This would bring the business, telephone from $3 a month to $4.50 and private phones in proportion. The company claimed it had made during the past year only about one and three quarters per cent on its investment.

Silverton had an extremely narrow escape this morning when the bill introduced by Senator Lachmund appropriating $10,000 state money and authorizing Marion county to give $10,000 came up for discussion in the house. With 50 members, the constitution says that a bill to pass must receive 31 votes and that is just the number the Silverton armory bill received. At this time of the session, members are moving about considerably, often leaving the house. Now if but one friend of the bill had happened to be out in the lobby, the bill would have lost. All it needs now is the signature of the governor.

A fine cash register and up to the minute, illuminated scales are added to the equipment in the interest of rapidity and efficiency.

The question as to what specific gravity of gasoline should be sold in Oregon is still occupying the attention of the legislators, even at this late day in the session. Representative Martin started the ball rolling by introducing a bill providing that the specific gravity should be 58 instead of the present regulation of 56. The auto dealers of Salem lined up in favor of the higher grade gasoline. The house passed the bill at 56 but when it got to the senate, not only the old requirement of a specific gravity of 56 was knocked out, but the law repealed. An amendment was tacked on to the bill providing that the big oil companies could sell gasoline of any specific gravity they cared to, just so it was labeled. The Salem auto dealers are emphatically opposed to lowering the grade and leaving it optional with the big oil company. It is understood the bill will be recalled to the house and an effort made to at least keep in force the old law requiring a specific gravity of 56 and not let the house down entirely.

BOXING BILL GETS BY STATE LEGISLATION

Measure Legalizes Ten-Round Bouts And Would Appoint Commission.

Boxing bouts are approved by the Oregon legislature, as the senate yesterday afternoon following the action of the house passed the McFarland boxing bill. The vote was 20 to 10.

The bill legalizes 10-round boxing bouts, and provides for the appointment of city boxing commissions to supervise the affairs.

Supporters of the bill contended that prize fighting was not contemplated, but they wished to make boxing legal as a sport.

Senator Huston pointed out that he has opposed a bill of similar nature during past sessions, but since he visited Camp Lewis and learned of the benefit boxing has been to the soldiers he has changed his mind and was going to support the bill.

Others who strongly supported the bill were Senators Moser, Banks, Hurley and Rittner, while Senators Dimick, Eddy and Parrell spoke against the bill. Senator Dimick opposed the measure on general principles, saying it would bring into the state the sports and pugns from other states and this class of citizens were not an asset. Senator Eddy said the bill would not be beneficial to small communities, where the boxing matches would become rough affairs, while Senator Parrell said he did not know of any of the better class of citizens who favored it.

The vote on the bill was as follows: Yes—Baldwin, Banks, Bell, Eberhard, Handley, Howell, Hurley, Huston, Jones, Lachmund, LaFollett, Moser, Norblad, Orton, Peterson, Rittner, Shanks, Smith of Josephine, President Vinton.

No—Dimick, Eddy, Parrell, Gill, Nickelson, Pierce, Porter, Smith of Coos, Strayer, Wood.

of Mrs. Hoffman's health. Their steps will include Los Angeles, Chicago, Milwaukee and Fairbault, Minn., the latter town being their former home and the present residence of their parents. Mr. Hoffman's business will be managed during his absence by his sons, Arthur and Ernest Hoffman.

There is nothing of any moment before the circuit court today. The last case disposed of was that of Irene Nash vs. Herbert Nash, a suit for divorce in which the wife alleged cruel and inhuman treatment. The case was taken under advisement by Judge Bingham.
