Expressmen Meet And Urge Better Packing And Marking Methods

The nation-wide campaign inaugurated by the American Railway Express Co. to bring about better methods of packing and marketing express shipments, began today with the first of a series of meetings of express employees to be held in this city during the month of the drive. At convenient periods throughout the day, Samuel Roome called together groups of his co-workers and urged them to put their full force behind the comprehensive campaign now under way and to work with shippers in accomplishing decisive results in bettering the express service.

Vehicle men, depot platform and claim bureau and office employees were each addressed by the agent or his "four minute men," who made stirring appeals for their active co-operation and keen interest in the drive. The speakers told the express workers that they, individually and collectively, could give valuable aid in the campaign by bringing their work up to the highest standards. There is room for improvement everywhere, they stated.

SAVE MONEY ON SHOES FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

From Foochow, China, comes this letter from R. E. Gardner, Foochow College: "Neolin Soles have solved the shoe problem for me. Other soles wore out quickly on the rocky roads here, and I had no end of trouble with them," he writes.

Where other soles fail, Neolin Soles always stand the test of hard wear and rough usage. This fact points the way to economy. Buy Neolin-soled shoes for the whole family, and so save shoe money. And have Neolin Soles put on your old shoes, too.

These durable, flexible, and waterproof soles are scientifically made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

PEOPLE'S CHORUS IS ESTABLISHED FACT

Over Sixty Singers Gather Yesterday Evening For Initial Practice.

In response to the invitation of Director Sites, a group of over sixty singers gathered in Waller hall last night for the initial steps in the organization of the "Peoples' Chorus"—a title that indicates the democratic nature of the organization and should be a standing invitation to singers of degrees to annex themselves. The meeting was marked by a happy spirit and genuine enthusiasm. Mrs. LaMoine H. Clarke was persuaded to act as president of the organization; Mrs. John Carson, vice president; Benj. F. West, secretary, and Miss Paye Bolin accompanist. Frank Alley will act as custodian of the music.

Mr. Sites, in his preliminary remarks told of the hard work he had done in organizing a symphony orchestra, which some had declared an impossibility in Salem. The orchestra is now an accomplished fact. The same people had said the same thing about the People's Chorus, and he expected to show them that this also would be a success.

In the tentative lineup of singers in this meeting there were 34 sopranos, 15 altos, 7 tenors and 4 basses, the absence of the "basser" sex being accounted for by other affairs in the city which detained them. It is hoped that at the next meeting the male voices will put in an appearance and the chorus be well balanced in the start.

It was arranged that rehearsals should be held on Monday evenings of

Owing to conditions brought about by the war, they admitted, the express service had not been as good as the company had expected to make it. But with these obstacles removed and every expressman doing his part, the way has been cleared for a very marked change for the better.

In urging the men to seek the co-operation of shippers in the drive, the Agent brought to the attention of the drive the necessity of giving them all the aid possible in bringing their packing and marketing methods up to the required standard.

It was acknowledged that the manner of packing and marking varies with the commodities, but the question of whether a shipment is in proper condition for handling to destination safely must be left to the good judgment of the driver, who has been thoroughly instructed on the rules and regulations.

After the "four minute" speeches, Samuel Roome announced the appointment of a better service campaign committee, made up of the following: Osler L. Latham, John D. Fields and Marion C. Anderson, representing each branch of the local organization. He requested the men selected to keep watch on the conditions of business as it passed through the terminal and to call personally on shippers whose consignments needed attention.

One of the most serious problems that the express company has to face is that of "no mark" express matter, the agent stated. These are shipments which, because of their inadequate packing or marking, lose all trace of identification, either of the shipper or the consignee, and must be sent to "no mark bureau" where an effort is made to put them back on the right track. The use of tags was discouraged, except where absolutely necessary, and then two should be added.

The present campaign is regarded as one of the most significant and important steps taken by a transportation agency for the betterment of its service. The local meetings here were held simultaneously with similar gatherings of express employees in every city and town in the country. A second meeting of the series will be held next week and other topics of pertinent interest to the campaign will be taken up.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

each week at the hour of 7:30. The first production to be undertaken will be Hayden's "Creation," a hundred copies of which were ordered by wire from New York today. It is expected that in the absence of funds each singer will pay for his or her own copy. There are no dues attached to membership, it being assumed that all expenses will be provided for out of the proceeds of the productions.

Too much cannot be said of this project in its cultural effect in the social life of Salem, and it is hoped that the musical element here will so fully appreciate it that it will be given every encouragement. With three great musical organizations in the field, in addition to the high school and university Glee clubs, Salem should take high rank as a musical center.

