STAYTON NEWS

(Capital Journal Special Service.)
 Stayton, Or., Jan. 9.—Dr. G. F. Korinek of Portland spent Sunday at the Alexander home.
 Miss Margaret Fehon returned to Portland Sunday after a visit with relatives here.
 Mrs. J. F. Lau, one of the teachers in the Stayton schools, is confined to her home with the flu.
 Several new cases of influenza are reported, and as no ban or quarantine is enforced, there is a good prospect that new cases will continue until it has visited every person in the community. Why laws should be passed without any expectation of enforcing them is one of the questions to be left for some intelligent legislator to answer.
 Mr. and Mrs. Everet Crabtree and Mrs. S. G. Crabtree are quite sick with the flu, the latter, an elderly lady, being in a serious condition.
 Miss Mildred Williamson of Salem is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. A. Henderson.
 Henry Boedigher and wife of Salem are visiting his mother, Mrs. Katie Boedigher, and other friends. Henry was recently released from army service. Skating on the log pond has been the chief source of enjoyment the past week.

However, when one only gets an opportunity to use skates about once in three or four years, not many fancy stunts are to be expected.
 Adolphus Hill, a long-time resident of Stayton, died at his home Wednesday morning, passing away in his sleep. He had been in poor health for some time, but had expected to leave this week for Los Angeles. He was 75 years of age and a veteran of the Civil war. Besides his wife he leaves four sons and three daughters—Lafe of Salem, Ellis, Clyde and D. B. of Mill City, Mrs. Frank Potter of Warrenton and Mrs. Clifford Trank of Mill City. The funeral services will take place today (Thursday) and interment will be in Lone Oak cemetery. The deceased was a good citizen and a good neighbor and will be missed in the community. The family has the sympathy of many friends here.
 Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Hill and children and Mrs. A. Hill expect to leave about the middle of next week for Los Angeles, where the ladies and children will remain for several months.
 James Archer, who has been in Pasadena, Calif., the past three months, has returned to Stayton.
 George Warford, who has been in Portland the past couple of months, is visiting in Stayton.
 E. Roy was quite sick at his home several days this week, but is considerably improved.
 Bernard Klecker expects to leave soon for a visit of several weeks in southern California.
 The marriage of Miss Agnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Boedigher, to George Walter, occurred Tuesday morning in the Catholic church at Sublimity, in the presence of a number of friends of the couple. Rev. Father A. Linnick tied the hymenial knot. The bridesmaid was the bride's sister, Miss Julia Boedigher, and the groomsmen were Peter Gries. A bountiful wedding dinner was served at the bride's home to quite a large circle of relatives and friends. A wedding dance was not held on account of the flu. The bride is a popular young lady and the groom is a prosperous young farmer of Sublimity, where the happy couple will reside. Good luck attend them.
 J. W. Phillips of Pilot Rock is visiting at J. O. Ruble's.
 The annual meeting of the Stayton Telephone company will be held Wednesday evening, Jan. 15.

Berlin, Jan. 7.—(Delayed)—Carl Radek, representative of the Russian bolshevik, motored up and down Unter Den Linden today addressing the crowds.

A bolshevik government is reported to have been proclaimed in Muehlheim.

There are two Muehlheims in Germany. One is located on the Rhine, nearly opposite Cologne. It is within the British bridgehead. The other is on the Ruhr river 15 miles northeast of Dusseldorf. The latter probably is the one referred to in the above dispatch.

The struggles between the Spartacists and government forces were said to be terrific, great numbers of machine guns being used.

Chancellor Ebert and Philip Scheidemann are reported to have been sentenced to death by the bolsheviks but there is no indication they would be able to carry out the sentences.

Some government troops are said to have gone over to the insurgents.

This is the first dispatch mentioning fighting in Berlin on Saturday. All other reports agree the riots began Monday. Other dispatches also state that the incident at the Hotel Adlon resulted from the raising of the American flag by General Harries.

Threatens to Resign

Amsterdam, Jan. 9.—Foreign Minister Brockdorff-Rantzau has threatened to resign unless order is restored, according to a Berlin dispatch filed Tuesday night and received by the Handelsblatt today. He notified the government that the Spartacists had seized his office and that he and his staff had been forced to suspend work.

There were more than a hundred casualties, chiefly Spartacists, in the street fighting Tuesday night, the dispatch said. Government troops drove the revolutionists from the railway station and railway headquarters in Potsdam and Anhalt.

