Three small building permits were issued today from the recorder's office; a permit to remodel and repair a brick store building owned by Felix LaBranch, on State street, between Commercial and Liberty, to cost about $5000; to repair a brick building on

Commercial street, between Ferry and Trade, owned by McNaughton & Raymond; the construction of a truck building for Marion county on Jason street in north Salem, to cost about $800.

The U. S. employment bureau has moved from its quarters on State street to a room at 128 S. Liberty street, adjoining the Salem Bank of Commerce. Agent Coleman states that there is still a large demand for wood cutters but very few are being placed. A considerable number of returning soldiers have applications in for mechanics jobs and positions as drivers of trucks. There is not so large a degree of cooperation from the employers of this district as might be wished.
