

SOCIETY

By CAROL S. DIBBLE

SOCIAL and musical interest of the next fortnight is centered in the Apollo club concert to be given on the evening of January tenth at the Opera House. Six hundred invitations have been issued for the affair, which promises to be the outstanding musical event of the season. Mrs. Winifred Fahy of Victoria, B. C., is to be featured as the soloist of the evening. She will give five numbers in the course of the program.

The program which contains numbers of exceptional merit, has been subject to faithful and constant rehearsal for several months. It comprises the following selections, which will be the privilege of the audience bidden by the Apollo club to enjoy at the approaching concert:

- Sitar Spangled Banner
- Ecce Quam Bonum
- Part I
- Winter Song Bullard
- The Night has a Thousand Eyes
- My Lady Cloe Van Der Stucken
- Solo Mrs. Winifred Fahy of Victoria
- Maid of the Valley Herbeck
- Forest Harp Schultz
- Part II
- King and Bard Hagar
- Belle Me If all Those Endearing Young Charms Brewer
- Solo Mrs. Winifred Fahy

He Who Trusts Ladies Fair—Esenhoffer
March of the Men of Haddock—Brewer
Bernice F. Clark, pianist, John W. Todd, conductor, Justice Geo. H. Burnett, president, Frank Deckebach, vice president, W. T. Jenks, secretary.

Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Smith threw open their home to the members of the Merry-Go-Round club and several additional guests last night, in accordance with the yearly custom of holding the Christmas party of the club at the home of the president, which office is being filled this year by Dr. Smith. The rooms were brilliant with Yuletide greenery artistically arranged throughout. A sparkling Christmas tree was also a gala decorative feature.

The evening was devoted to five hundred and as usual, the prize money was turned over to the Red Cross coffers. The high score honors fell to Mrs. Russell Catlin and Dr. Frank E. Smith of Portland.

A delectable supper was served in the dining room, which was further elaborated with holiday decorations, a red and green color scheme being beautifully carried out in the general adornment. The walls were effectively decked with Christmas wreaths and garlands, while the table ornamentation was especially unique. Each of the long tables was centered with a miniature French chalet, which was a clever bit of hand work done by members of the institution for the feeble minded. These tiny wooden cottages were set in diminutive clumps of evergreens, and white roofed, as they were, presented a most realistic impression of the familiar snow pictured scenes of Swiss chalets nestled at the foot of the Alps. The hosts were assisted in serving their guests by their daughter and son-in-law of Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Powers.

MRS. RICHARD LACY (Carrie Cooksey) popular Willamette university graduate, the announcement of whose marriage to a prominent rancher of Illinois this week, caused a ripple of surprise among Salem friends.

Cards have been received by Salem friends announcing the marriage of Miss Carrie Hounbold Cooksey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Cooksey of 1625 Court street, Salem, to Richard Lacy, of Kansas, Illinois, on December 22nd. The nuptials were solemnized at Indianapolis, Ind., at the Central Avenue church, Dr. Orin W. Fifer of York, Nebr., the former home of the bride's family, officiating. The ceremony was performed at 3 o'clock, the simplicity of the ring service marking the plighting of the young couple's troth.

The bride was attractively attired in a traveling tulleur of chiffon broad cloth of midnight blue, trimmed in Hudson seal. She wore a chic taupe hat with accessories to match and a beautiful orange bouquet of orchids.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Lacy left on a short honeymoon trip. They will be at home to their friends after the first of the year at the attractive country home of the bridegroom near Kansas, Illinois.

Mrs. Lacy is well known in Salem, claiming a large circle of friends among the college set, being a popular member of the 1917 class at Willamette university. She took a leading part in a variety of college activities, having at one time been president of the Adalante society. She was also society editor of the university paper, The Collegian.

The wedding was the culmination of a childhood friendship, which ripened into romance a year ago when Mrs. Lacy and her parents visited their old home in the east. Mr. Lacy is a prominent stock raiser of Illinois.

Mrs. Lacy left for the east over three weeks ago. Prior to the date of the wedding she visited in Borolun, Indiana as the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Della Fribley.

