

SOCIETY

By CAROL S. DIBBLE

Mrs. Joanne Burke of Grants Pass, Rebekah assembly president, met with her executive committee yesterday afternoon in regard to the Rebekah assembly to be held here in May. Mrs. Burke was entertained by Mrs. Pascal Traglio, assisted by Mrs. H. G. Henderson, Noble Grand of the Salem Rebekah lodge.

Mrs. Burke went on to Gervais last evening to be present at the local lodge meeting there. She will return to Salem Friday to confer with officers of the grand lodge. Before going back to Grants Pass she will visit friends in and near Portland for some time.

Mrs. Alexander Thompson, recording secretary of the State Federation of Women's clubs, has resigned her office and the president, Mrs. Charles Carter, has named Mrs. H. F. Davidson of Hood River, to serve in her place until the next meeting of the executive board, when the vacancy will be filled. All club dues should be addressed to Mrs. Davidson in Hood River until further notice.

Mrs. Thompson is also a member of the state legislature, as representative from Wasco county. Mrs. Thompson is expected to arrive in Salem Sunday.

Mrs. A. E. Ivanhoe of La Grande, was a Salem visitor last week. Mrs. Ivanhoe is county school superintendent of Union county and came to the Capital city on a short business trip.

A host of friends are welcoming the return home of Fritz Slade, who arrived in Salem Monday night from Camp Hancock, Virginia, having been released from duty. Mr. Slade entered the service over a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bailey of Omaha, Nebraska, arrived in Salem the first of the week for an indefinite visit with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Colony, who are passing the winter in Oregon as the guests of Mr. Colony's mother, Mrs. E. E. Colony, at her home, 170 North 21st street. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey will return east by the California route.

Mrs. R. W. Walton, who has been spending several weeks in Salem with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Smith at their home on Center street, while the Lebanon schools have been closed during the influenza outbreak, will return to Lebanon the latter part of the week. Mrs. Walton is a teacher in the Lebanon high school.

Miss Mabel Boughey, a teacher in the Independence schools, which are closed on account of the influenza epidemic, is spending her enforced vacation in Silverton with her sister.

Miss Mabel Withycombe returned today from Portland, where she has been spending a few days. She was accompanied by Mrs. John Withycombe of Labish Meadows.

The local Y. W. C. A. board is congratulating itself upon so successfully filling the position of secretary which was left vacant by the recent resignation of Miss Florence Cleveland, in the appointment of Mrs. Bessie B. Kimball. Mrs. Kimball has been actively associated with the Y. W. C. A. since June, having had competent charge of the home life of the association and the house mothers.

Prior to her arrival in Salem Mrs. Kimball was engaged in Y. W. C. A. work at Seattle, besides being a zealous participant in Red Cross and other welfare activities. She has since devoted herself assiduously to endeavors of this nature in Salem. During her stay in the city Mrs. Kimball has gained a large circle of friends, who are expressing their keen pleasure over her decision to remain in Salem. She is an alumna of Ohio Western university.

A large number of Salem friends of Miss Edith Carter Kuey will be glad to hear that she is rapidly recovering from a recent attack of influenza. Miss Kuey is an instructor in the Lewis and Clark high school at Spokane.

A most interesting program had been arranged for the January meeting of the Salem Woman's club, which was to have been held Saturday afternoon, but is necessarily postponed in accordance with the board of health regulations. Mrs. La Moine Clark was to have been the speaker of the afternoon and had chosen as her subject "Salem's Youngest Citizen." It is hoped that this same program may be given later, if it is found convenient to hold two meetings in February instead of the one regular monthly meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Scott have returned from a pleasant holiday sojourn in Portland.

Lieutenant William D. Pearson of Portland is a house guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Delano, 1530 State street for a few days.

A wedding that came as a surprise to many friends in Salem was that of Miss Ruth E. Thayer of Portland to Oscar H. Smith, formerly of Salem. The ceremony was performed by Dr. A. L. Hutchison of the Presbyterian church Saturday, January 4th.

Mr. Smith is a son of Mrs. O. G. Smith, 653 North Winter street and a brother of Mrs. Ruth Cook, Mrs. Roscoe Dickey, Archie H. of Camp Lewis, William M. in France and Fred J. Smith. Mr. Smith has just recently been discharged from the quartermasters corps at Fort McDowell, California. He is associated with a jewelry firm in Portland where they will make their home.

county was another legislator who promised to boost the game incidentally, he wanted an appropriation to improve the road between Wasco and Moro. He said that the county had $15,000 with which to cooperate. He also suggested an improvement eastward to Cottonwood creek to connect with the John Day highway. The commission told him they would consider these things after the session of the legislature.

But we gotta have it, Ma'am," exclaimed one of them.

They told her why. Almost a day's travel from Aisles-Bains they had come upon a little school house. The little French children, taught by an old man, had trooped out and had saluted the American soldiers. They were the first children the boys had seen in months. Now they wanted to go back and take the youngsters some candy. They had permission from their officers and the only thing that they lacked was the candy.

"We gotta go," they said again. "We told the kids we'd come back with some candy for them. We said it in English but they got us all right. We promised. Please sell it to us, Ma'am."

They got it, of course. Then they set off casually on their errand, just two plain American privates, gladly giving up two days of their precious leave so that the little French children they had seen but once before might have some candy—hard candy, something that lasts.

