

"Oh, What a Comfort! I KNOW I'll Sleep Well, Tonight!"

The sense of restfulness experienced by lying on one of these blankets in bed, cannot be exceeded by any other healthful means. The vibrations of the alternating current produce vibrations in the windings of the blanket, which in turn, cause a faint droning sound that is wonderfully soothing. Such restfulness is the tonic that will build up the nervous system of the sick or overworked person, and in turn, the general health. Why don't YOU investigate this ELECTRIC BLANKET as others have done? THEY have been very glad they spent the time to do so. Ask for Descriptive pamphlet. Phone 85.

COL. TEDDY ROOSEVELT

Continued from page one. It was largely the result of the work of this regiment at the battle of San Juan Hill that Roosevelt returned to New York a popular hero. He was elected governor of New York in 1897 just after the close of the Spanish American war and in 1900 was elected vice president of the United States with President McKinley. President in 1901. On Sept. 14, 1901, Roosevelt became president on President McKinley's assassination. On November 8, 1904, Roosevelt was elected President by the largest popular majority ever given a candidate. In 1912 after he had declined from the presidency he announced his candidacy to succeed William Howard Taft. He became the candidate of the Progressive party which he organized at Chicago after the Republican party had declined to accept him as its candidate. His popularity and grip on the people was such that even opposed to the two old line parties, he polled a tremendous vote, being defeated by Woodrow Wilson. Taft was third. It was during this campaign that Roosevelt narrowly escaped death when a bullet intended for him by John Schrank in Milwaukee struck the case containing his spectacles and was deflected from his lungs through his shoulder. His health has been poor since the attack. Schrank was sent to a Wisconsin asylum. As police commissioner of the city of New York, Roosevelt made a record in cleaning things up, braving dangers no one ever had dared before him in order to sweep the city clean. He was twice married, the first time to Alice Hathaway Lee daughter of George Easton Lee. She died in 1884. His second wife was Edith Kermit Carow, daughter of Charles Carow of New York, whom he married in 1886. She survives him. One Son Killed. One son, Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt, was shot down in an airplane on the western front last June. He had two daughters, Alice, daughter of his first wife, who married Congressman Nicholas Longworth of Cincinnati, Ohio; and Ethel, who married Dr. Richard Derby. Roosevelt was for many years contributing editor of the Outlook, and later to the Metropolitan. Recently, he had been working for the Kansas City Star. As an explorer he gained considerable fame. The River of Doubt in South America was mapped by him. Immediately after leaving the presidency he went on a big game hunting trip to Africa where the natives called him "Bwana Twomblo." He wrote a number of books on big game hunting and out door life and died in the midst of his trophies. The man who, with Roosevelt at the end was James Amos, a negro who has been his personal attendant ever since he was in the white house. A slight convulsion of the colonel's face was noticeable by Amos who called the nurse. Before the funeral at Christ church, there will be a service at the house. Captain Roosevelt in Boston. Boston, Jan. 6.—Captain Archie Roosevelt, who was here to attend a funeral of his father in law left for Oyster Bay early today when notified of Colonel Roosevelt's death. Prominent Men Express Regret. Washington, Jan. 6.—"I am profoundly sorry to hear of Colonel Roosevelt's death," said Speaker Champ Clark. "Personally, I thought a great deal of him and regarded him as one of the most remarkable men this country ever produced. I am greatly surprised and shocked." Senator New, Indiana: "The country has lost its foremost citizen. Colonel Roosevelt was a great American and a great patriot." Senator Kenyon, Iowa: "Colonel Roosevelt's death distresses me. In my judgment he was our greatest American." Bryan Eulogizes Roosevelt. Baltimore, Jan. 6.—William Jennings Bryan expressed keen regret today at Colonel Roosevelt's death. "He was a true American," said Bryan, "and his picturesque career will form a fascinating chapter in our national history. His presence would be a comfort to our people."

CHILDREN IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS MORE THAN 100 PERCENT LOYAL

Boys And Girls In Oregon Sold $2,500,000 Worth Thrift Stamps And W.S.S.

Boys and girls in the public schools of Oregon have sold $2,500,000 worth of thrift stamps and war saving certificates, according to the biennial report of A. Churchill, superintendent of public instruction. The report deals almost entirely with the war work accomplished by the schools since this nation entered the world war.

During the school year of 1917-1918 five junior Rainbow regiments, each with a membership of 1000 boys and girls who had sold not less than $50 worth of thrift stamps each, were organized in the schools.

The schools also made a wonderful success of getting signatures to the Hoover pledge cards in the early days of the war.

The superintendent of public instruction closed his report of the war work by saying that "the work has given the people of Oregon an opportunity to test the teachings of the public school teachers of this state. To the thoughtful person the spirit manifested through out the war by our teachers shows that in the years past they have had in Oregon teachers devoted to their government, teaching lessons of good citizenship and that it was only through the war that the value of their direct work has been brought to the public attention."