A notable and gracious New Year's eve custom will prevail as usual on Tuesday night at the George H. Burnett home, 385 North High street, when Judge and Mrs. Burnett will commemorate their wedding anniversary by holding "open house" for their Salem friends. This felicitous observance of their wedding day has marked every anniversary since their marriage, this being the thirty-ninth year since the event took place. About fifty old time friends of Judge and Mrs. Burnett usually call during the evening, taking welcome proffer of the opportunity to watch the old year out.

A pleasant informal gathering of the week was that bringing together a congenial group of neighborhood friends at the home of Mrs. S. M. Endicott on north Church street Christmas eve. The hours were merrily whiled away with five-hundred, four tables being arranged for the players.

A profusion of holiday greens decked the rooms. A dainty lunch was served later, the table being handsomely centered with red carnations. The hostess was assisted in serving by Miss Genevieve Endicott.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denton will go down to Portland tomorrow to enjoy the family holiday reunion at the home of Mr. Denton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Denton. Also participating in the gathering will be Mr. and Mrs. Carl Denton of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denton plan to return home Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brunk of Marshfield will return home tomorrow, after a week's visit in Salem with relatives.

The golden wedding anniversary of General and Mrs. W. H. Byars was celebrated Sunday, Dec. 22, at their home, 635 north Commercial street. The home was beautifully decorated in Christmas greens, mistletoe, ivy, holly and ferns being used profusely throughout the hall, reception and living rooms. Greens effectively made the background in the dining room, the predominating color being yellow. Colored lights cast a soft glow over the centerpiece, which consisted of a gilt art basket filled with ferns and small orange trees, with ripe, luscious fruit growing thereon and tied with yards of golden ribbon. Handpainted place cards in the same shades marked the places for seventeen guests around the table at the dinner hour, with Honorable Benton Mires, of Drain, Ore., a brother of Mr. Byars, acting as toastmaster. Those responding to toasts were: the first born, a daughter, Mrs. S. W. Thompson; the eldest son, William F. Byars, of Goldendale, Wash., a sister, Mrs. C. L. Hadley, of Roseburg; a grandson, Stephen Elmo Wright; a son-in-law, Ronald C. Glover. Impromptu addresses by other guests were also made. Many beautiful gifts, cards and congratulatory letters poured in from various parts of the state and were arranged on a table, the center of which was a miniature Christmas tree, emblematic of the Yuletide. A letter was received from Capt. Alfred H. Byars, who with Lieut. Morton Hadley, a nephew of the couple, are in France. Additional guests, called in the evening and dainty refreshments were served, the entire day being well spent and one to be long remembered by those present. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hadley, of Roseburg, Ore., Hon. Benton Mires, of Drain, Ore., William F. Byars, of Goldendale, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Wright and children, Loraine and Ronald; Stephen Elmo Wright, Vera May Wright, Mrs. S. W. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald C. Glover, all of Salem.

Mrs. William P. Lord, Jr., of Portland, who has been spending the past week in the city at the Lord residence on south High street will return home tomorrow. She will be joined over the week end by Mr. Lord, who will accompany her home tomorrow evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Doran were hosts Christmas day at a seven course dinner given at their home, 504 North Church street for a small company of guests. The table decorations were of a Christmas character, poinsettias intermingled with ferns furnishing the predominating color note of red and green. The dining room was further prettily adorned with the glowing crimson holly.

Covers were placed for Rev. Father Buck, Rev. Father Naughton, Mr. and Mrs. F. Webber of Portland, Miss Anna Mullen, Miss Catherine Reese of Dallas, Miss Nelly Hay and the hosts.

Make This Store Headquarters for

Victor and Pathe Records

Roll music for Player Pianos

Victrolas

Pathe

Your old machine taken in exchange for a new one

E. L. Stiff & Son

448 Court Street

Salem, Oregon.

