underwent an operation at the Good Samaritan hospital. Mr. Smith went with a serious automobile accident this summer, from which he never fully recovered, but since the recent surgical operation in Portland has shown a decided improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Livesley accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McDougall returned home yesterday from Portland, having motored up Thursday. Mr. McDougall arrived in Portland Thursday evening from Camp Pike, Arkansas, where he has been stationed for the past six months.

Mrs. Frank Davey, who has been in Astoria the past ten days with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Domogalla, the latter having been seriously ill with pneumonia, is expected home tomorrow. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Domogalla, whose complete recovery will permit of her coming to Salem to join in the family reunion next week. Mr. Domogalla will also arrive for Christmas. Another daughter, Mrs. J. C. Bowen and her three children, of Baker county, Oregon who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Davey since Thanksgiving will remain over for the holidays. They expect to be joined next week by Mr. Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Davey are also anticipating the arrival of their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Davey of Portland, at Christmas time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Spriggs, of Portland, will be entertained in the city over Christmas as the guests of their daughter, Mrs. F. W. Durbin, Mr. and Mrs. Durbin's daughter, Miss Maude Durbin of Portland, will also be down for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Fargo will entertain as Christmas guests at their residence on North Church street, Mrs. Fargo's sister, Mrs. Edna T. Daily and her father, S. E. Scofield of Riverside acres.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Carrier will be hosts for a Christmas dinner, when they will entertain Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Bell, and two sons, Hugh and Burton of Hekroall and daughter, Miss Lauree Bell of Salem.

MRS. O. P. HOFF was a charming hostess Thursday afternoon, when she entertained the members of the Public Service Commission Club, and a few additional guests at her home on North Fourteenth street in honor of Mrs. Frank J. Miller, who with her husband left for Albany today to reside permanently. Mr. Miller, who has held the position of Public Service Commissioner for some time will go into business at Albany.

As a tribute of the esteem in which Mrs. Miller is held by her friends she was given a handsome silver sandwich tray Thursday afternoon, the presentation being made by Mrs. W. D. Clark. The hours were pleasantly whiled away with needlework and cards. The drawing rooms were brilliantly adorned with masses of holly and roses. The Christmas note was emphasized by a sparkling tree in all its splendor of yuletide trimmings. The archway between the living room and dining room was covered with masses of ivy, suspended from which hung the gala red Christmas bells. The guests circled a beautifully appointed table at the refreshment hour. A Yuletide motif also prevailing in the table adornment. A most effective centerpiece was obtained by the arrangement of antique brass candelabra, containing crimson candles with soft shades of the same hue, around a circular mirror, a double glow being thus afforded from the candles and their mirrored reflection. The candelabra held an added attraction in view of the fact that they were a keepsake from Norway, the home of Mr. Hoff.

The club members enjoying this affair were: Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Fred Buchtel, Mrs. H. H. Corey, Mrs. W. D. Clark, Mrs. Ed Wright, Mrs. Spencer Wortman, Mrs. C. I. Kephart, Mrs. W. P. Ellis, Mrs. W. T. Neill. Additional guests numbered Mrs. F. E. Shafer, Mrs. A. T. Johnson, Mrs. W. F. Buchner, Mrs. S. S. East, Mrs. G. E. Schueman.

Mr. and Mrs. William Burghardt, Jr. will be among the Salem folk, who will partake of the Yuletide festivities in Portland, going down next Tuesday to pass Christmas day with friends.

Among the Salem girls attending the Oregon Agricultural College, who are arriving home for a fortnight's Christmas vacation are Miss Gertrude East, the daughter of Mrs. S. S. East and Miss Dorothy Buchner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Buchner.

Miss Harriet Griffith is among the school maids of the younger set in Salem to return home for the holiday festivities. She is expected down tonight from Portland, where she is attending Miss Catlin's school. Miss Griffith is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Griffith.

Miss Constance Cartwright, an instructor at Pacific University, will enjoy a week's vacation at her home in Grove, having come down from Forest Salem last night.

Miss Margery Kay arrived home last night from Eugene, to enjoy a two week's vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kay. Miss Kay is a popular University of Oregon student.

Mrs. John Maurer has returned from a pleasant visit at Eugene, where she passed several days this week as the guest of Mrs. Vernon Parsons.