The commission saw no reason for continuing to defer the location until there was some prospect of agreement between partisans of the two routes.

In his communication to the council he noted the fact that the city jail was in poor state of repair and that the iron beds used for prisoners were in need of springs. There was also a need of suitable bedding. The walls of the jail also needed whitewashing.

AFTER SUFFERING A WHOLE YEAR

Mrs. King Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Iola, Kansas.—"I was a constant sufferer from female trouble for about a year. I had pains in back and stomach, in fact all over me, and was all rundown. A friend of mine was cured of the same trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and it gave me health and strength and made a new woman of me. I cannot praise your Vegetable Compound too highly, and you may publish my testimonial as it may be the means of helping some other suffering woman."—Mrs. IRENE KING, 105 West Campbell Street, Iola, Kansas.

The great number of unsolicited testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory, many of which are from time to time published by permission, are proof of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, in the treatment of female ills.

Every ailing woman in the United States is cordially invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free, ready to bring you health and may save your life.

YANKEES JUST HAD TO HAVE THAT CANDY

Were Finally Prevailed Upon To Tell That Sweets Were For French "Kids."

Paris, Dec. 10.—(By Mail).—They edged up in front of the canteen counter of a W. M. C. A. hut at Aix-les-Bains and demanded candy, two privates just back from Luxembourg.

"Something that lasts," one of them said, and displayed disappointment because there weren't any all-day suckers. Each bought the maximum amount that may be sold to any one soldier.

Presently they were back again, this time coming in a little more warily, but with the same determination in their eyes. "Again they wanted candy, a lot of candy." "Mother" Anderson with the red triangle on her arm and known to every soldier who has ever been on leave at Aix-les-Bains, came up to explain why no more sweets could be sold to them. The two soldiers looked heart broken.

"But we gotta have it, Ma'am," exclaimed one of them.

They told her why.

Then they told her why. Almost a day's travel from Aix-les-Bains they had come upon a little school house. The little French children, taught by an old man, had trooped out and had saluted the American soldiers. They were the first children the boys had seen in months. Now they wanted to go back and take the youngsters some candy. They had permission from their officers and the only thing that they lacked was the candy.

They got it, of course. Then they set off casually on their errand, just two plain American privates, gladly giving up two days of their precious leave so that the little French children they had seen but once before might have some candy—hard candy, something that lasts.

SAYS HE FELT LIKE A BABY ELEPHANT

On The Verdun Front When Germans Were Shelling; He Couldn't Find a Hole.

Gilbert J. Kennen of the 357 infantry medical detachment compares some of his experiences on the Verdun front to playing baseball in a letter to his father O. C. Kennen, 495 North 21st street, Salem. He writes under date of Nov. 25, 1918, as follows:

"The war is over and we come out on top. The last two innings the German battery gave out. Their pitchers' arms gave out entirely. We put a new man in the box and they couldn't touch him. The last inning, all we did was to knock home runs.

"Believe me, it was some game. I have played in several games but they were all just like playing house compared to this one. Several times I thought I was going to be let out and have someone put in my place. But I held out through all nine innings. I knew we were going to win all the time. The morning of Nov. 11 I was at one of those pleasure resorts around Verdun. It is a fine pleasure resort but a poor health resort. A man is liable to get lended any time. Fritz has a very large hardware business with Uncle Sam and he has a funny way of delivering it. It is air transportation. When you hear it coming through the air, it sounds like a box car going about 60 per, with the door open.

"At the same time a person has a desire to dive in a hole and pull the opening in after him. And, believe me, we sure did it. If there were no holes to get in, we would make a dive like sliding for first base. When a person is lying flat on the ground with hard-ware hitting all around, he feels about as big as a baby elephant. But at the same time there is no hole to get into. "But now since Fritz has filled his order with Uncle Sam, things are more quiet over here. It doesn't seem real not to hear a few big guns. We are in a French village. Yesterday we hiked 25 kilometers and I was in new shoes and they sure did rattle the dickens with me. We passed through a corner of Belgium on the march.

"But I want to tell you I am coming home soon, that is, as soon as possible. And I think I will stay there some time. This is my third Christmas away from home and it seems like fifty but my next one will be at home."

Court House Notes

In the case of Frank M. Ford against Richard L. Swartz, the court decided that Sheriff Needham was entitled to recover $200 as a reasonable fee. The swinmill and equipment on the W. M. Grant farm are involved in the litigation.

In the case of Carl Beckett against S. W. Thompson, the defendant has served notice that he will require as evidence the note of Carl and Russell Beckett to Kenneth Blair and Nell Blair for $700.

J. Baumgartner has brought suit for $1260.67 against Lela M. Jerman, Edward D. Jerman and Merze Odessa Jerman. The suit is on a note for $1000 dated Oct. 3, 1914 secured by mortgage on 330 acres.

In the county court, in the matter of the estate of W. W. Lander who died Dec. 14, 1918, the court admitted the will to probate and appointed Bertha Lander as executrix without filing bond. The estate is valued at about $4000 and Hugh Aspinwall, W. I. Gaskill and Miss Olga Gray were appointed appraisers.

Now that the calls for Red Cross work are not so insistent, the women of Salem are doing good work in cook-

COCONUT OIL FINE FOR WASHING HAIR

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain unrefined coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get unrefined coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.
