Strength In Moderate

Volume Of Trading Today

New York, Jan. 30.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today says: Strength in a more moderate volume of trading was the character of today's stock market. The technical position largely called for covering by the shorts and professional operators were the main features. There was little in the way of news which had any particular bearing on price changes. Indeed, in some cases, like the coppers and alcohols, which were strong, they ran counter to influences which on their face would appear to have been repressive. After a halting advance through the forenoon, United States Steel touched 90 in the early afternoon session and the other steels made substantial gains. The equipment shares naturally moved on word from Washington that the railroad administration contemplated a broader program in purchases of equipment and improvements. Railroad shares themselves did not do very much.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The transport Agamemnon, Brest for Newport News, is due February 4 with the Fifty-First regiment coast artillery; base hospital two (Camp Meade); New York casual companies 226 and 230; and over six hundred sick and wounded. The transport Celtic, Brest for New York, is due February 4 with the Forty-Fourth and Sixtieth regiments coast artillery; casual company 234 (Illinois). The transport Peerless, Bordeaux to Newport News, is due February 4 with casual company 21 (California). The transport Western Ocean, La Pallice Rochelle for Baltimore, is due February 3 with one casual engineer officer.

Secretary Baker Will

Take President's Place

Paris, Jan. 30.—Secretary Baker will come to Paris in February, according to authoritative information here today. President Wilson, it is generally understood, will return to the United States about February 15. The above dispatch would indicate that Baker may have been selected to act as the president's proxy at the peace conference. Washington, Jan. 30.—Secretary of War Baker's engagements run up to and including February 12, and it was said at his office today that he probably will not leave for Europe until after President Wilson's return, about February 24. Baker originally planned to go to France in January, on what he termed war department business, though it had been rumored he would be made a member of the peace commission upon the president's return.

Cruiser Frederick Brings

Many Troops Home Today

New York, Jan. 30.—The cruiser Frederick today brought home 1202 men and 24 officers of the 330th infantry, including field and staff headquarters company, medical detachment, headquarters first battalion and non-companions A, B, C and D. They will be sent to Camp Sherman, Ohio, for demobilization. There were also on board 400 officers and 131 men of the 490th aero squadron, regular army; two officers and 153 men of the 492nd aero squadron from Camp Meade and ten casual officers. Captain Lester M. Savell was among the headquarters officers of the 300th, arriving on the Frederick today. The men in the ranks of the regiment as it returned are from Camp Pike, McArthur, Fort Bliss, Cody and Shelby. Captain C. C. Cady of Harris, Iowa, of the squadron's medical corps, was one who returned.

Monmouth Co-Operative Creamery Has Good Year

(Capital Journal Special Service) Monmouth, Jan. 30.—Under the management of P. O. Powell and the board of directors, the Monmouth Co-Operative Creamery has had another prosperous year. A sum amounting to $102,577.93 was distributed among the patrons. Butter to the amount of 249,000 pounds was made and sold. The gross receipts of the creamery amounted to $118,000 during the year. Stock holders have received eight per cent interest and all running expenses have been kept up from the proceeds, besides adding new equipment to the value of $253,78, since the plant became cooperative, nearly two and one half years ago. Mr. Morlan reports that his son, Howard, has arrived in St. Louis, Mo., where he is awaiting his discharge, and so is expected home soon. Dr. and Mrs. Bowersox have both been confined to their home with a touch of influenza, tho the Dr. was more worn out from his strenuous work due to the epidemic. A Dr. Forbes of Corvallis has been taking his place for a few days. Mrs. Nancy J. Foster, one of the Oregon pioneers, died Jan. 18 in Portland, at the age of 72 years. She, with her parents, crossed the plains by ox team in 1853, settling near Silverton. She was married to N. A. Foster in 1855. Ten children were born to this couple, seven of whom survive the mother. One son, N. E. Foster, is a citizen of Monmouth and another son, Herman Foster, is with the 50th engineers in France. Miss Alberta Greene, who resigned her position as head of the art department of the Normal last year to take a course in reconstruction work at Reed college, writes that she was one of the disappointed who did not get to go across; she is now doing reconstruction work in a tuberculosis sanatorium in New York. Dr. Margaret Norfield, who has until recently been working under the war department commission on training camp activities, assigned to the social hygiene section of women's work, gave a series of lectures to the women of the Normal last week on the "Problems of sex hygiene." Dr. Norfield is a graduate of Vassar and was a practitioner in New York. She is now lecturing to the college women of the northwest, disseminating knowledge on this vital subject among them in the hope that it may be passed on for the enlightenment and regeneration of the human race. A committee from the Commercial club called on the county court recently to find out what could be done toward the improvement of the Monmouth-Independence highway. The court promised early attention in the matter and the chances are good that this piece of road will be paved during the coming summer. A letter from M. S. Pittman, former head of the department of rural schools at the Normal, but now attending Columbia university, states that the family have all had the flu, in a severe form, but are now quite recovered. Mrs. Pittman and baby are spending the winter with her people in the south. Mrs. Alta Craven who has been suffering from a nervous heart trouble, became worse last Wednesday and was taken to the Deaconess hospital in Salem for treatment. Her condition was quite serious and was the result of overwork following a severe case of influenza, from which she had not fully recovered. Mr. Craven had been very ill and confined to the hospital for several weeks before Mrs. Craven contracted the disease. The extra work and worry incident to his sickness had much to do with the bringing about of the nervous trouble. At this writing her condition is much improved. Prof. Gilmore had the misfortune one day last week while driving his Chevrolet, of colliding with a Ford, with the result that his car was damaged considerably. Mr. Gilmore's car was in such a position that he could not turn out much and the inexperienced girl who was driving the Ford simply ran into him. R. W. Tavenner has received his honorable discharge and has returned to Monmouth for a visit with his mother, Mrs. H. Dodman. Mr. Tavenner was principal of Monmouth high school but was drawn under the selective draft, just before the opening of school. He was stationed at Grants Pass doing clerical work until a few weeks ago when he went to Camp Lewis where he remained until recently when he was mustered out. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hoyer motored to Dulles Thursday for a visit with Mrs. Hoyer's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson. Miss Gaynelle Shore, who was engaged to teach school at Crane, Ore., has certainly been laboring under difficulties. She left in September to begin her school work, but before she reached Crane was taken sick with tonsillitis and complications, which detained her for several weeks. In the mean time another teacher was substituting for her and when she became well enough to teach the influenza broke out in the vicinity and the school was closed. Miss Shore came home then for the holidays and remained until about two weeks ago when she went back to Crane again expecting that the ban would be lifted and school resumed. When she reached her destination she found everything closed and the situation worse than ever. Many were ill with the flu and nurses were scarce so Gaynelle answered the call and is now doing her bit in this capacity, caring for influenza cases. Up to date there have been only five weeks of school here and it is believed now that it will not open again this year.

RELAX PROMOTION RULE.

Washington, Jan. 30.—General Pershing has been authorized by Secretary of War Baker to relax to some extent the rule against promotions in the A. E. F., established when the armistice was signed. Promotions can be made in the line up to and including colonel. While the order declares such promotion shall not be made "merely as a reward for past service," the effect will be to make many promotions heretofore closed. A similar policy opening up promotions to the army in the United States is also put into effect.

Demobilization In This Country Completed Soon

Washington, Jan. 30.—Demobilization of soldiers in this country booked for immediate discharge will be completed in the next 15 days, according to official information today.

It was figured that only about 350,000 soldiers in United States camps now remain to be discharged at once. The war department declined to give actual totals of discharged men today, but the million mark was approaching last Saturday when 958,187 men and 57,366 officers had been demobilized.
