Oregon Hens Are Winners In Three Big Contests

Barred Rocks and Orington Took two Firsts and One Second and Set Record Last Year.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Jan. 20.—Oregon college hens won two first prizes and one second in the big national and international egg laying contest, thereby winning first place and establishing a new world record of 2352 eggs per hen in a pen of ten.

A pen of five barred rocks took second place at the all-northwest contest at Pullman by laying an average of 251.6 eggs each. This broke all previous performances for pens of five in American contests, but lacked three eggs—only three-fifths of an egg each—of trying for first place, which was taken by a pen of white leghorns laying 252.2 each. The average for all 135 competing pens was 171 eggs.

A pen of six barred rocks at the British Columbia contest took first with a record of 200 eggs in 11 months for each hen. The next highest laid 180 eggs.

In addition to the foregoing birds the poultry department had a pen of 10 barred rocks in the Storrs contest which averaged 172.8 eggs. The average of the 100 pens was 158.9. The college also entered a pen of White Leghorns in the Pullman contest that averaged 224 eggs.

Ten thousand settings of eggs and more than 3000 pedigreed cockerels from these high-producing strains have been sent out to Oregon and other farmers, and their influence in grading up the home flocks has brought many a poultryman into contact with 200-egg flocks.

Pure-bred dairy stock of high producing O. A. C. strains are in great demand among northwest breeders. The following bulls have been sold to breeders as listed: Oregon Robinhood II, to the A. C. Reed farm, La Center, Wash.; Oregon Peter Pan A, to R. C. Hudelson, Goodings, Ida.; Oregon Peter Pan B, to Tom Fraser, Moro; Oregon Park Chief G, to M. S. Berrett, Sheridan, Wyoming; Oregon Park Chief F, to J. W. Rodgers, Toledo, Ore. The first three are Ayrshires and the last two Jerseys. It will be noted that three states other than Oregon are after the college cattle.

Rejected Soldier Kills

Sweetheart And Suicides

Dallas, Jan. 20.—The bodies of M. C. Spores and Miss Lena Brown were found in the home of Miss Brown on a farm near here Saturday, both shot through the heart. A note left by Spores stated that he had killed the woman and himself Thursday. He said in the note that Miss Brown, who owned the farm on which she lived alone, had promised to marry him after he secured a divorce from his wife, who lives in Portland, but had thrown him down for a soldier just returned from Europe. He asked that Ruth S. Spores of Roberts Brothers' store, Portland, be notified. The bodies were brought to this city by Coroner Chapman.

The victim of the man owned a small farm and had recently built a house. She was about 28 years old and an excellent horsewoman, being enthusiastic for pure-bred horses. She also had a Jersey herd. During the past year she had done much of her farm work. She was the daughter of the late Charles Brown, a well-known farmer of Polk county. Two of her sisters, Mrs. George Jones and Mrs. H. Harmon, live a mile or so from her and she was in the habit of spending the nights with Mrs. Jones.

Wife Lives in Portland.

When she did not appear Thursday night or Friday night, Miss Jones went to her house to see what was wrong. Other than meeting often as farming neighbors, it is believed no closer relations exist between the two.

Spores has a brother, Elmer Spores, living in Portland, and his wife, Mrs. Ruth Spores, lives at 939 East Main street of the same place.

About Christmas the man went to Portland and upon his return here it was learned he told someone that his wife had been granted a divorce and that he was glad it was not known definitely until then that he was married.

Young Boys Attempt To Become Trappers

Harry Dotson and Willie Miller, two school boys about 14, took a notion into their heads that they could make some easy money trapping in Montana and took French leave a few nights ago, taking a few traps and very few dollars. It is said they went as far as The Dalles and got cold feet and cold otherwise, and left for home. They arrived here at night and went out to the Jim Barnes place, where the Dotson boy had been making his home, and entered the house while the family was asleep, going to the kitchen and getting something to eat; they also took a shotgun, and was looking for the shells when one of the Barnes boys heard the noise and got up to see what was going on, the intruders heard him and ran for the woods but the Pacific highway left the gun. They were discovered early the next morning near Mike Keping's and Mike got hold of the Miller boy and took him to his home and gave him something to eat and had him dry his wet feet. Word was sent to the boy's father and he came and took him home. The Dotson boy was found in the woods and taken back to the Barnes' place and later sent to his father in Portland.—Gervais Star.

NEW ROADS PLANNED

The Molalla people are urging the Clackamas county court to select the Casby-Molalla road for paving, and to ask state aid for it. Macksburg wants such a road, but wants it to come through Macksburg, while Barlow, Needy, Monitor and Silverton are said to want a state road to connect those towns.

Another road that has been proposed for state improvement is an Automobile way to connect the Pacific highway and the Westside highway.

As a matter of fact most every man one meets has a fine plan for a paved highway at the expense of the state, but nearly all these proposed roads are really local roads, and the road districts and the counties must stand the bulk of the expense, if they are to be built. But it is a promising condition that prevails when the road building spirit prevails so widely.—Aurora Observer.

A company of farmers has incorporated at Klamath Falls for the purpose of drilling for artesian water. Influenza cases decreased from 80 to 90 percent at Marshfield after three weeks of rigid quarantine.
