SPRING IN SALEM TOWN.
Tonight in pleasing fancy I can catch The perfume of the lilacs on the air. I hear the chirping of the birds that bring Dried grasses, whips of moss, and string, And shining combings, which the wee boys fling, To build their nests high in the oak trees there. I catch the glint of sunshine through the leaves, Upon the garden fair.

The children rushing in with shouts of glee, Their hands with pussy willows overflown, Plucked from some sunny slope: Have roused again my hope Of seeing my own oaks As they once more unfold their dainty gowns. The very scent of springtime fills the rooms, And bids me dream of home.

I fancy now the lilac buds have grown, And burst their buds of winter-tinted brown. Soon clustered leaves will dot The pale green of their tops; And passing by will stop To smile upon them; 'twould be rude to frown.

When Nature decks herself in such a gown, And spring is newly come, Dear daffodil and bright narcissi, too, Will soon be smiling from the lawn's green edge; And tulips, gay with all their glowing hues. The rosebuds there will fill the air With perfume fair, From every ruddy bush and thorny hedge; And shall I linger here and pine for home To which my heart is pledged?

Ah! soon we'll turn our footsteps homeward now. Too long we've stayed from bright Williamette's shore. Again we'll tread the streets of Salem town, Just as before, will open the door And see once more The snow-capped peak, uplifted in the east, Old Hood, the Table Rock and Jefferson, To greet the morning sun.

We, too, will gladly greet him once again And watch the glowing tints in morning sky. Columbia's skies are fair, and gorgeous sunsets there; But give to me the rare Sunrises o'er the snowy Cascades rim. To feel a touch of sympathy with every flower, Leaf and tree; with all who pass me by For that is home to me. —MAUDE SAYLES. Astoria, Ore., Jan. 25, 1919.

AMERICANS SING NEW SONG.
The boys in the Army of Occupation are singing this song quite freely, according to letters from soldiers over there. It is as follows: Darling I am coming back, Silver threads among the black; Now that peace in Europe nears, I'll be home in seven years.

I'll drop in on you some night, With my whiskers long and white; Yes, the war is over, dear, And we're going home I hear.

Home again with you once more, Say—by nineteen twenty-four; Once I thought by now I'd be Sailing Jack across the sea.

Back to where you sit and pine, But I'm stuck here on the Rhine; You can hear the gang all curse, War is hell—but peace is worse.

When the next war comes around, In the front lines I'll be found; I'll rush in again, pell-mell, Yes, I will—like hell, like hell.

Major Albert Smith, who has made the trip, declares a 48 hour aerial mail service between New York and San Diego may be maintained every day in the year.

Woodburn Will Have Fruit Cannery Soon

Roy Graves and C. S. Graves, who are operating successfully, canneries at Sheridan, Toledo, Warrenton and Tillamook, were in the city last Friday and decided to build and equip about a $16,000 cannery to start with in Woodburn. This they do on the guarantee of the Merchants' Association that they will be furnished with a switch and drainage. The amount of acreage necessary to maintain the cannery is successful operation must be furnished by the farmers in the adjacent territory, who will only too gladly agree to what is assuredly to their interests.

Messrs. Graves while here purchased the site of the cannery, consisting of the Unf Anderson property on Hardcastle avenue and the P. H. Thompson tract adjoining on Mill street, about 1 and one-half acres. There are 250 feet frontage on Hardcastle and 200 feet on Mill street, and another street will be opened along the east side.

Work on cleaning up will begin next month and it is expected to have the cannery building completed and equipped in time for the berry season. The building will have a 144 foot frontage and be 80 feet in length, equipped with the latest type of machinery and with a capacity of 50 tons every 20 hours. A forty horse boiler will be installed for steam cooking purposes and electricity will be the power used.

The manager of the plant will be C. S. Graves, while G. U. McGuire has been engaged for the outside field. The cannery will employ a large number of women and some men during the busy season, which this year will be from May to the latter part of October. It will handle this year mainly berries, apples, pears, cherries, plums and prunes. The reliability of the Graves is unquestioned and they have built up such a big business, that they have a ready market for all the stuff they put out. —Woodburn Independent.

Balderree Reported Wounded.

The name of Private Irving Balderree of this city, appeared in the published casualty lists Monday evening. This, however, caused no uneasiness on the part of his relatives and friends, for they had heard many weeks ago from the young soldier himself that he had been wounded. The last letters received from him stated that he had fully recovered and expected to be either returned to duty or sent home in a very short time.—Dallas Itemizer.

SAYS ACID STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION

Excess Of Hydrochloric Acid Sour The Food And Forms Gases.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence water brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and furthermore to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mucus, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

SILVERTON HIGH WON FROM FRANKLIN HIGH PLAYERS.

Saturday night the Silverton Hi added another nick to their basketball tomahawk when they defeated the fast Franklin Hi team from Portland by a score of 29 to 10. The visitors were a fast bunch and put on one of the cleanest games played by a visiting team here this year. They freely admitted that the Silverton boys had no need to fear any team that might come from their city. The games are receiving a liberal patronage from the public. On this night the seats were all taken and many were standing.

Back from Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Buckley returned from their California trip Friday, bringing back with them their son, Floyd, whom they found in the general hospital at the Presidio, having recently arrived from France. Floyd was permitted to accompany his parents home, but only given a rurlough of 14 days, at the expiration of which he is to report at Camp Lewis for further treatment. He was wounded in the right leg on July 31, a machine gun bullet entering at the right knee and coming out through the kneecap. It was 13 hours after he was shot that he got to a hospital, where he received attention from a Chicago specialist. He is glad to get home and the care of mother and extra good food are doing wonders.—Woodburn Independent.
