GOOD ROADS PLAN

District Attorney Proposes If Bill Passes Many Rural Levy Special Tax Of Three Mills For Funds.

paved roads—and the quicker the soon of the proposed to detail a plan which was received with some doubt and question by a number of delegates. He proposed to levy a special tax of three mills for the period of three years, which he figured would raise nearly $200,000 a year. Thus instead of shouldering at once a burden of $1,000,000 worth of bonds, the county would raise that amount in the period of five years laying out that much each year on road construction. He pointed that as the total levy at present is approximately 30 mills, the additional three mills would not be seriously felt. His plan provided that the county should do the work, each road district preparing its own road bed By the method of special annual levies the county would pay as it went and at the end of the five year period would not be in debt. He was in favor of putting through the legislature a bill providing for an increased levy to cover several years. He stated also that as nearly all the roads proposed to be improved were post roads the county might look for more or less help from the federal government.

Mr. Gehlhar found himself the center of a whirl of rounted questions and for more or less help from the federal government.

Mr. Gehlhar found himself the center of a whirl of pointed questions and negative arguments, the chief objection to his plan being that it would require a constitutional amendment and the referring of the matter to the people before it could be adopted. Arter much debate the chair called for a rising vote and it was found that the meeting was almost unanimously in favor of the original honding proposition.

This afternoon the discussions are still going on, Judge Bushey and the commissioners, with Roadmaster Cutver presenting to the delegates a lot of obstinate figures with regard to the funds that are and may be made obtainable for road construction. It is the opinion of the court that the proposed amount of construction cannot be done in less than four or five years.

There were brief talks from a large number of delegates, in addition to the addresses of Gehlhar, Bushey, Cutver and Hunt. Many of them showed instances of opposition in their district sto the program, but it was apparent to most of them that the farm ers generally were in favor of the plan However, several prominent delegates also.
