

NEW PLANS MADE FOR INDUSTRIAL CLUBS

Feature Of Work This Year Will Be Introduction Of Milch Goat Project.

Supervisor John W. L. Smith and Mrs. Fulkerson, who attended the recent conference of Industrial Club workers at Corvallis, returned more than ever enthusiastic over the prospects of this work among the boys and girls.

By certain changes in arrangements and through co-operation between the agricultural college and the supervisors, it will be possible to follow the work of the pupils more closely and prevent the lapses in the lessons that occurred last year.

Among other new features introduced in the state this year will be the milch goat project. The college has purchased a herd of several hundred goats from British Columbia, which will be shipped to Portland for distribution.

There will also be a calf-raising project, ratings to be made on the care and management of one or more calves of dairy or beef breeds for a period of at least four months.

A greater effort will be made this year to encourage the standardization of clubs. The requirements for a standard club are as follows: At least five members working on the same project; an adult local club leader in charge during the club year; a club organization with officers; a definite program of work for the club year; at least six regular club meetings during the year; a local club exhibit held annually; a demonstration team of three members which must give at least one public demonstration in the community; a judging team chosen by competition between the members; at least 70 per cent of the members completing the project and filing a final report with the state club leader; an achievement day held at the close of the club year.

George W. Eyre, well known as "the father of the pig club movement," in this section speaks confidently of the prospects before this line of club work for the coming year. Among other encouragements will be a certain reduction in the price of feed which was a severe tax on the boys last year. Mr. Eyre states that the U. S. national bank stands ready to assist a thousand boys in getting a start in pig raising, making a loan of ten dollars to any boy at a low rate of interest.

With the war at an end and the influenza scare dying out, there is nothing to prevent entering upon the year's campaign with a "kick." Owing to conditions Mr. Eyre has not been able to visit schools and give personal attention to the propaganda this year as he has in the past, but he proposes at some time in the near future to gather the boys and girls of the clubs together in a real jollification and at that time endeavor to enlist a small army of them in the work. All of them who have ever come within range of the genial old stockman know what this means, for in the past he has given the kiddies the time of their lives in the way of feeds, excursions and moving picture treats. He declares that this work with the children is the greatest fun he ever indulged in and he doesn't mind the expense of it if he can see them profiting in both an educational and financial way.

Mr. Eyre is brought more closely in touch with the boys' work through his appointment as superintendent of the club stock exhibits at the state fair. In this connection he notes that one of over a hundred pigs placed on exhibition there last year, more than 70 were entered from Marion county.

SALTS IN HOT WATER CLEARS PIMPLY SKIN

Says We Must Make Kidneys Clean The Blood And Pimples Disappear.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body. It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood sees the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

The building of public roads seems to be the leading topic these days. I would suggest paving the Salem-Silverton road through by Ed Schloss and Peter Steffens, as that is the way the road and mail has to go every time there is high water. It would be much cheaper for the taxpayers. If it goes by the church and the old way the bridge will have to be raised and that long stretch of low grade will have to be graded much higher. Think what the expense will be.

Frank Simmons of Silverton was looking after his ranch in C. H. Thursday.

Certainly the people will be glad to have the railroads in the hands of private ownership again if the service on it roads is like what we are getting at Donald. One hour's ride from Portland and anywhere from one to two, three weeks to get our goods after the order is sent in. Often one freight or express package will be carried on past to be returned maybe on next train north or the next day or two. Seems some one should look into the matter whose business it is and rectify it.

Members Of Legislature Visit State University

About 90 senators and representatives, many with their wives, went to Eugene this morning to be shown thru the University of Oregon.

As soon as they arrived the legislators were taken to Hendrick's hall for dinner. Following the dinner the lawmakers were taken to Villard hall for a short program of addresses and a music program.

After the talks and program at Villard hall, the party was shown through the university buildings by the faculty. In order that each man might be properly addressed and to not mix up senators with the more numerous representatives, each man was tagged with his name and political standing.

As the electric leaves about 5 o'clock for Salem and does not arrive until 8 o'clock each of the party were given a box of lunch just as they boarded the train. Dean Straub of the university was in Salem this morning and chaperoned the party.

"Lone Star" Dietz Indicted For False Registration

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 1.—William "Lone Star" Dietz, Pullman and Mart Island marine football coach, stands indicted today by the federal grand jury here on a charge of false registration under the draft.

Witnesses who knew Dietz as a boy testified his mother's hair was flaxen and that his father spoke with a strong German accent. The father was a former sheriff of Baraboo, Wis. The contention was that Dietz was not the Indian he claimed to be in his questionnaire, but of German parentage. A claim for exemption was made by Dietz on his alleged Indian origin.

Says Charges Are False.

Los Angeles, Feb. 1.—"There's nothing to it; it's a personal affair. Somebody framed it on me. I'm persecuted and they trying to kill me in the public eye."

That was the statement of William (Lone Star) Dietz today when informed by the United Press that he had been indicted in Spokane for making a false registration. Dietz is here appearing in the movies.