CHRISTMAS day jubilation culminated in a delightfully gay fashion for a merry throng of the younger set Wednesday night, when Mr. and Mrs. Ralph White entertained in honor of their daughter, Miss Margaret White, with a lovely dancing party at Cotillion hall. As the radiant maids in colorful and modish frocks joined with their escorts in the grand march, led by Miss White and Knut Dignerness of Silverton, the scene took on the effect of a veritable fairyland ball, a brilliant flash and play of myriad lights sparkling through a maze of Yuletide greenery.

The sides of the hall were banked with evergreens, the orchestra being also partially screened by a massed arrangement of woody boughs. Clusters of mistletoe and fernery added another seasonal touch to the general decorative scheme. Crimson fringed shades over each light cast a soft glow upon the dancers. Festoons of twinkling silver stars were jauntily swung between the chandeliers, while a resplendent Christmas tree gleamed in the center of the floor.

An enchanting feature of the evening was the butterfly dance done by Miss Genevieve Barber and Miss Jeanette Sykes, who following a moment's interim of darkness suddenly appeared etched against the dusky branches of the Christmas tree. In their realistic guise of exquisite butterflies they fluttered and poised and winged through a graceful minuet of dance steps.

These dainty maids also distributed the programs, from festive baskets adorned with red pompons. Later in the evening they presided at the punch table.

The receiving line included Mr. and Mrs. White, Miss White, Miss Nell Sykes, Miss Lucille DeWitt and Miss Isabelle George.

The guest list numbered: Miss Marine Dignerness, Miss Annabelle Golden, Miss Edna Satterlee, Miss Gretchen Brown, Miss Edna Ackerman, Miss Mildred Gill, Miss Mary Bayne, Miss Alice McClellan, Miss Ina Proctor, Miss Clara Breitenstein, Miss Amelia Babecek, Miss Helen Rose, Miss Grace Humphreys, Miss Helen Lovell, Miss Lucille Jones, Miss Veva Golden, Miss Catherine Slade, Miss Ella Anderson, Miss Emma Snook, Miss Jessie Gibson, Miss Marie Breitenstein, Miss Marshall, Miss Lucille Patton, Miss George Bewley, Miss Ila Spaulding, Miss Vivian Hagrove, Miss Marjorie Brown, Miss Opal George, Miss Pearl George, Miss Mary Jane Albert, Miss Bernice Craig, Miss Marie Briggs, Miss Mary West, Miss Lenore Koon, Miss Maud McCoy, Miss Ruth Schultz, Miss Caroline East, Miss Mona Schaum, Miss Miriam Swartz, Miss Birdean Myers, Miss Frances Ward, Miss Elsie Victor, Miss Mabelle Hunter, Miss Dorothy Esch, Miss Leah Nichols, Miss Florence Elgin, Miss Dorothy Hubbs, Miss Rita Claggett, Miss Lucille DeWitt, Miss Isabelle George, Miss Margaret Goodin, Miss Marybelle Reinhart, Miss Mamal Victor, Knut Dignerness, Garnet Harris, Harold Millard, Clifford Townsend, Armin Burger, Earl McDonough, Dolph Craig, Hugh Latham, Amory Gill, Marc Latham, Arthur Ross, Dewey Hamill, Johnny Griffith, Herbert Darby, Arthur Rosebraugh, Kenneth Wilson, Bernard Nutting, Bob Newton, Frank Chapman, John Lucker, Kenneth Power, Don Lockwood, Wallace Carson, Evan Jones, Paul Staley, Wyndham Buren, Wolcott Buren, Reed Rowland Harlan, Hunt, Carl Booth, Paul Sterling, Claude Darby, Lester Judd, Max Moon, Harold Moon, Glenn Nichols, Bill Ashby, Ralph Hamilton, Frank Deckebach, Malcolm Smith, Harold Walling, Dick Goodin, Lyle Bartholomew, Richard Slater, Lowell White, Lamont Bullock, Warren Brasher, Leslie Springer, Evin Lantis, Roland Reinhart, Clifford Wilson, Chalmers George, Jessie George, Frank Reinhart, John Brown.