Trump, county fruit inspector has been making a canvass of Marion county and one of the surprises was that in the county there is 1000 acres of English walnuts and many tracts that are showing a wonderful profit. It was also a surprise to many to know that in Marion county alone there is 7000 acres planted to prunes and more than 1000 acres to loganberries.

At the state meeting of the Horticultural society of Oregon, held in Roseburg early in last November, Robert C. Paulus, manager of the Salem Fruit union, introduced resolutions calling on the legislature to remedy the above conditions in the fruit and berry business of the state.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted by the horticultural society and Mr. Paulus and Senator Louis Lachmund were delegated to draw up and present a bill for passage. Should the legislature feel disposed to follow the suggestions of the horticulturalists, it is felt that the fruit and berry interests of the state will receive a wonderful impetus and that the state as the finest fruit growing section in the west will become better known in the east.

The resolutions adopted at Roseburg are as follows:
 Whereas, the fruit and vegetable industry of the state of Oregon, now embraces a business amounting to $40,000,000 or $50,000,000 annually, and
 Whereas, there are some 50,000 people in the state of Oregon engaged in the raising of fruit and it affords at various times during the year to 100,000 persons, and
 Whereas, the fruit industry is rapidly increasing and will become our major industry with the discontinuance of the top industry, the cutting off of the timber and the fast reduction of grain growing in the western half of the state and
 Whereas, over productions have come upon the fruit business at various times during the last, caused by lack of knowledge of what was coming into bearing due to an absolute lack of statistics, as to acreage in bearing and coming into bearing and being planted each year, and some branches of this industry, it is apparent now, will soon be in the same position again, and
 Whereas, the state of Oregon is being now grossly undervalued as a fruit raising state on account of growers' statistics, due to no fault but our own and
 Whereas, the work of collecting the acreage statistics can be done at practically no expense by the assessors' deputies, and will never be collected accurately by any one else, and
 Whereas, foreign corporations operating in our state pack enormous quantities of fruit, a great part of which in making up the nation's statistics, is credited to the states in which the head offices of these pants are located.

Therefore, be it resolved, that we the members of the Oregon State Horticultural Society, in annual meeting assembled, hereby request the members of the Oregon legislature to pass a bill which make it compulsory for assessors of each county to list all of the acreage of fruits of various kinds, listing name of growers, acreage and post office address, and also listing the non-bearing acreage, showing amount of acreage of non-bearing planting for five years back, and also list the amount of fruit planted each year, these statistics to be listed on a form to be furnished by the secretary of state made up by him in co-operation with the state board of horticulture.

We also request that this law or another incorporate in it a clause making it compulsory for every canner, fruit packing house or fruit shipper handling one or more cars of fruit, either fresh, canned or evaporated, to report the quantity of his pack of each variety of fruit in the manner handled, a form for this information to be made up by the secretary of state in co-operation with the state board of horticulture and mailed to every known firm operating in these lines in Oregon, but not relieving any one of the responsibility for furnishing this information on account of not having received this information within the time necessary to file the information for publication in the Oregon Blue Book, such data to be incorporated in and made a part of the land.

SHeldon WILL RECOVER.

Carbondale, Ill., Jan. 9.—George H. Sheldon of New York, former treasurer of the republican national committee, will recover from the accident in a mine near here yesterday, physicians at the Carbondale hospital declared this afternoon.

In 11 months of 1918 more than 325,000 men and women in California secured employment through the government employment service.

 A SURE WAY TO END DANDBUFF *****

 There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arsan from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

PLANS FOR ROAD FROM WEST SALEM TO DALLAS SOON TO BE PREPARED

Highway Commission Will Present Project For Governmental Approval.

As a result of action taken by the state highway commission meeting in Portland yesterday, the state highway engineer will soon prepare plans for the road from West Salem to Dallas. At this is a post road, the commission will present the project to the government for approval and cooperation in its construction.

The commission also will receive proposals at its next regular meeting on February 4 for a number of paving jobs, as follows:
 From Corvallis to the Polk county boundary; from Grants Pass to the Jackson county boundary, and from Hillsboro to the Multnomah county line via Beaverton and Bertha.

In addition, bids will be asked for the following grading jobs:
 From Drain to Yonecala in Douglas county and from Stage Coach pass to the Josephine county line and the Columbia river highway across Morrow county.

Plans were also made to advertise the overhead crossings at Divide, in Lane county and the one at Comstock in Douglas county if details are arranged in time.

The grading in Douglas county embraces about eight miles of road and it will be substituted for the paving project between Roseburg and Winchester which had been scheduled. It was considered more important to conclude grading of the Pacific highway in the county before beginning paving work.

