Robbers Enter Dallas Home—Get Rich Haul

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Dallas, Ore., March 13.—Robbers entered the home of E. C. Kirkpatrick on North Main street on Sunday night while Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick were attending the picture show and stole about $250 worth of property. No clue as to who the robbers were has yet been ascertained but it is thought by the officers that they are local talent as they seemed to be familiar with the inside of the residence. This is the second robbery to take place in Dallas within the past month, the other case being the robbery of the Eweaney flouring mill.

Viers & Company Sell Store.
The Viers & Company grocery store on Main street this week passed into the hands of Henry Voth, a prominent Polk county farmer and fruit grower. Mr. Voth having traded a 100 acre prime orchard just north of the city limits of the city for the store and business. The store is one of the most up to date establishments in the Willamette valley and enjoyed a large patronage. Messrs. Viers and Grindheim who formerly owned the grocery will devote their attention in the future to managing the prime orchard which is considered one of the finest in this section of the state.

Methodists Hold Big Meeting.
Beginning today and continuing tomorrow the Methodists of the Dallas group will hold a big Centenary meeting in the parlors of the Methodist Episcopal church in this city. This is the last of the ten meetings which have been held in the different groups. The meeting will begin this evening at 7:30 with an exhibition of Centenary pictures. Tomorrow the services begin at 9:30 a. m. with a devotional and introductory service; at 10:30 "The Pastor and the Centenary Program;" 11:00 a. m. Their Place and Part in the Centenary;" 12:15 o'clock, Centenary luncheon; 2:00 p. m. devotions; 2:30 Centenary program; 6:00 Centenary dinner served by the ladies of the church in the Dallas hotel dining room; at 7:30 Centenary rally of the Methodists of the Dallas group which includes the towns of West Salem, Falls City, Amity and this city.

Among the prominent speakers who will be in attendance today and tomorrow are Dr. Carl G. Doney, president of Willamette University at Salem; Dr. H. J. Talbot of Kimball College, Salem; Dr. R. N. Avison, pastor of the Capital city's First church; Rev. E. E. Gilbert of Oregon City; District Superintendent T. B. Ford of Salem and Dr. W. C. Wasser of Nebraska Conference who talks on the Centenary for the Sunday schools.

Members of Headquarters Company.
Lynn Elder, Ray Boydston, William Dennis and Will Boydston of this city, all members of the headquarters company of the 162nd infantry, formerly the Third Oregon, arrived home Monday night and Tuesday morning from Camp Lewis where they were mustered out Saturday. The boys were all glad to come home though not regretting the time they spent in the service of Uncle Sam. Ray and William Boydston who were members of the band of the 162nd grasped an opportunity offered them

Hogs Are Higher Heavy Run Of Sheep

North Portland, March 13.—Receipts 1890. Cattle offerings today were in line with last Monday's offerings—lots of ordinary cattle but very few outstanding steers, of quality. Trade was snappy and fast. The best steers sold at $13.65 to $14. Nothing seemed to touch last Monday's top. If anything best steers were a little lower in price. Ordinary stuff sold steady. Cow market was good all the way through for all grades. Calf market was good with sales up to $14.50.

Current Quotations.
Best steers, $13.50 @ $14.50.
Good to choice steers, $11.75 @ $12.75.

Decorating for Soldiers Homecoming.
Every business house in the city is wearing a patriotic decoration of some kind in anticipation of the arrival of the soldiers of Company L who are being mustered out this week at Camp Lewis. The decorating of the windows is being done by Lee Smith, a local artist, each window bearing the letters "Welcome Company L" in red white and blue points. In addition to this several of the stores are making special decorations. The boys may possibly arrive home this week sometime and everything is being placed in readiness for their reception.

SENATOR A. M. LAFOLLETT "THE MAN OF THE PEOPLE"

SCOTT'S MILLS NEWS

(Turner Tribune)

As we predicted at the beginning of the legislative session of 1919, Senator A. M. LaFollett has been a true and sincere friend of the taxpayers of the state of Oregon.

The people of Marion county have reason to be more than satisfied with his efforts to secure legislation that benefited them. He did all that it was possible to do in their behalf. He thus proved his sincerity and loyalty to the public in every way. Under all circumstances, without fear or favor, his voice was always raised in defense of those whom he was trying to honestly and faithfully represent. His vote on all occasions indicated, the manner of man he is.

C. C. Chapman, editor of the Oregon Voter, a weekly magazine published at Portland, Oregon, has this comment to make on Senator LaFollett:

"We venture the assertion that had Senator LaFollett been a member of the 1919 committee on ways and means, he would have saved the taxpayers of Oregon at least $500,000 because of his shrewd heckling which would have penetrated the vulnerable point of many an application for funds."

This handsome compliment comes from a person who has seen fit at different times to criticize our senator. The regret is that the legislature was not constituted with many other senators and representatives, like Senator LaFollett.

If Senator LaFollett had bowed down and stood in with the "Steam Rolling Machine" of the senate, he could have been appointed on any committee he desired. He was honorable enough to spurn every proposition submitted to him that was not in accord with his high ideals of honor and integrity. Hence he was left off of important committees, because he would not cringe or fawn to the machine. His thorough independence and wish to loyally serve the people, did not allow him to become a mere tool of designing men.

In our judgment there was not a member of the legislature more thoroughly in sympathy with the sentiments and aspirations of the voters of Marion county and the state of Oregon who desire proper legislation, than Senator LaFollett. Patriotic and courageous he did his duty by the people. True, manly courage cannot exist without honor and integrity. Those traits Senator LaFollett possesses in a remarkable degree. Any person can go with the current, but to stand firm by one's convictions in the interest of the taxpayers and vote for a proposition that one deems right, is difficult to do. Most men lack the Spartan courage to stand up and be counted alone in favor of a measure they consider right when the crowd is against it.

Rugged and strong of character, honest in the conception of his duties, Senator LaFollett is a type of man that is uncommon in these trying times of duplicity and double dealing.

He is one of the chivalrous characters that has the firmness to advocate what is right because it is just, rather than for any personal interest. Big hearted and faithful to the cause of the taxpayers, Senator LaFollett has made a name for himself in which his relatives and friends should take a special pride. He despises cant and hypocrisy. An enemy to falsehood and deceit, he could not help properly representing the people of Marion county. He is a plain, blunt, and fearless personage. He is a born fighter for the overburdened taxpayer, and the public in general. Those who thoroughly know his honesty of purpose, admire his grand qualities of heart and mind. The people of Marion county are singularly fortunate in having selected as one of their representatives a man of his sterling character.

When the smoke of battle of the thirtieth session of the legislative assembly of Oregon shall have cleared away, the name of Senator LaFollett will appear pre-eminently before the public as one of the best legislators comprising it. His honesty and integrity will stand out as a beacon light for the encouragement and as an example for the future members of the legislature to follow and emulate. It can be truly said, Senator LaFollett is "The Man of the People."

The executive committee of the new labor party at Chicago will test the constitutionality of the espionage act.
