Wine Growers Begin Their Fight Against Dry Forces

growers have taken the first step in what the liquor forces hope will be a legal fight that will hold up ratification of the Sheppard bone dry amendment indefinitely.

William Schulte of the Wine Growers association admitted today that the temporary injunction obtained yesterday, which prevented Governor Stephens certifying California's favorable vote on the amendment, was the first step.

The liquor men plan to obtain similar injunctions in each state as fast as these states ratify the amendment. They will appeal to the United States supreme court if necessary, in an attempt to prove their contention that the people are a part of the state legislature and have a right to the referendum to determine whether the vote of the legislature expressed the will of the people.

The second contention in the action brought here is that the Sheppard amendment did not receive the necessary two-thirds vote in congress and therefore is unconstitutional.

Even should the liquor forces lose the fight finally, they might be able to postpone effectiveness of the law materially, Schulte said.

VOTE OF SENATE PLACES OREGON

admit that interested parties in Portland can draw highway bonding bills in the interest of the people any better than can the 17 lawyers in this senate, or the attorney general, who is the legal adviser of the state.

Senator Thomas presented a resolution providing for a joint session of the house and senate at 10 o'clock next Monday morning, at which the members of the highway commission will be invited to be present and present their views of needed road legislation.

The resolution was referred to a committee. Senator Banks introduced a proposed amendment to the constitution, providing for compulsory voting at election. It provides that if a voter cannot reach the polls on election day he may cast his ballot by mail.

A resolution introduced by Senator Pierce would put the legislature on record in favor of a league of nations of which the United States would be member.

Senator Eddy introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of five to consider all measures relating to reconstruction and care of the returning soldiers.

Consider Flu Question

The senate received a communication from Mayor Albina and a special committee of the city council asking the legislators to cooperate with the local officials in fighting the flu. The mayor suggested that the senate should adopt regulations as to the number of persons that may be in the lobby or in committee rooms. The communication was referred to the senate committee on medicine, pharmacy and dentistry, of which Senator Wood is chairman.

Mayor Albina advised the senate that on January 5, 6 and 7 there were 23 new flu cases reported, 17 on the 8th, 25 on the 9th, 21 on the 10th, and 12 on the 11th.

By unanimous vote the senate sustained the governor's veto of senate bill 242, passed by the 1917 session. The bill provided for an increase in salaries for the Hood River county officials, and Senator Nielsen of Hood River explained that the people of his county did not want the bill to become a law.

Only one bill was introduced at the afternoon session of the senate. It was presented by Senator Hurley and provides an amendment to section five of chapter 147, laws of 1913, which will give the county authority to rebate personal taxes when it is found by the county board of equalization that such taxes have been overpaid.

Senator Hurley also introduced a memorial to congress to adopt the Owyhee irrigation project for construction as a part of the reconstruction program of the government. The project includes approximately 100,000 acres and Senator Hurley points out that it has been approved by the government as to its feasibility.

The senate passed Senator Dimick's joint resolution, providing for the appointment of a special committee on consolidations to consist of three senators and three representatives. In this connection, it can be said that the sentiment among the legislators is clearly opposed to the sweeping program of government upheaval proposed in the report of the consolidation committee appointed by the governor. This report has not been presented to the legislature.

Jackson County Wins Bankers' Thrift Prize

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Jan. 15.—Jackson county won the $50 prize in the thrift campaign conducted by the children of the state in the last year under the auspices of the Oregon Bankers' Association, the Oregon State Teachers' Association, the Oregon department of education, the United States department of agriculture and the Oregon Agricultural college through the boys' and girls' club work department. Thousands of children were interested in the campaign and began habits of thrift which are expected to mean much to Oregon in the future.

The work has proved so successful that the Oregon Bankers' association will not only again offer $50 in cash to the county making the best showing, but has voted $200 for the printing of pupils' record books. The Teachers' association is preparing to publish a report of the work accomplished in the last year and plans for future work. In Jackson county 1922 school children saved and deposited in banks or post offices an average of 10 cents a week during the year.

WAYS AND MEANS CUT ITEMS FROM BUDGET

State Industrial Accident Commission Is Refused $680,000 Request.

At its first meeting last night, the senate and house joint ways and means committee tentatively cut from the state budget $761,382, of which the biggest item was $680,000 cut from the request of the state industrial accident commission. This cut eliminates entirely state aid for the commission, which is recommended by the governor and not opposed by the commission.

The meeting brought forth criticism of the Monmouth Normal and a suggestion from Mrs. Alexander Thompson that a law be passed providing that graduates of the University of Oregon and the O. A. C. shall be eligible for certificates for teaching in the grade schools of the state. At present they are eligible only for certificates for teaching in the high schools.

Referred to Sub-Committees. The committee adopted the plan put forward by Senator Strayer of going through the budget and taking action on those items about which they had information, and passing the others for further consideration. The items for the various state institutions were passed over and sub-committees were appointed to visit the various institutions some time before Monday. These committees are as follows:

Senators Strayer, Patterson and Representative Thompson—State institution for feeble minded and girls industrial school.

Representatives Gordon and Childs and Senator J. C. Smith—Penitentiary and state hospital.

Circuit court judges, requested $200,000; allowed.

Health and Happiness

Women of today seem to listen to every call of duty except the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. Home duties, church duties, war activities, and the hundred-and-one calls for charitable enterprises soon lead women to overdo. Nervousness, headaches, backaches and female troubles are the inevitable result.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which, added to my weak condition, kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness. Health and happiness? Yes, I have both now."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2412 North Taylor Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of women nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down nervous condition with headaches, back-ache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. Avoid them by taking in time

Recommend That Former Kaiser Be Brought To Trial

Berne, Jan. 15.—A German commission appointed to determine the former kaiser's responsibility for the war has officially recommended that he be brought to trial, according to information received from Berlin today.

The recommendation was presented by Her. Kautsky, who was appointed by the present German government to direct examination of documents in the archives of the foreign office.

"Marginal notes in the kaiser's own handwriting on the most important papers in the foreign office proves he was one of the principal war makers," Kautsky said. "It is necessary to bring him before a tribunal."

SOLDIER DIES ON WAY HOME

New York, Jan. 15.—Private Chris Reiner, 283 1/2 Howard street, Spokane, attached to headquarters company 346 field artillery, died on board the St. Louis while returning home. His case, draped in a big American flag, was carried down the gangplank by six sailors as an army bugler sounded "taps."