Mrs. C. W. Beckett was hostess for the members of the Sweet Briar club Wednesday afternoon at her home on the Wallace road. The meeting was a most delightful one assuming the nature of the club's annual Christmas gathering. The chandeliers were entwined with clusters of ivy, from which were suspended the over festive crimson Christmas bells. The pleasurable custom of exchanging dainty gifts among the members was also carried out this season as usual, in connection with the Christmas meeting. Reasonable refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Earl Beckett.

Ten club members enjoyed the afternoon. Mrs. Mary Ferguson and Mrs. Moses Adams were asked as additional guests. The club will be entertained next time by Mrs. John Ferguson.

Mrs. Ralph White will entertain the members of her dancing classes next week at two attractively planned parties to be given at Cottillon hall. Her Wednesday night class will assemble for an evening of dancing Friday night. All former adult pupils of Mrs. White's are extended an invitation to this affair as well as those of this season. Dancing will begin at nine o'clock. The little people in the juvenile class will be given a gay juvenile party Saturday afternoon from two to four at Cottillon hall.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. A. Moyer and son, Lealand, went to Portland today to enjoy a few days' visit with Mrs. Moyer's daughters, Mrs. George Cooper and Mrs. Harold Forrest. They will return home Tuesday.

Barl Withycombe returned Tuesday from Washington, D. C., where he has recently been released from the service. Mr. Withycombe will pass the holidays in Salem with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Withycombe. The first of the year Mr. Withycombe will re-assume his position at the state house as a member of the highway commission, which he formerly held before entering the service.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hunt and daughter, Miss Helen Hunt, will be the guests of relatives near Sublimity over Christmas.

Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Steeves will entertain several house guests over the holidays. Among them being Miss Grace

Miss Irene Curtis was among the O. A. C. girls returning to Salem today to spend the vacation week with her mother, Mrs. L. G. Curtis.

Mrs. T. C. Smith will have as guests next week, her mother, Mrs. M. A. Goff, and her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. T. Howard Drake, of Portland.

Mrs. John Lewis Hunt and Mrs. Anna Read of Portland will be entertained over Christmas as the guests of Mrs. O. P. Hoff.

Miss Ada Ross, who is on the faculty of the McMinnville high school, came home last night to spend her vacation in Salem. The McMinnville schools have been closed again owing to a renewed outbreak of influenza, but unless there is a marked increase in cases they will re-open January first. Miss Ross will remain in the city until then.

Miss Theresa Fowle will pass the holidays with her mother, Mrs. W. P. Fowle, at their home on North Capitol street. She arrived last night from Drain, where she has been substituting in the local high school the past few weeks. Miss Fowle is an instructor in the Bend high school, but owing to the fact that the Bend schools have not resumed work since the initial outbreak of influenza, and will not reopen till the first of the year, she has been filling a vacancy at Drain, during the remainder of the school term.

A reception and dinner was given by the Woman's Relief Corps today, when the husbands, members of the Grand Army of the Republic, and their wives, were invited, the occasion being the annual family reunion held at Christmas, with General and Mrs. W. H. Byars, whose golden wedding anniversary occurs next Monday, as the honor guests.

At eleven o'clock a reception line was formed, headed by the new president, Mrs. Alice Caldwell, the honor guests, General and Mrs. Byars, Commander Huddelson of Sedgwick Post, Mrs. Ida M. Babcock, first department president of Oregon, Mrs. Lizzie W. Smith, also a past department president of Oregon, Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Stolz, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Halley.

A table was reserved in the banquet room for all past commanders, past presidents and the honor guests, dainty place cards marking their places. The rooms were beautifully decorated with greens as a background, while to the fore and every side the national colors were displayed. Suggesting the occasion and as a tribute to the great event so near at hand in the lives of the honor guests, yellow was used profusely in the table decorations. A most interesting program was also given in an aptly observance of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hall (Priscilla Fleming) of Portland, will be guests over Christmas, of Mrs. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Fleming.

An enjoyable reunion will take place at the home of Mrs. William Goodrich over the holidays, when the families of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Savage of Tillamook, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Simeral and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Patton of Portland will assemble in Salem for the family gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Burns will entertain as their guests over the holidays their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Burns and children of Portland. Another son, W. P. Burns, will come up from Portland also for the family reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hunt and daughter, Miss Helen Hunt, will be the guests of relatives near Sublimity over Christmas.
