very few cases of real destitution in Salem that are not being discovered by my office, the police matron or the social center. Now and then there are cases, where circumstances throw a family in close straits for a short time, but through the cooperation of the neighbors we soon find out about them. It is very rarely that we find a case that must be turned over to the county court for permanent assistance.

Pacific Coast League Will Open April 8

San Francisco, Feb. 4.—The Pacific Coast league will open the season April 8 with Oakland at San Francisco, Portland at Sacramento, Vernon at Los Angeles and Seattle at Salt Lake.

The opening dates were determined at the meeting of the club owners here this afternoon.

The owners decided to allow the Northwestern league to use the Seattle park when the Seattle team is on the road. This will allow Seattle fans to see Vancouver, Tacoma, Victoria, Everett, Bellingham and a second Seattle team at the park.

The meeting was to close this afternoon. No action was taken regarding player and salary limits. Each manager may be authorized to pay as much as he pleases.

Greenbaum—"As the head of the social department of the Commercial club I want to see the club rooms become the center of attraction in Salem for checker players and chess players, to say nothing of the other games. There was a time when we had regular tournaments with some of the crack players of the country engaged, and it proved a great attraction in the club. Now that the war is over and the influenza subsided, there is no reason why the social life of the club should not be revived. It is almost absurd that such an equipment and such opportunities should not be utilized by the members and the general public."

E. T. Barnes—"I have just received letters and quotations from eastern manufacturers and dealers and they give no assurance of any decline in the price of leather goods and shoes for months to come. They show that there is a real shortage of high grade leather in the world's markets, and further that there is a scarcity of competent factory help. In the line of domestic cotton fabrics the only thing that shows any decline in price is certain lines of muslins, while there is an unsettled condition of the cotton market with a tendency to decline."

Chief Varney—"A lot of people don't seem to think there is anything serious about this matter of getting corners with automobiles, but I'm going to make an example of some of them and show them they are violating the law. It's being done here every day and it's one of the most dangerous practices. Another thing drivers don't seem to remember is that there is a penalty for passing a standing street car—on either side."

Robt. Paulus—"I am especially interested in the campaign for new members in the Commercial club and want to see it pushed. As its president I want to see the membership brought up on a par with Eugene, where they have 600 members, with a former Salem man—E. C. Simmons—as the president. They had a booster banquet there not long ago with 450 guests at the tables. This might be a good thing for Salem to put on this season. We not only want to build up the membership but we want to cultivate a friendly feeling among our neighbors in Dallas and other points in the valley."

Mr. Chapman, of the Commercial club—"I have sent out all the bulletins on the Loganberry industry that I had on hand and have sent for another lot. It is a very valuable pamphlet with a lot of information about the business that should be in the hands of every man who is interested in it."

Mrs. Jackson—"I think there are
