THE DEATH OF REV. FATHER NAUGHTON

On Jan. 11th St. Joseph's parish of Salem, as well as the many friends throughout the archdiocese were pained to learn of the death of the Rev. Father Naughton, the assistant priest of the parish. While never a very strong man, Father Naughton was not one to complain, and his faithful attention to duty lulled the fears which might otherwise have been felt for him.

During the influenza epidemic, Father Naughton was indefatigable in bringing the consolations of the church to the afflicted, and thus resulted in his death at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland.

On the first Friday, though far from well, he insisted upon visiting the sick and carried the blessed sacrament to a number of places. Toward evening he showed signs of illness, and was urged by his pastor to give up and go to the hospital. It proved to be the last day's active work in the vineyard of his master, and though he put up a brave fight, until Saturday morning at five o'clock, his soul, fortified by the sacrament of the church and a strong faith which had never wavered during his short life, passed into the presence of his judge.

Rev. Timothy Naughton was born in Kerry county, Ireland, on March 18, 1856, and was thus nearly 33 years of age when a child he came to America with his parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Don't worry about that skin trouble Resinol will heal it

Only those who have really suffered from malignant skin disorders can understand the mental and physical discomfort that such affections bring. People avoid you—your best friends are ashamed to be seen with you—and in general, your life is made really miserable.

Yet it is a consolation to know that even serious and long established troubles of this kind are generally overcome promptly and completely by the use of Resinol Ointment.

Quicker results as a whole may be obtained by first bathing the affected parts with Resinol Soap and hot water. Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap may be purchased at all druggists.

Thomas Naughton, but returned to Ireland shortly afterwards where he was educated and where he remained until he was ordained to the priesthood from St. Patrick's college, Thurles, Ireland, three years ago.

He visited his parents, at Jersey City, N. J., and then came west to take up his work in the archdiocese of Oregon City. He was assistant priest at McMinnville for a time, coming to Salem two years ago where he has been ever since. He was a pious, quiet, unassuming man who was loved by all who knew him, but most by the poor, the sick and the afflicted.

Owing to the ban which was placed upon worship, his funeral from St. Joseph's church, Salem, on the 14th inst. was private. Never the less many came to pay their respects and many of the clergy came from outside points.

The Rev. Father O'Neill of Hillsboro said a low mass assisted by Rev. Father Scherbring of Shaw and Rev. Father Kelly of Woodburn, and His Grace, Archbishop Christie said a few heart felt words of appreciation of Father Naughton's life and work, before the body was consigned to mother earth beside the bodies of Rev. Fathers White and Moore in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Among the clerical friends at the funeral were the Most Rev. Archbishop Christie, D. D. and the Rev. Fathers Vanclarenbeck of Voorhoort, Carrigait, O. P. of Portland, Jones of Canby, Gall, O. S. B. of Mt. Angel, Kolley of Woodburn, Scherbring of Shaw, O'Neill of Hillsboro and Buck of Salem.

The ban has been lifted and it is therefore proposed that a solemn requiem mass for the repose of Father Naughton's soul be sung at Salem, at 10:30 Thursday, Feb. 13, to which everyone is invited and especially the clergy of the archdiocese. A card from the clerical friends who will be in attendance, to Rev. J. R. Buck, will be appreciated.

Former Fruitland Man Writes From Washington

The Highlands, Monse, Wn. Editor Capital Journal:

In a former letter sent some time ago I indicated some of the features of this particular section of the great northwest. In this I shall speak of others. Before doing so I will say we all appreciate the weekly visits of the Daily Capital Journal. We are seven miles from the post office and there is no R. F. D. route, so the Journals come in groups of from three to five. As they bring us news from home they are thrice welcomed. Still we are saddened to learn that some of our old time friends have passed to the great beyond, notably Mr. and Mrs. John E. Miller and Miss Claudine White of Fruitland. To surviving relatives we extend our sincere sympathy.

It is now just three months since I left Salem and memory has a thousand times mingled with friends and relatives. They are not and will not be forgotten. With sorrow I learned of the passing of Col. Cradlebaugh of the Capital Journal.