HALF FRENCH ARMY LOST

1,500,000 killed in battle and an equal number seriously wounded is the enormous sacrifice of France in the world war. This constituted about half of the men she put into the field—a larger ratio of her 36,000,000 population than any other nation gave. America owes France a large debt of gratitude for this heroic outpouring of her life's blood that liberty might live, and also to the peasants of France who discovered a perfect remedy for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments which is reported to have relieved innumerable suffering, prevented many surgical operations and saved thousands of lives. Geo. H. Mayr, a leading Chicago chemist, imports the ingredients and sells this remedy in America under the name of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. J. C. Perry, Capital Drug Store, and druggists everywhere.

Would Pension Hero Who Prevented Wreck

Senator John Gill has introduced a bill for the relief of Joseph C. Poeschl by granting him a life pension.

The circumstances which form the basis for this bill are briefly as follows. On January 4, 1910, Joseph C. Poeschl, a robust, industrious bridge carpenter and a citizen of Portland, while in the employ of the Southern Pacific railroad, saved a freight train from probable complete destruction. By the same act he also saved the lives of sixteen men constituting the train crew.

This occurred while he was at work on what is known as trestle "F 3," just south of Portland. In performing this invaluable service to the community his right leg was torn off and he was thrown down into the gulch fifty feet below the trestle. In consequence he sustained additional injuries so serious as to necessitate his confinement to a hospital for a period of forty weeks. When he was finally discharged he came out a complete physical and nervous wreck, unable to do anything for himself. This is vouched for by the foremost medical authorities in both Salem and Portland.

The 1917 session of the Oregon state legislature, by a special act passed and signed by Governor Withycombe on February 19th, recognized Mr. Poeschl's self sacrificing heroism by awarding him a gold medal "For Bravery." Aside from this he has received no compensation whatever except a very small fund for his personal support and maintenance, contributed by a few public spirited citizens of Portland.

At the time of this deplorable occurrence Poeschl was on his knees engaged in tightening bolts on the guard rail next to the track on the trestle, with a long steel wrench. Just as he got to the last and heaviest turn of the bolt, which brought the wrench transversely across the frozen rail, the train bore down upon him, suddenly and without warning. Realizing instantly that to leave the heavy steel wrench tightly wedged as it was, in that position would mean the certain death of the train, Poeschl, with rare presence of mind and remarkable devotion to duty, raised it into a vertical position safely out of the way of the passing wheels. In doing this he unquestionably saved the lives of all on board the train; but narrowly escaped losing his own.

Victory For Portuguese Republicans Forecasted

Paris, Feb. 11.—Complete victory for the Portuguese republican forces within a short time was forecast in diplomatic circles here today.

Strong republican forces are gathering in the northern provinces where the monarchists still hold out, while the blockade on the seaports controlled by the royalists are stiffening. The government at Lisbon considers there are enough troops already in the field to handle the situation without calling on the expeditionary forces which General War Minister Cortereal has already left Lisbon for the front. President Castro and other members of the cabinet are expected to follow soon.

YANKS LOST HATS IN PARIS
Paris, Jan. 24.—(By Mail.)—On the second night of the celebration in connection with President Wilson's arrival in Paris, there was scarcely an American soldier—officer or man—with a hat. The girls, rollicking on the boulevards, developed a sudden craze for American hats and caps as souvenirs. They swept down upon Americans, regardless of rank, snatched their hats and sped away, or made them forget the hats under a bombardment of kisses.

There's a rear admiral who is said to have been seen chasing one boulevard beauty two blocks to recover his gold-leaf covered cap. Maybe the rear admiral would deny it, but say how it is said he kissed 25 girls to get the cap back, it being the only one he had.

state, congressional or county central committee might have authority to select a candidate and have his name placed on the ballot. As the law now stands, the name must be written in. The politicians feared that the central committee might have too much power, but the bill passed with 38 votes.

The county commissioners of Polk county have been working for $3.00 a day. The house thought the figure too small and voted in favor of a per diem allowance of $5.00.

As the law now stands, a man may pick up a stray animal, advertise and then buy it at about one-fourth price. To prevent this, the house passed a bill providing that when a stray is picked up the state veterinarian must be notified and also the Union Stock yards. Then if the owner does not prove property within twenty days after taken up, the affidavit may be filed with the justice of the peace and after advertising the stray, sold according to law. The eastern Oregon men wanted this changed in the law to prevent a man from picking up a stray and within ten days, selling it to himself at one-fourth the real value.

The bill providing that the state shall give no aid to the Industrial Accident Commission for two years beginning next June, passed the house with 38 votes. It was explained that this does not abolish the law whereby the state gives aid to the Industrial Accident Commission, but merely suspends the state aid for two years, that the commission may use up some of its surplus. The legislature of 1921 will decide whether the state shall again aid the commission.