A large circle of friends will regret to hear that Miss Lucille Watson is ill with influenza at the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland, where she has been visiting relatives over the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mott of Portland, who were guests this week at the home of Mr. Mott's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Mott on north Commercial street, returned home Thursday evening. James Mott, another son, who was released from the S. A. T. C. at the University of Oregon just before the holidays, left for Astoria Thursday evening to resume the law practice in which he was engaged before the war.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Laflair entertained a group of friends Christmas day at a beautiful dinner at their home on south Commercial street. Bidden for the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Smith, and Mrs. Arthur Laflair of Portland and E. F. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Bush enjoyed Christmas day festivities in Portland, where they joined in a pleasurable family reunion. They motored home Wednesday night.

Mrs. Theo. M. Barr and son, Carl, will go to Spokane tomorrow to visit Mrs. Barr's daughter, Helen Barr, who is a Sister at "Our Lady of the Lourdes" convent in that city. This will be the first opportunity Mrs. Barr will have of seeing her daughter since she went into the convent two years ago. The visitors will remain over New Years.

Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Smith are entertaining as house guests this week their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Powers, of Seattle and Dr. and Mrs. Frank E. Smith of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Moores had with them as Christmas guests, Miss Bertha Moores and Miss Carrie Moores of Portland. The visitors are remaining over until the end of the week.

Miss Jean Belle is a week end visitor in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Glover had as Christmas guests, Mrs. Glover's sister, Mrs. Ima B. Martin, of Portland, and niece and nephew, Nancy Virginia and Richard Thompson, of St. Johns.

The Tillicum Dancing club held a Christmas dancing party at the Masonic Temple. The members enjoy these every two weeks.

Mrs. Emmeline Shaw was hostess at a family dinner at her residence on Court street Christmas day. Covers were placed for eight.

Mrs. W. C. Knighton returned to her home in Portland yesterday after a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. E. E. Waters. She was joined for Christmas day by Mr. Knighton.

Mrs. Anna O. Hayes and daughter, Miss Louise Hayes of Portland, arrived in Salem today to pass the weekend as the guests of Mrs. G. A. Wood at her home on North Church street.

Mrs. Walter J. Kirk is entertaining her brother, Harry Howe, of Aberdeen, Wash., who arrived in Salem today en route from Brownsville where he has been visiting over Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Bennett returned Thursday night from Pendleton, where they have been spending the holidays interim.

Mrs. Walter A. Denton presented her pupils in two delightful piano recitals last week. On Thursday night the older pupils had the program, the younger pupils presenting theirs on Friday night. Both recitals were most interesting and the programs excellently rendered, each pupil expressing their individuality in an easy and artistic manner.

Exceptional interest was centered in the children's program Friday night, it being the annual Christmas recital when the visit of Santa Claus is made a gala occasion. The Christmas spirit prevailed, the rooms being decorated beautifully in ferns and Christmas bells and a sparkling trimmed Christmas tree adding to the festive atmosphere. A large American flag was draped in the music room which old Santa Claus asked the children to salute after they with barley and buckwheat flour. The chocolate covers the color and taste of the dark flour so it is practically as good as when made with all white flour.

(Continued on page four)

Greater food value— increased palatability In making chocolate cakes use

BAKER'S CHOCOLATE

This use of cocoa or chocolate increases the food value of the prepared dish.

Booklet of Choice Recipes sent free Walter Baker & Co. Ltd. Established 1789 DORCHESTER, MASS.

D. H. MOSHER High Class Ladies' Tailoring Choice Serge Suits $60 and up 474 Court Street

While we are unable to care for the business that comes to us, we are more than anxious to serve the public in the best possible manner. We would advise and appreciate if those who can would in looking for music and records, do their shopping in the forenoons. We can give you better service in this way. We thank you.

Geo. C. Will

432 State St. "The Reliable Music Dealer" Salem, Oregon.

Why Delay

Ordering that suit or Overcoat. We have nothing but all new wool materials, and make nothing else up at this store.

We all know that with the demand for Woolen Goods in Europe that prices will remain firm in this country. There will be no radical reductions in Woolen Goods. So order that suit now--your old one perhaps rendered you great service and you owe it a rest.

D. H. Mosher

Tailor to Men and Women

447 Court Street

Salem, Oregon.