OLCOTT REFUSES TO TAKE TWO SALARIES

Favors Appointing New Secretary of State To Take His Former Position. The well-meaning citizen who, under the title "Iconoclast" a few days since contributed to the "Picked-up-on-the-Street" department a paragraph concerning what he considered an anomalous situation in the offices of governor and secretary of state, will undoubtedly feel reassured by the position the governor has taken with regard to the matter...

Ernest B. Bennett, son of William Bennett, who lives in Michigan, died at the Brooklyn navy yard hospital March 6 at the age of 19 years. The young man had just enlisted in the navy at Portland Jan. 9 of this year. As soon as he reached New York he was taken down with pneumonia and died on the 6th of this month. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. John E. Earle, of this city and two sisters living at Falls City, Mrs. Ora Mills and Mrs. P. C. Duclagen. Also by a brother, Robert Bennett, of Falls City. The body will arrive in care of Webb and Clough Friday or Saturday of this week. John C. Davenport died at Aberdeen this morning. He was an uncle of Homer C. Davenport, the cartoonist, and a brother of the late T. W. Davenport. He will be remembered by many pioneer residents. A carload of onions belonging to J. W. Collins and A. M. Bolter enters into a law suit brought against the United Brokers Company. The plaintiffs allege they entered into a contract with the brokers to load a car of onions at Brooks and that the commission company was to sell same at Sacramento. The plaintiffs allege that the car was loaded at Brooks, that it was shipped February 27, 1919, and that at the time, the f. o. b. price of onions at Brooks was five cents a pound and that the car load weighed 1555 pounds. They allege that all that was received from the brokers was $200 and the suit is brought for $1200 additional. In the divorce case of Benjamin vs Benjamin before the circuit court this morning, Mr. Benjamin was granted the divorce. The parties live near Silverton.
