Bible Conferences

The Bible Conferences of the Scotch Irish International Bible Teacher and Evangelist Rev. Walter Duff, have continued during this last week at the two local churches of the Evangelicals, and have been attended by good and attentive audiences. The lectures are characterized by a good deal of Irish wit and humor, and originality.

Mr. Duff is using a blackboard to illustrate dispensational truth, and to make bible teaching concrete. It is refreshing to listen to a man who has originality enough to discard century-old conventionalities and who studies the Bible first hand. It is worth while to come and hear him. The Bible will mean more to those that attend his conferences and who come with open ears and open hearts.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday he will be at the Congregational church. Monday evening he will speak on the Irish question and Home Rule, a subject that ought to bring out a large audience. He will finish the week at the First Baptist church. Everybody welcome. Tonight the Bible Conference will be at the United Evangelical church, Cottage street, near Center.

CANADA'S APPETITE FOR AUTOMOBILES SPEEDS MOTOR INDUSTRY

Revolutions are the order of the day. Not all of them are bloody, neither are governments the only things that are being revolutionized. This age is seeing innovations in education, industry, transportation and general living conditions in greater measure than any other century has recorded. To a great extent the automobile is responsible for these changes and nowhere is its power more in evidence than in Canada.

Prairie schooners and ox-teams that marked the trail of western pioneers in the seventies and eighties are almost curiosities today. Go into any of the western provinces and what will you find in their stead? Tractors for plowing and reaping, motor trucks for hauling grain to market, and automobiles for carrying the farmer's family to town, to church or to some social affair—that may be taking place in the neighborhood—a neighborhood with a radius of thirty or more miles. Not so picturesque as the old styles perhaps, but much more comfortable and profitable. The demand for motor cars in western centres is always greater than the supply. The bona fide is invading the hitherto special province of the mountain pony and the sure-footed burro. Pony trails are giving way to excellent roads, even in the fastnesses of the Canadian Pacific Rockies, and today the trip between Lake Louise and Yoho Valley can be made in a motor car, the Canadian Pacific Railway having instituted automobile service between these popular resorts.

Canada has its transcontinental highways. There is talk of an aerial highway that shall follow the Canadian Pacific route. Is it not possible that in time it will also have a coast-to-coast motor way? From Vancouver many miles of good roads stretch eastward through British Columbia. The mileage of motor roads in Quebec and Ontario grows yearly. In between these are many stretches of excellent motor ways such as the famous Bank-Windermere highway, and those radiating from Calgary, Regina, Winnipeg and Fort William that may, some day, be linked into a great chain.

Automobile manufacturers have not been blind to the opportunity that is theirs in Canada and a number have opened branches there. In spite of the fact that many plants were given over to munition making, there were in Canada at the close of 1917 eleven automobile factories and twenty-four plants for the manufacture of automobile accessories. These represented a capital investment of over thirty-one millions of dollars and turned out more than sixty million dollars worth of product. Already this industry is feeling the impetus of peace and planning expansions that shall employ many of the returning heroes.

PROGRESS TOWARD PEACE CHEERING TO FINANCIERS

Normal Conditions Expected To Follow Quickly Signing Of Articles.

New York, Mar. 14.—Though a large part of Europe seems swamped in anarchy, there is cheer in the thought that progress is being made at the Paris peace conference. Before very long the particular points of difference between delegates in assembly will have been largely adjusted, there being reason to believe that the negotiations of the last few weeks have quietly cleared the way for more rapid action in the future. As peace becomes more and more an accomplished fact, normal conditions will reappear, restrictions upon commerce will melt away, and such tendencies will materially aid in restoring order and stable government in Russia, Germany and other war-torn countries. It must be remembered that the present unrest in Europe has a psychological as well as a political and economic aspect. The people of the belligerent nations are war-weary and intensely on edge after four years of the bitterest sorrow and strife the world has ever endured. In consequence all their grievances and troubles are magnified many times beyond their real importance. It is necessary therefore, that peace should come as quickly as possible in order to restore normal conditions and to remove those which irritate. President Wilson has gone back to Europe to hasten the adoption of the League of Nations, which after some essential amendments are made, will go far toward preventing future wars.

In merchandise circles there is still more or less hesitation, due to uncertainty regarding the future of prices and wages. Commodities generally are weak and declining. Metals and textiles, which include a very large proportion of domestic industry, are conspicuously lower, but as yet there is no evidence of their having reached a stable basis, and there has been no little uneasiness as to the large stocks of metals and raw and manufactured fibre held by the government and others which must eventually come on the market at a heavy depreciation from war prices. It is true that shelves are bare, that buying power is large, but with such risks as that just noted buyers naturally hold aloof until satisfied that bottom has been reached for the selling at least. Manufacturers are also held back pending adjustment in Salem, and everybody ought to hear him. Jacob Stocker.

Evangelical Association

Seventeenth and Chemeketa streets, Jacob Stocker, pastor—10 a. m., Sunday school; 11 a. m., divine worship and sermon. In the afternoon at 3 p. m. this church will participate in the memorial service at the First M. E. church. 8:45 p. m., Young People's Alliance; 7:30 p. m., sermon.

000,000 to the railroads and the adoption of Secretary Redfield's proposal to stabilize steel prices, which was followed by one of Mr. Gary's optimistic predictions of a return of large business prosperity. On the unfavorable side of affairs are marked hesitations caused by labor difficulties, the huge burden of taxation which impairs business initiative, the pressure of coming bond issues on the money market, the shrinkage by falling prices and heavy taxes, the refusal of merchants to buy until rock-bottom prices have been reached, the fact that enormous stocks of some commodities are in both government and private hands, and the unsatisfactory state of affairs at Washington are each and all impediments to genuine business recovery. Under circumstances so strenuously conflicting there is naturally a wide difference of individual opinion as to the future; but the balance of opinion is unquestionably on the peaceful side, and, in spite of occasional setbacks, the prospect is for a return to more normal and more prosperous conditions. Since we have suffered less from the war, the recovery in this country will be much more rapid than in Europe, and promises to be most emphatic in those activities which were neglected or set aside during the war. There is ample basis for growing confidence.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous uric acid, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism go from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

WANT MARKET ROADS

The subject uppermost in the minds of many North Marion county citizens at this time is that of the proposed market roads and their location. A petition was being passed Wednesday and signed by most every one to whom it was presented to designate as a market road one connecting Hubbard, Aurora, Donald and White school. In solving the problem of connecting the remotest parts of each community with the nearest and logical market place to which farmers would deliver their produce, many difficulties are naturally encountered. The last route as outlined which accommodates the territory west of both Hubbard and Aurora, leaves the Pacific Highway at White School, thence northwest to the Lebo corner, thence west of Donald, a distance of three miles. A route previously outlined, estimated to serve one-third less people, went west from Aurora over the Giesey route through to Newberg. This route has an additional bad feature in leaving Donald off to the south. The route beginning at White School and west to Donald misses none of these towns and serves a greater number of people in addition.—Enterprise.
