LEADER OF SINN

rest—was this war only as were other wars—was it for your puny ambitions that humanity has endured the horrors of the past five years and the entail of sorrows they have bequeathed to the future. I do not know whether the statesmen at Paris will prove worthy of the trust or whether they will be great enough to grasp the opportunity that requires so little to improve it and found firmly now these relations between peoples on a basis worthy of our common humanity.

One Source of Hope.

But it is surely a source of hope to know that at Paris there is at least one man who apparently realizes the duty and who can accomplish what he wills if he only remains steadfastly determined and true. The Michalovics may scoff at him. Let him but be bold enough to lead straight on and that respectable portion of mankind, the plain people, whose spokesman he has been and whose hearts he has won, will be ready to march with him to the realization of their common dream.

Why should he hesitate to see that America's aims be accomplished? Were those aims not stated unequivocally from the start? Is the cause less worthy now that triumph is in sight. Are those who oppose it now less the eneident Wilson should by any chance prove too weak for his trust he will have all the less excuse because luckily America is strong enough not to allow herself to be cheated. She at any rate has no need to tremble when the British lion growls his intemperate warnings to those who might disturb him at his prey. I cannot believe that the president will be weak or will allow himself to be deterred from cutting away a vicious cancer at the core of the new world order by the conventional diplomatic niceties that belonged to the order which the blood of millions was shed to destroy.

But whether Ireland will be heard or not—whether the statesmen at Paris will stand forth as the most conspicuous failures in history or not—the duty of Irishmen and the duty of all lovers of liberty is clear. The duty is to see that oversight cannot be pleaded as an excuse.

Tries to Blind Ireland.

England tries to blind and gag Ireland, to throw her into obscurity as a dungeon. It is our duty to support all who lend a hand at loosening her. We must strive at least to let in the purifying light to show Ireland as she is, struggling ever against the slavery in which England would confine her, fighting through centuries, maintaining in blood and tears communion with all fight for liberty everywhere—battling for it as she ever has with the foe upon her own hearth at home.

Ireland seeks nothing from England but the removal of England's interfering hand. Her only demand is for the freedom and right to live her own life in her own way with no limitations except those imposed by the necessity of respecting the equal rights of other peoples.

CHILDREN BURN TO DEATH

Seattle, Wash., Mar. 13.—While their mother, Mrs. Lee J. Barry, was absent from the house for a few minutes to visit a nearby store, James Wilbur Barry, 5, and Lee J. Barry, Jr., 4, were burned to death in their home here late yesterday afternoon.

Neighbors and city firemen who attempted to force their way into the burning building in an effort to rescue the children were beaten back by the intense heat and smoke. The parents are at a neighboring home prostrated over the death of the children.

Society

It is with keen regret that a host of Salem friends are lamenting the departure of Mrs. J. D. Sutherland, who left for Los Angeles today to reside permanently. Mrs. Sutherland has made her home in Salem for many years and happily endowed with the gift of friendship to a marked degree, has endeavored herself to a multitude of acquaintances both in the Capital City and Portland, who feel in her going a loss not easily to be recompensed. Previous to her departure and since the death of Mr. Sutherland a few months ago, Mrs. Sutherland has spent much of her time in Portland visiting her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. N. V. Sutherland.

Upon her arrival in Los Angeles she will make her home for the immediate present with her daughter, Mrs. S. G. Schaefer, whose guest she has been on frequent sojourns in southern California.

Out standing among a featureful record of interesting club events, the March meeting of the North Salem Women's club for which Mrs. F. L. Purvine was hostess yesterday at her residence on Fifth street, was marked by an unusually large attendance of members and a number of outside guests. A diversified and highly interesting program was enjoyed, which featured an address by Miss Cornelia Marvin, state librarian, about her experiences while on the Mexican border last summer. Miss Marvin volunteered her services to the American Traveling Library association for a period of several months, during which time she gave freely and without recompense of her knowledge and valuable experience in library work, in the distribution of books and reading matter to the invalid and wounded soldiers in hospitals along the border. Many of the cavalry men, especially, were receiving hospital care at Ft. Bliss, and their eagerness for things readable would have been fairly pitiful, had there not been such a gratifying supply of books donated and shipped in from all over the country. The tuberculosis patients and the nurses also were potent factors in keeping the circulation of books on the constant move.

Following the conclusion of Miss Marvin's informational talk, a group of pleasing musical numbers were given among which were two instrumental solos, "Valse Abareque," (T. Lach) and "A La Bien Aimee," (Edward Schmitt) played by Miss Helen Simes. Superintendent John W. Todd gave two stirring vocal numbers, "Promise O Life" and "The Americans Come," accompanied by Miss Gretchen Brown. Miss Marion Emmons pleased her audience with a violin selection, "Mazurka" by Tchaikovsky. Miss Bertha Vick was her accompanist. A violin number, "Sweet Bells of Peace" was played by Paul Purvine who followed with an encore, "Lullaby in Khaki," accompanied by Miss Simes.

The rooms were beautifully decked with the golden daffodils and white hyacinths. Delicate refreshments were served later by Miss Freda Young and Miss Lora Purvine.

The members of the North Salem club will meet next month with Mrs. Merle Prunk. Another distinctive program is assured in the promise of a group of Indian pantomime numbers to be given by Mrs. Oscar Gingrich, who is attaining such individual and enviable recognition as an interpreter of Indian songs and dances.

Mrs. J. S. Hutchason and Mrs. Edward Schunke were admitted into the club as new members.

The guests at the meeting yesterday numbered Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Adley Gregg, Mrs. Straussbaugh, Mrs. George Stoddard, Mrs. E. Y. Young, Miss Freda Young.

The annual election of officers of the Parent-Teacher association of the Lincoln junior high school was held yesterday at the regular monthly meeting of the association held at the school. Those placed in office for the succeeding year were Mrs. J. W. Harrison, president; Mrs. Florian Von Eschen, first vice president; Mrs. C. W. Elgin, second vice president; Mrs. Mason Bishop, secretary; Miss Margaret Power, treasurer.

An entertaining program was presented by the pupils of the lower grades, a colonial tea party and George Washington play being the main features of the entertainment. Later a most interesting talk was given by George Halvorsen, concerning different phases of his Y. M. C. A. work in France. The next meeting of the Parent-Teacher association will be held the second Tuesday in April.

One of the most enjoyable St. Patrick's affairs of the week is anticipated by the members of the Sweet Briar club, who with their husbands will participate in a jolly gathering tomorrow evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Imah on the Wallace Road. According to club custom the members hold open evening meetings occasionally throughout the year, when the ease and club hospitality is dispensed in most delightful fashion. The party tomorrow night will be the first evening meeting of the year, owing to the earlier postponement of all neighborhood social affairs during the influenza ban.

Mrs. Stacy Reeves of Astoria and son, Stacy Reeves Jr., are in Salem as the guests of Mrs. Lloyd Ramsden a sister of Mrs. Reeves.

The annual open meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church which is to be given in the form of a birthday party will be held at the church tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. A pleasing program has been planned and all members of the congregation are invited.

THE EASIEST WAY TO END DANDRUFF

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.
