OPPOSES CREATION OF NEW JUDICIAL DISTRICT

Portland School Board Fight Rears its Head Again in House This Morning.

After the vigorous fight in the house Friday evening of last week when the proposed agricultural consolidation bill was put away for its final rest, members arrived in a most cheerful mood this morning and everybody got down to business and short speeches.

Not being familiar with legislators and their ways, Captain Jennie Miller, of the Salvation Army, in her opening invocation, prayed that material things should be forgotten.

The only bill that aroused members from their peaceful frame of minds was one proposing another judicial district for Wallowa county alone. It was introduced by Burrough, of Union, and Wallowa counties and provided that the 21st judicial district be created to handle court matters for Wallowa county alone.

Mr. Burrough said that the judge of that district lived at Union and was so far behind in his work that no court had been held in Wallowa county for more than a year and that several folks who were unable to secure bond had been waiting that year in jail for a trial.

But the house was not in a humor to create more districts and with the aid of the Marion county delegates voting against the bill, it failed to pass.

The Portland school board fight bobbed up again in the bill introduced by Richards, of Multnomah county. It provided for a decrease in the salary of the clerk of the school board. Apparently this was such a shock to the legislators that with the exception of Richards, E. E. Smith and Mrs. Thomas, the vote was unanimous against the bill.

The Multnomah county delegation was divided on the school fight and there apparently was just a suspicion that Mr. Richards was out hunting for the scorp of the clerk of the Portland school board of directors. With so heavy a vote against the bill it is evident that the school clerk's scalp is safe, especially if Mr. Richards proposes a bill to get it.

A bill introduced by Ivan G. Martin, giving the insurance commissioner more authority in raising and lowering rates was approved by the House. Sheldon's bill providing that proper fishways must be maintained where dams are constructed, met with some opposition from representatives from the eastern part of the state. In order to fix it up and not interfere with irrigation plans in eastern Oregon, the bill was referred again to its committee.

Mr. Sheldon, in his bill, asks that fishways be made efficient and that the law shall apply to streams only where there are hatcheries above the dam.

The bill introduced by Mr. Elmore, at the request of the war department commission on training camp activities covering immoral resorts failed to pass as E. E. Smith, the labor delegate of Portland wanted a little longer time to think it over. Hence it was made a special order of business for tomorrow morning.

A meeting of the joint commission between the Washington and Oregon special committees to discuss the specific gravity of gasoline, it was decided that the present law of Oregon making 56 degrees legal should stand. And that Washington should pass a law conforming with the Oregon regulations. An effort was made through a bill introduced by Martin, to raise the standard of gasoline from 56 to 58 degrees. As the compromise now stands, dealers in both states will furnish the same grade of gasoline.

The House of Representatives will be thrown open to the public this evening to hear eulogies on former President Roosevelt. The principal speaker of the evening will be Bishop Sumner of Portland, a personal friend.

SNAP SHOTS OF OREGON RETAILERS

"The Cross Roads Gazette," a mimeograph paper issued by A. G. Clark for the benefit of the retail merchants who are holding their annual meeting this week in Salem, has something to say in the lighter vein of those who are supposed to be in attendance. Mr. Clark is manager of the Home Industry League. The edition of the Cross Roads Gazette is No. 1, Vol. 1, and in part is as follows:

President Geo. Custer has a date to deliver a lecture in Salem on Saturday, February 15th, at the Old Ladies' home, subject "Twilight Sleep." Delegates who can remain over are invited to come.

Walter Denton of Salem says all the women of his town are divided into two classes: Those who do not believe all their husbands tell them—and those who have no husbands.

C. M. Epley of Salem, was in Portland in December, and in two days had his name in the paper twice—once for being knocked down by a street car and once for being pumped by an automobile.

Theo. Roth, of Salem, claims that a smile on the face is worth two in a bottle.

D. R. Norton is like a barrel of cider—working all the time.

John Lang of Pendleton, says the O. W. Lang & Co. avoid all rear end collisions by simply taking off the rear coaches.

Will B. F. Stone tell us why they built the ocean so close to the shore?

C. L. Barr, secretary Astoria Chamber, says the real reason a ship is called "She" is because it takes men to manage them.

D. A. Van Sycro says "Don't go to some other grocer to get skinned, come and see me."

Everman Robbins of Molalla, is like a lot of other Ford owners; they never seem to quit demonstrating them.

SEATTLE OFFICER TELLS OF TROUBLE

Collins Was Nearly Down And Out—Gains 25 Pounds By Taking Tanlac.

"A medicine that will do so much for suffering people as this Tanlac has done for me is certainly worth recommending to the public and I can't say too much for it," said John W. Collins, of 1214 East Columbia street, Seattle, while in a Bartlett drug store, recently. Mr. Collins has been a resident of Seattle for the past thirteen years, and is a popular member of the police force.

"When I began taking Tanlac," Mr. Collins continued, "I weighed only one hundred and fifty pounds and was in such a bad condition that I could not patrol my beat. But, I now weigh one hundred and seventy five pounds—have gained twenty five pounds—and am feeling fine. I have had trouble with my stomach for several years. Nearly everything I would eat disagreed with me. My food would almost invariably sour and keep me filled with gas and misery most all the time. A few months ago I had a fall of about thirty feet which came near putting me out of commission. On top of this I had an attack of grippe and I simply got to where I was just about down and out. My whole body seemed full of neuralgia and rheumatism and I ached all over. Every joint in me ached and the pain in the left side of my back, over my kidneys, were so severe at times that I could hardly stand it. Nothing did me any good and finally I just had to give up my position, stop working entirely and do nothing but try to find relief. My sleep was very poor and I kept falling off in weight until I got down to one hundred and fifty pounds."

"Then I got uneasy about my condition, went to Colorado and stayed there for a while but never did get any better until I began taking Tanlac, and then I commenced gaining right up. I have used six bottles now and have gotten rid of all that neuralgia and rheumatism entirely and never feel an ache or a pain. My appetite is great and my stomach is in such a good shape that I can eat just anything I want without the least trouble afterwards. I now sleep like a log every night and am in splendid condition every way. I'm going back to work tomorrow, and I cheerfully recommend Tanlac to everybody."

Tanlac is sold in Hubbard by Hubbard Drug Co., in Mt. Angel by Ben Good, in Gervais by John Kelly, in Turner by H. P. Cornelius, in Woodburn by Lyman H. Shorey, in Salem by Dr. S. C. Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.
