INDICTMENT OF THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR WAR SOON TO BE RETURNED

It is Conceded That It Will Be Hard To Establish Responsibility Higher Up.

By Lowell Mellett
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1919, By United Press)
Paris, Mar. 3.—The greatest grand jury indictment the world has ever seen will soon be returned.
The commission investigating the responsibility for crimes committed during the war was expected today to submit its report by Saturday. The true bill will contain hundreds of names, ranging from lieutenants to officers of the highest rank. Against each will be charged in detail the crimes he is alleged to have committed against humanity.
If the present purpose of the commission remains unchanged, the name of Wilhelm Hohenzollern will lead all the rest. But at the same time, the United Press has been practically convinced that it will be impossible to visit direct punishment on the former Kaiser. Men like General Ludendorff and Field Marshal Von Hindenburg are likely to escape for the same reason—although it is possible to establish their responsibility as the men higher up, it is impossible to disregard the fact that all their acts can be defended on the ground that they were carrying out the policies of the state.
Military Governors Punished.
The highest ranking officials deemed certain of being punished, are the former military governors of various cities and districts who had arbitrary authority over the lives of enemy citizens, and who abused their powers or allowed subordinates to do so.
Those of which there are hundreds, will be tried before an international tribunal which the commission will recommend be formed under sanction of the league of nations. This tribunal is expected to sit for the next several years, hearing evidence in individual cases, passing judgment and fixing penalties as each case is completed.
May Be Permanent Prosecutors.
A permanent prosecuting committee is also planned. In just what manner warrants will be served and arrests made, has not been determined, however. When the commission's list is turned over to the peace conference, it is expected it will be kept secret until as many as possible are arrested. Later, the names and pictures of those not found will be furnished to the rogues' galleries in all countries. The commissioners are confident that practically all the accused will be rounded up eventually and be compelled to face the tribunal. Some arrests have already been made, notably a number of Turkish officers, who are being held under the coat, and are ready to hear their cases.
"We have some knowledge of the atrocities that had been committed but the detailed evidence placed before us, made our blood run cold," one member of the commission said.
"One is inclined to say at first that men of that kind should be boiled in oil, but it is better for the world that they be given fair trials and the most impartial justice. That is our purpose."

SOLDIER REWARD BILL GETS AXE AT OLYMPIA

Thompe, On Whom Measure Depended, Changed Mind At Last Minute.

Olympia, Wash., Mar. 3.—The Lamping soldier reward bill failed to pass the senate this morning by one vote. There were 21 votes for the measure and 21 against it takes 32 votes for a constitutional majority. Magnus Thompe, of Everett, on whom the contest depended, at the last minute voted "no" after promising to support the measure.
The last minutes of the historic contest were tense.
Vote had been delayed until today, following receipt by Lamping of the following telegram from Thompe, sent from Seattle Saturday: "I have just returned from San Francisco. Sorry unable to get to your assistance. If necessary postpone vote on soldier compensation bill until Monday and I will help you."
Said He Was For Bill.
When Thompe arrived at the senate chamber this morning he was called into the cloak rooms by Senators Howard Taylor of King county and Joe Smith of Everett. They are organization leaders who bitterly opposed Lamping. Just before Thompe stepped out of the senate he leaned over to Lamping and said: "I am all right George—I'm with you."
A call of the senate was demanded, and doors locked. But Sergeant at Arms Dan McCuss failed to bring in the group Lamping, Metcalf and other supporters of the bill went to the cloak room. Heated arguments waged there for fifteen minutes.
Thompe, face flushed, finally came in. The roll call began and when Thompe's name was reached it was known that his vote would decide the fate of the measure.
He hesitated and asked huskily: "Mr. President, what are we voting on?"
"The Lamping bill," said Carver.
"I vote no," Thompe answered.

That when she demanded he should choose between her and Mattie Leland, that he refused to choose nor would he give her a property settlement. Granges Indorse Measure To Pave Marion Roads

The stand taken by the granges of Marion county in regard to the issuing of bonds for market roads is well set forth in the report of a committee appointed to confer with Pomona grange. The report is as follows:
"The committee of the Pomona grange advise us that they believe that the grange will endorse a measure as follows:
"That bonds to the extent of $840,000 be authorized by a vote of the people with the understanding that not to exceed $200,000 worth of these bonds are to be sold by the county court in 1920 for the purpose of beginning the paving of the Marion county market roads, and further that no additional bonds be sold by the county court unless they find they will be unable to complete the paving of one hundred miles of these roads within five years from the funds that they may be able to raise from direct taxation through channels already legalized.
"Furthermore, that it shall be mandatory upon each road district to prepare its road beds for hard surfacing with its own funds as far as possible."
The report is signed by George Kresel, Jas. P. Feller and J. E. Smith.

A HUNDRED-DOLLAR STAMP

A new feature of 1919 War Savings Stamp activities is the stamp of $100 denomination, which will probably be placed on the market this month.
The $100 stamps will be about the size of a Liberty bond and will sell for $82.50 if put on sale in February. The price will increase 20 cents each succeeding month until the end of the year.

URGES NATIONAL GARDEN DAY

A National Garden Day every year for the Soldiers of the Soil is urged by Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the National War Garden Commission of Washington. "Let the millions of gardeners have a holiday to inaugurate the home food production campaign," says Mr. Pack. "Let them march to the furrows of freedom, say on April 6, the day we declared war on autocracy."
