HARVEY WALKER WAS IN THICK OF FIGHT

Tells Of Long Tiresome Marches Following Up Fleeing German Army.

Harvey S. Walker, son of Harvey Walker of rural route 7, Salem, was in the hospital corps in France, with medical detachment 1st battalion 5th marines and was in the thick of the fighting with the marines from Sept. 1 until it was all over.

In writing to his father he gives some inside views of what the medical corps did. Extracts from his letter are as follows:

"On the morning of Sept. 1, 1918, inside from the regular battalion sick call, a general sick call was held for the purpose of segregating the fit from the unfit. The word had been passed that we were to move towards the front, so those who were not able to hike were to be left behind.

"In the hike of the next day we had quite a few fall back, complaining of blistered and sore feet. Those who could not walk any further were allowed to ride in the ambulances. The next day before the march, we held a sick call and dressed the feet, using adhesive plaster on some and gauze bandages on others. The hospital corpsmen would dress the minor cases and the severe ones were brought to the medical officer.

Hold Sick Call Frequently
"The next day after a march we again held sick call, going through the foot routine. Although we dressed many cases of sore feet at other times, we always held a general sick call after the first meal at stopping places.

"One of our night marches was a regular nightmare. It began raining at 7:30 o'clock and all night long it was hike, hike, hike. In following troops into a communication trench, the mud and water was always over our shoe tops and sometimes half way to our knees.

"Owing to our fast advance in the St. Mihiel sector, our dressings run out but in the German hurried retreat, they left dressings which lasted us with some left over until the following week.

"On the evening of Oct. 1 we crossed the famous Hindenburg line establishing our hospital station in a little village exposing us to severe shelling. The wounded soldiers after receiving first aid on the field, were carried by us to the company stretcher bearers. We redressed them when necessary, using the shell wound dressing and gave them antitoxin as long as our stock lasted.

Establish Hospital Stations
"On Oct. 4 we established our hospital stations about a mile beyond the summit of Mt. Blanc. Here we were within the range of machine gun snipers and under a constant shelling. Hardly had we got settled than the

Resolutions Passed Upon

Death Of Gov. Withycombe

Whereas, the final summons has come to our beloved friend and official associate, James Withycombe, governor of the state of Oregon; and

Whereas, Mr. Withycombe, as a man and as a citizen, was foremost in advocating and in promoting practical and sound ideals, and strove to realize the best in the material and spiritual welfare of the people; and

Whereas, as governor of the state, he gave sympathetic and wise support to all useful and legitimate measures and exerted a powerful influence in the consummation of the plans devised for their execution, always manifesting a courage, courtesy, judgment and dignity; therefore, be it

Resolved, that in the passing of Governor Withycombe the state has lost a capable, sincere and revered executive and a man whose prudent counsel and cordial fellowship were warmly appreciated by the surviving members of the board of control and by all other associates and friends; be it also

Resolved, that we express our great sorrow at the loss incurred, and convey to the bereaved family our deep sympathy and condolence; be it further

Resolved, that an engraved copy of these resolutions be sent to Mrs. Withycombe; that a copy be spread upon the minutes of the board, and a copy given to the press.

AN ALWAYS USEFUL CREPE FROCK

In front the shawl collar of this navy blue crepe motor goes right down to the belt and is helped out with a pretty beaded vestee. But the funny little bow at the back just where the collar and blouse join is quite the oddest and most attractive thing about the frock. The sleeve is cut in a piece with the blouse and is made to fit tight about the wrist. The skirt is slightly draped.

URIC ACID IN THE SYSTEM

(BY LEE H. SMITH, M. D.)
Uric acid is now generally recognized as the cause of more disease than was heretofore believed. When the kidneys are out of order uric acid accumulates within the body in super abundance. The disordered kidneys do not filter the poisons out of the blood, as they ought to do, and so the poisons remain in the blood and float around until they find a place to lodge in form of urate salts. The thing to remember is that you may have rheumatism in any part of the body—you may have pains anywhere—your back may ache and your head may be dizzy—but the trouble is not where the pain appears. The trouble is in the kidneys, and what is the first thing to do? You must get that excess uric acid out of your system, which can be done by taking Anurie Tablets, the splendid remedy which Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has put on sale in the drug stores at a low price. Anurie Tablets (made double strength) when taken into the system as medicine, have the peculiar power of dissolving the uric acid deposited there. Drop a bit of sugar or salt into hot water, and it will disappear. In precisely the same way do these Anurie Tablets dissolve uric acid. Of course, after ridding the system of uric acid, it may return again unless you eat the right foods and live the right kind of life, but Dr. Pierce will advise you fully on proper food and correct living if you write and ask him. He makes no charge for such advice. Take Anurie Tablets today, by all means, and get that uric acid out of your system. Don't, don't, don't put the matter off.

ORATORICAL CONTEST BEGINS AT WILLAMETTE

Preliminaries Will Be Held Tomorrow Evening in Waller Hall.

Preparations are now under way for the annual round of oratorical contests of Willamette University. The preliminary contest will be held tomorrow evening, March 14, at Waller Hall, at 7:45 and promises to be of unusual interest as special preparation has been made on both composition and delivery. Prof. Della Crowder Miller states that the compositions presented are the best handed in during recent years. The contestants who will participate in the final of tomorrow evening are William Nichol, who will speak for his subject "The Grand Old Man in Fable"; T. S. Adkins, who has the subject "American and The League of Nations; Miss Florence Shirley, with the subject "The Making of Chastity-Therapy."

The contestants are among the business people in the university, but have taken time to give the most careful thought to their themes.

The judges of composition are Judge Benson, of the supreme court; Miss Sterling, of the English department of the high school; and Rev. W. C. Kantner, of the Congregational church.

The judges of delivery are Rev. R. G. Arvason, of the First M. E. church; Attorney Ivan Martin; Miss Lucile Elliott, of the School of Expression.

The contest to decide who shall be members of the two debating teams that are to enter the inter-collegiate contest, will be held in Waller Hall on Monday evening at 7:45.

Friends of the institution will be interested in these events which will serve as an index of the work being done at the institution, and which make for its prestige in the state. Further particulars will be announced later.
