BRITISH AND FRENCH BUSINESS AHEAD OF AMERICAN SHIPPING

United States Boats Bound For South America Are Idling In Ports.

By James I. Miller (United Press Staff Correspondent.) Buenos Aires, Dec. 30.—British and French businessmen are leaving American trades at the post. Scrutiny of sailings, unloadings and departures in the newspapers is alone sufficient to convince any one that the Europeans enabled to get a flying start by the fact they are given plenty of ships, are gaining an enormous advantage.

It is reported here that at least a score of ships loading for South America are idling in United States harbors. The fact there are practically no sailings from America is unaccountable to Americans here, who are weary of reading about speeches by American officials regarding the great trade future with South America. Month after month has passed and there have been no ships, and no anything, except words. Meanwhile, Americans are taking a back seat, from which they are watching their competitors grabbing all the trade, now rapidly approaching a pre-war basis.

Mails More Frequent. The mails from Europe are much more frequent than those from the United States. Arrival of mail is almost an occasion for celebration by members of the American colony, who are disgusted at what they term the neglect and indifference of the home government toward them. Virulent German propaganda is continuing despite the armistice. The news papers are especially scrupulous in poisoning the minds of the people against the United States and the allies. Within the United States has no organ through which to answer these attacks, Great Britain, France and Italy have.

A leading article in one of these pro-German newspapers headed France Under Invasion. It intimated that the United States is grinding France under its heel, industrially and economically.

CONGRESS URGENTLY DEMANDING LIGHT ON RUSSIAN SITUATION

Senator Johnson Up In Air Because Congress Has Not Been Notified.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Foreign Minister Pinchon's statement to the French chamber of deputies that allied intervention in Russia is inevitable today renewed demands from members of congress for a statement of this government's Russian policy.

Senator Johnson, California, spokesman for those who have been trying to persuade the government to take congress into its confidence with respect to Russia, declared "it is not interesting that in England, Lord Milner, in response to a popular demand, discussed the British policy and in France Pinchon, in response to popular demand, made this statement; but in the United States popular demand has been met with silence." Johnson and other members of both house and senate are daily receiving letters demanding their efforts at getting some light. A large number of these letters come from parents of American soldiers now in Siberia. They plead for the release of their boys from this service, or at least for some news of them.

SEVERAL TRANSPORTS ARE HOMEWARD BOUND

Many Boys From West Will Arrive First Few Days Of January.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Several transports and battleships are now inbound from France with home coming fighters. The list follows: Pastores, due about January 5, at Newport News, with 1176 sick and wounded and a medical detachment. The Powhatan will probably dock January 4 at Newport News with the 127th field artillery regiment, headquarters 59th field artillery brigade, 115th trench mortar battery, casual company number 8 and 352 sick and wounded and a few casual officers. The battleship Georgia probably will arrive January 7, at Newport News, with the Sixth trench mortar battalion complete, 311th trench mortar battery. The battleship Kansas will probably arrive January 7 at Newport News with the Seventh trench mortar battalion, casual companies 339, 328 and 324 and the Third anti-aircraft sector. The battleship North Carolina probably will arrive January 8, at Newport News with the 113th ammunition train headquarters, headquarters company, companies of the F and G headquarters detachment, ordnance and medical detachment 498th aero squadron, marine casual companies numbers 201, 202, 203 and 204. Many of the above troops are from the middle west and far west.

Today's Trading Was Of Million Share Proportions

New York, Dec. 30.—The New York Evening Sun financial review says: Today's stock market was potty and broad and trading was of million share proportions. Conditions, which usually obtain at the end of the year were in some respects accentuated because of that provision of the pending revenue bill regarding allowance of loss in stock market operations in computing income tax.