Necessary legislation to make the state road laws more effective were discussed. It was decided that a number of modifications of the present laws which, based on the past experience of the commission, would secure a smoother administration. Among those was authority for the commission to make locations of main highways where the location has not already been made. This will solve the difficulty of locating the west side Pacific highway through Yamhill and Polk counties, which has been a bone of contention.

Another location made by the legislature is the junction of the branches of the highway near Junction City in Lane county. There is a movement on foot to extend the east side branch around through Coburg and make the junction south of Eugene. It is felt that the commission by reason of its knowledge of all conditions, is better qualified to make locations than the legislature.

Paving Authority Sought.

Another recommendation is that the commission has authority to determine where hard surface should be laid and the type of surface, whether it should be macadam or pavement. Under the law the commission does not have any opinion and in some cases it is made obligatory to pave where a macadam surface would be sufficient to meet the present traffic conditions.

Another question is that of cooperation between the county and state on

COMMISSION ASKED VIEWS ON 5-YEAR PLAN

Reply Oregon Public Service Commission Will Make Is Not Known.

"Please wire your attitude on McAdoo's five year plan," says a message, referring to McAdoo's proposal to give a five years' trial to government control of railroads under peace conditions, and which was received today by the public service commission from Charles E. Elquist, solicitor for the National Association of Railroad and Public Utilities commissioners.

"And also how present freight and passenger rates should be treated upon restoration of roads to private control," continues the message. "It is claimed that restoration would create havoc in the rate structure and would seriously interfere with the revenues and ability of carriers to operate successfully."

The various interests concerned in the question of government control of railroads are now presenting their views to the senate committee which has the matter under consideration, and the attitude of the various public service commissions is being obtained for this purpose. What reply the Oregon commission will make is not known, as the members of the commission are now in Portland.

The legislature will be asked to modify the law to give the commission authority to make it mandatory for counties to cooperate on a scale determined by the commission, not to exceed 50 per cent.

This subject, however, involves a legal question which will be submitted to the attorney general.

The legislature will also be asked to give the commission power to erect and maintain guide signs, to fix the speed limit at 30 miles an hour, regulate loads and tires and plant trees at the roadside.

Revolving Fund Wanted.

The commission also wants to create a revolving fund of $30,000 in order to enable the state highway engineer to have on hand sufficient funds to meet emergencies in the discharge of workmen and liquidation of other small claims.

Authority is also wanted to transfer from one fund to another and to return all moneys from scales of old equipment and interest on deposits to the highway fund instead of the general treasury.

Permission is also asked in the matter of bond issues to make the denominations of the bonds as requested by the buyers and to give the buyers the option of a coupon or registered bond.

It is probable that the commission will prepare a draft of the bills it wishes enacted into law and submit them to the senate and house highway committees to be introduced as committee bills.

Plans For Paving Ordered.

Ben Sheldon, representative elect from Jackson county, brought before the commission a plan to capitalize the motor vehicle license fees and provide for a bond issue of $7,000,000 or $9,000,000, as it might be considered best. With a 50 per cent increase of the license fee he estimated that it would be possible to carry an issue of $11,000,000.

BIELASKI TELLS OF PLOT TO ENTER CANADA

Men Who Had Seen Military Service In Germany Were Eligible For Army.

Washington, Jan. 9.—German plans for the invasion of Canada by men in this country who have served in the imperial German navy, were today told to the senate committee probing German propaganda by A. Bruce Bielaski, head of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice.

"The men Germany depended upon to invade Canada, before we entered the war, belonged to the 'Kriegsbund,'" said Bielaski.

"Men who had seen military service in Germany were eligible for membership. Some of the organizations were actually drilling and were supplied with rifles. Nothing of a serious character ever developed, although they were harmful in their influence."

Bielaski said the army was well organized and had a number of branches scattered throughout the country.

Evidence intended to show that William R. Hearst was loyal and that Hearst papers performed a patriotic service during the war was given to the committee this afternoon by Major Roy D. Keehn, former general manager for the Hearst papers in Chicago.

Hearst submitted a statement from Samuel Insull, chairman of the Illinois state council of defense, praising the attitude of the Hearst papers since America entered the war.

Keehn also read a letter addressed to himself from William G. McAdoo, then secretary of the treasury, dated October 1, 1918. It read, in part: "Many thanks for the fine support the Examiner is giving the liberty loan and for its generous treatment of me. You are rendering a genuine service to the country and I want you to know how deeply I appreciate this."

Keehn said that the Hearst papers in Chicago devoted space to the stimulation of government war activities than any other papers in the city. This plan was adopted following instructions by Hearst, he said.
