AFFAIRS ARE HUMMING

(Continued from page one) The Dimick-Lachmann-Thomson paving bills was promptly set down on when he attempted to get a discussion of the bills last night.

The bill of Representative Bean providing for the construction by the state highway commission of 15 miles of sample road was finally passed after Horne and Hughes had attempted to include in the bill a stretch of vitrified brick. As the bill finally passed the house, the highway commission is instructed to complete within the next two years a 15 mile stretch of road, five of which is to be of asphaltic materials, five of concrete and five of wood blocks.

The house repealed the law of 1917 providing that no state aid shall be given charitable institution that care for dependent and delinquent state institutions. Two years ago in anticipation that the people of the state would vote a big state institution for such children, the legislature repealed the law giving state aid. The people didn't see fit to build such an institution and turned it down on the referendum.

Hence to continue state aid at the rate of from $8 to $10 a month, the 1917 law was repealed and the state is here by enabled to help such institutions. Provided of course the senate votes likewise and the governor signs the bill. Passing of a bill by the house is just starting it on its journey and it must run the gauntlet of the senate and the governor before becoming a law.

The one year maintenance provision in contracts between the state highway commission and contractors was passed. The opinion was expressed that the bill did in no respect interfere with the wishes of the so called paving trust as it was supported by Representatives Dentis and Gore.

Judges of the supreme court found friends in the house when the bill came up giving them a raise of $750 a year. Their present salary is $4500 an dthe house passed the bill allowing $5250.

On the salary raise for the supreme judges, the Marion county delegation voted as follows: Martin, absent; against the raise, Looney, Hughes, Weeks and Speaker Seymour Jones. "We are going strong on these salaries when men going into office know just what they will pay," declared Speaker Jones when he voted against the raise. "I am opposed to giving supreme judges a salary greater than the amount received by the governor. These men know what the office would pay when they sought it. Of course it would be rather embarrassing for a lawyer to vote against the bill."

A bill that will doubtless become a law is one passed by the senate and by the house yesterday, providing for female attendants for those taken to the state institutions.

The house favors the idea of Marion county going after its gophers, moles and graydiggers. It passed the bill and as this is what Marion county seems to want, the chances are good for it becoming a law along in the middle of May, as no law goes into operation until 90 days after the governor signs, unless there is an emergency clause. Anyhow, 90 days after the governor signs, gopher and mole scalps will be worth 10 cents while the honest graydigger stays at the same old price of five cents. Marion county each year has about $4200 to pass over the counter for such scalps.

Along with other states, Oregon is wrestling with the boxing proposition. All agree that the returning soldier has a lot of fight left in him and that he as well as others might really enjoy a boxing contest, if put on under decent auspices. Hence the pros and cons of boxing are invited to the state house Thursday evening to discuss things.

Speaker Jones urges the soft pedal on promiscuous salary grabbing. Already the house has put an additional expense of $5280 a year on the supreme judges' salaries, $600 a year more for insurance commissioner, $600 more for the state superintendent of public schools and $1000 more a year for the state food and dairy inspector, an dthrough bills introduced by the ways and means commission, is opening up the way for higher salaries in some state institutions. If the salary grabbing strikes no snags in the senate, the state will find itself paying from $10,000 to $15,000 more in salaries. As Speaker Jones said, men who ran for an office last fall knew what the office would pay.

An effort will be made to compel canneries in Oregon to paste on a label bearing the name of the state of Oregon, the name of the place where packed and the name of the firm or person packing the fruit. The bill was introduced by Representative Martin of Marion county. It provides that all cases or packages of fruit or food

U. S. SENATE BEGINS TO TAKE ACTION AGAINST BOLSHEVIK DOCTRINE

Will Find Out Who Is Paying For Propaganda And Then Combat It.

Washington, Feb. 5.—For the first time taking official notice of bolshevik propaganda in the United States, the senate today ordered a sweeping investigation of all bolshevik activities. The investigation is to determine: 1.—Who is paying for propaganda for the overthrow of the United States government and the substitution of a soviet government.

2.—What steps the government has taken to combat this propaganda. 3.—What laws congress should enact to clean out the bolsheviks.

The senate laid aside its regular business to discuss bolshevism and when Senator Walsh, Montana, proposed a resolution directing the "propaganda probes" to continue their inquiry by going into bolshevik activities, there was not a vote against it.

Poindexter, Washington, introduced a resolution calling on the attorney general to report to the senate what steps he has taken regarding activities of the bolsheviks in Washington, particularly regarding public meetings in a leading theatre and in the Masonic temple at which the Russian soviet government was praised and the American government sneered at.

"This republic is worth all other forms of government," Senator Borah said. "We have got to implant in our hearts and minds the spirit that made us free and that alone will keep us free."

"If we are to discuss bolshevism and I. W. Wism. let us everyone, when congress adjourns on the fourth of March, volunteer and go on the rostrum and preach republicanism in every corner of the United States and have a revival of faith in our republican institutions."

JURY DECLARES

the jury evidently came to a quick decision regarding the defendant's alleged violation of the espionage act.

Federal Judge Wolverton, who completed his charge at 4:10 o'clock, instructed the jurors for more than two hours. He ordered that in case a verdict was reached, a sealed verdict should be returned at 10 o'clock this morning.

The court clearly pointed out that to find Albers guilty the jurors had to determine, beyond a reasonable doubt that the man on trial intended to retard America's prosecution of the war by the seditious utterances as alleged by the government. Wolverton thoroughly reviewed the case, stating that each of the seven counts set out a separate and distinct offense; that the defendant might be found guilty or not guilty upon all counts or guilty on one or more and not guilty on the others.

He instructed the jury that drunkenness neither excuses the offense nor avoids the punishment; that drunkenness, which had been the chief argument of the defense, was to be considered solely with the question of intent.

U. S. Would Have Greatly Increased War Force

Washington, Feb. 5.—The United States was ready to increase its fighting force to 7,131,172 men during 1919 if the war had continued, Provost Marshal General Crowder stated today in his annual report to congress.

Two out of every three men in uniform were raised through the draft, Crowder stated, the total number inducted during the war, being 2,810,296. Every one was taken from class one.

Fighting Of Two Factions In Germany Shifts To Bremen

By John Grandens (United Press staff correspondent) Berlin, Feb. 4.—A terrific battle between Spartacus and government troops was raging at Bremen today. The fighting started at 10 o'clock this morning when both sides opened artillery and machine gun fire. Shortly afterward the opposing forces called for reinforcements. Additional Spartacus partisans started for Bremen from Bremerhaven, Wilhelmshaven and Hamburg. A brigade of government militia throwers and sharpshooters left Berlin on special trains. A force directed by a soldier's comrade was reported today to be marching from Gotha upon Weimar with the intention of overthrowing the government there. Gotha is 35 miles west of Weimar.