Well, I am here six hundred and more miles from the old home, from the scenes made familiar by more than 28 years. It seems strange this wide and open country with its bunch grass and sage brush and grease wood, 3000 feet above sea level, yet the soil is productive and in time will support a numerous population. This is reservation land—the Colville—and is divided into "allotments" and homesteads. The first belongs to the "breeds" as they are called—the "half" and "quarter bloods." The land is all taken and much of it is rented out. The country reminds me much of Iowa as it was 30 years ago, but with less timber.

There is no town of any considerable size nearer than Wenatchee, 70 miles southwest. I had to go 15 miles to buy a screw driver and a tin coat gimlet. The county seat—Okanogan—has probably a population of 1500 and is 20 miles north. We are 75 miles from the British line; about the same from Idaho and about 250 from Seattle. We had to send to this place for a pair of bed blankets but they were good ones. The nearest school house is about four miles and there are some 30 pupils in attendance this winter. There is one unfinished church in 15 miles, yet the people are civilized and fairly progressive. Take it all in all, I think the country exhibits a fairly good showing as the first settler made camp here less than three years ago.

There has been no death from "flu" so far here. There were some cases which resulted in recovery. This high plateau perhaps assists one to become measurably immune. Well, I suspect the reader is getting enough for present digestion and will conclude by saying that the grade of horses and cattle could be improved. Horses are out in the open day and night with no cover but the sky and for a bed a mattress of snow. They feast on dead bunch grass which they paw the snow away from to get and unbelievable as it may seem, they keep in good external order but not in best condition for spring and summer work.

We have a snow at present—which is pleasant and sunshiney today. Lowest temperature this winter, 4 below zero at 7 a. m.; at 2 p. m., 40 above.

1,500,000 MEN KILLED France Has Lost Equal Number Wounded

New York.—France in four years of conflict, to preserve her own liberty and that of the world, according to Andre Tardie, French high commissioner to the United States, has lost 1,500,000 men killed and almost as many wounded. America owes France a debt of gratitude not only for this great sacrifice, but also for the reported saving of thousands of lives in this country due to the discovery by French peasants of a perfect remedy for stomach and intestinal ailments, the ingredients of which are imported from France by Gen. H. Mayr, a leading Chicago chemist who sells it in America under the name of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. J. C. Perry, Capital Drug Store, and druggists everywhere.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supply the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear. Dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

WE NEVER LET CONTRACTS

Assistant State Engineer Dunn declared that if Clackamas county had put the specified amount of asphalt into its pavements and had made them five inches thick and followed closely specifications, the roads would have cost the county $19,100 a mile. A contractor's profit on this would have been $2000 a mile, which brings the figure close to that of the Salem-Aurora job. He said the Clackamas county work had less than the 30 per cent of asphalt and was thinner than five inches.

It was shown that the average cost of building roads by the state highway commission in Oregon was $17,500 a mile or $1.87 a square yard for a road 16 feet wide, with a six inch base and two inch top. Senator Dimick of Oregon City presented figures to show that Clackamas county built a road in 1916 for 74 cents a square yard. In 1917 the cost was 98 cents and later costs ran up to $1.17 a yard. That the state would not accept any meeting with confused ideas as to road building in general and not quite positive whether the Warren Construction company is the monster it is said to be or whether with its immense investment in road building materials, it saves the state money on its road contracts. And after the confusing array of figures and charges and counter charges, there remains with the innocent bystander the deep impression that the state highway commission is doing the best that can be done. The layman is not a judge of paving and eventually passes the whole thing up to the state highway commissioners.

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take A Glass Of Salts If Your Back Hurts Or Bladder Bothers You—Drink More Water

If you must have your meat every day, cut it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that uric forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach stings, tongue is coated and when the uric acid is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels are got sore and irritated, obliging you to seek rest of two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's uric acids, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then set fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so if no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is the greatest, safest, and most effective of all kidney and bladder treatments. It makes the best effect on the lithia-water drink.
