Vice President Marshall Will Not Discuss League

Phoenix, Arizona, March 11.—Vice President Marshall does not propose to discuss the league of nations, for the present at least.

That was evident today following his address before the Arizona state legislature. He refused to discuss the league, although he asserted his loyalty to President Wilson.

Marshall warned that it was humanity's duty to prepare now either for peace or for the next war.

"I would rather eat a little dirt than have another war," he declared "but sometimes it is better to fight where the integrity or honor of the nation is involved."

The California legislature has adopted a resolution urging congress to restore the 2 cent tariff on dice.

Liken Korean Situation To Present Irish Question

Washington, March 11.—Korea's appeal to the peace league for independence from Japan was likened in principle to Great Britain's Irish problem by Japanese diplomats here today.

"Korea is an integral part of Japan," the embassy commented in answer to queries concerning the reported declaration of independence of the Korean national independence union.

"There was no situation in this regard for discussion at the peace table. Korea was joined to Japan with world approval. Naturally there is a small element there, as everywhere, desiring a change."

Denial of bad conditions at the army debarcation camp at Brest is made by Chaplain W. B. Ayres of the navy, who served eight months at Brest.