"The patriotic work of the public school teachers in Oregon reached every home and there kept the fires of patriotism burning. This fact and the fact that Oregon has a higher percentage of her boys and girls in the public schools than any other state, to a certain extent explains why at the close of the school year 1917-1918 Oregon had 25,000 young men serving their country, the largest number in proportion to population, of any state in the union; why in the first three liberty loans, Oregon subscribed 140 per cent of the aggregate quotas; why the people of this state oversubscribed the first Y. M. C. A. war fund 25 per cent; oversubscribed the second 33 per cent; oversubscribed the first Red Cross war fund 73 per cent; oversubscribed the second 60 per cent; obtained the highest Red Cross membership in proportion to population of any state and why the homes of Oregon voluntarily went upon the "no wheat" basis during the dark days of the early summer of 1918, that more flour might go to our boys in France and our allies. This same creditable record extends to every phase of war work."

SPANISH INFLUENZA—WHAT IT IS AND HOW IT SHOULD BE TREATED

Nothing New—Simply The Old Grip, Or La Grippe, That Was Epidemic In 1889-90, Only Then It Came From Russia By Way Of France And This Time By Way Of Spain.

Go to Bed and Stay Quiet—Take a Laxative—Eat Plenty of Nourishing Food—Keep Up Your Strength—Nature is the Only "Cure"

ALWAYS CALL A DOCTOR

NO OCCASION FOR PANIC

Spanish influenza, which appeared in Spain in May, has all the appearance of grip or la grippe, which has swept over the world in numerous epidemics as far back as history runs. Hippocrates refers to an epidemic in 412 B. C., which is regarded by many to have been influenza. Every century has had its attacks. Beginning with 1831, this country has had five epidemics, the last in 1889-90.

There is no occasion for panic—influenza itself has a very low percentage of fatalities—not over one death out of every four hundred cases, according to the N. C. Board of Health. The chief danger lies in complications arising, attacking principally patients in a run down condition—those who don't go to bed soon enough, or those who get up too early.

THE SYMPTOMS

Grip, or influenza, as it is now called, usually begins with a chill followed by aching, feverishness and sometimes nausea and dizziness and a general feeling of weakness and depression. The temperature is from 100 to 104, and the fever usually lasts from three to five days. The germs attack the mucous membrane, or lining of the air passages—nose, throat and bronchial tubes—there is usually a hard cough, especially bad at night, often times sore throat or tonsillitis, and frequently all the appearances of a severe cold.

THE TREATMENT

Go to bed at the first symptoms, not only for your own sake, but to avoid spreading the disease to others—take a purgative, eat plenty of nourishing food, remain perfectly quiet and don't worry. Quinine, Aspirin or Dover's Powder, etc., may be administered by the physician, directions to relieve the aching. But there is no cure or specific for influenza—the disease must run its course, but nature herself will throw off the attack if only you keep up your strength. The chief danger lies in the complications which may arise. Influenza so weakens the bodily resistance that there is danger of pneumonia or bronchitis developing and sometimes inflammation of the middle ear, or heart affections. For these reasons, it is very important that the patient remain in bed until his strength returns—stay in bed at least two days or more after the fever has left you, or if you are over 50 or not strong stay in bed four days or more, according to the severity of the attack.

EXTERNAL APPLICATIONS

In order to stimulate the lining of the air passages to throw off the grip germs, to aid in loosening the phlegm and keeping the air passages open, thus making the breathing easier, Vick's VapoRub will be found effective. Hot, wet towels should be applied over the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. The VapoRub should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red, spread on thickly and covered with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck as the heat of the body liberates the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication directly to the parts affected. At the same time, VapoRub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the surface and thus aids in relieving the congestion within.

HOW TO AVOID THE DISEASE

Evidence seems to prove that this is a germ disease, spread principally by human contact, chiefly through coughing, sneezing or spitting. So avoid persons having colds—which means avoiding crowds—common drinking cups, roller towels, etc. Keep up your bodily strength by plenty of exercise in the open air, and good food.

KEEP FREE FROM COLDS

Above all, keep free from colds, as colds irritate the lining of the air passages and render them much better breeding places for the germs. Use Vick's VapoRub at the very first sign of a cold. For a head cold, melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors, or better still, use VapoRub in a brass steam kettle. If this is not available, use an ordinary tea kettle. Fill half full of boiling water, put in half a teaspoon of VapoRub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling, and inhale the steam arising.

NOTE: Vick's VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist, who found how to combine, in salve form, Menthol and Camphor with such essential oils as Eucalyptus, Thyme, Cubeb, etc., so that when the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapors.

VapoRub is comparatively new in New York, New England and a few western states, where it is just now being introduced. In other sections of the country, however, it is the standard home remedy in over a million homes for all forms of cold troubles—more than six million jars were sold last year.

It is particularly recommended for children's croup or colds, since it is externally applied and, therefore, can be used as freely as desired without the slightest harmful effects. VapoRub can be had in three sizes—30c, 60c, $1.20—at all druggists.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat And Take Salts For Backache Or Bladder Trouble—Neutralizes Acids.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog, you must help them flush out the body's uric acid waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.
