

C. C. Chapman Of "Oregon Voter" May Address Club

Efforts are being made to have C. C. Chapman of the Oregon Voter address the members of the Commercial club next Monday evening. He will be asked to talk on State Chamber of Commerce work and what such an organization would do for the state.

On account of the many other affairs in town last evening, but few came out to the Commercial club to hear Mark Woodruff of Portland talk on the doings of the State Chamber of Commerce.

Among the other claims made by Mr. Woodruff as to what a state chamber of commerce could accomplish was that of securing some of the $9,000,000 reclamation funds to which the state was entitled to a part, but has never received. Mr. Woodruff intimated that Portland did not expect to be the whole thing in the State Chamber of Commerce but that each commercial club would have the same number of votes. He also told of what a central business organization might do in the way of creating a sentiment in favor of a bond issue for reclamation of swamp lands and other lands that would be valuable if reclaimed, and this referred especially to the Willamette valley.

Announcement is made that each Monday noon there will be given a luncheon at the Mariot hotel when members of the Commercial club will be asked to speak on the local conditions and what may be best done to take advantage of the prosperity that is in sight, at least for a few years.

fine to pay taxes. The council would issue a general appeal to this effect.

The appeal would be followed up by solicitations to taxpayers directed thru the 1900 Sinn Fein clubs scattered throughout Ireland, with their 750,000 membership.

The government soon would find it almost impossible to collect any taxes on real property, it is believed. Liens on furniture and other effects would be wasted legal action, leaders say. The furniture could not be sold to pay the indebtedness, they predict.

"No Irish auctioneer would consent to act at such rates," said a Sinn Fein leader. "Auctioneers would have to be imported from England. So would purchasers. Then Irish labor would refuse to remove the sold goods to the wharves and Irish sailors would refuse to carry it on their ships. England soon would find herself without the millions of pounds sterling that she now squeezes out of Ireland."

Merchants Inclined To Buy As Little As Possible, Now

E. T. Barnes, who has been attending buyers' week at Seattle, says that he found all merchants inclined to buy as little as possible and that even the larger merchants are adopting a hand to mouth policy of buying.

This policy is due to the fact that the merchant is taking a chance on loading up on merchandise on a falling market and also on a most uncertain market.

The cost of production caused by the higher wages demanded by labor will keep prices up on all goods, Mr. Barnes thought, although of course as the raw material becomes cheaper, there will be some reductions in price.

For instance, Mr. Barnes noted that for full quotations, there was a tendency for lower prices in all staple dry goods and even woollens are reaching out for lower prices for next fall. The American Woolen Company, which practically establishes woolen piece goods prices, is already quoting lower prices in serges for next fall.

As to silks, Mr. Barnes does not expect much lower prices very soon, due to the fact that Japanese labor is now getting a raise of about 200 per cent in wages and they are becoming organized in order to maintain these higher wages. In the manufacture of silks, wages paid practically dictate the price of the goods.

Shoes are going to be higher and already some of the big shoe manufacturers in St. Louis and in Massachusetts are quoting higher prices for fall delivery. This is due not to the cost of leather but to the higher wages that is demanded by labor. While hides are much cheaper, higher wages paid in the shoe manufacturing centers more than counterbalance the low price of raw materials.

Linens are not likely to be any cheaper and in many lines of cotton goods, factories are closed or partially closed due to the high cost of production through the high wages paid, all of which will have a tendency to uphold prices.

HAS INTERESTS HERE.

Geo. F. Peed, stockman of the Ten Mile, left on the afternoon train for Salem where he will remain for two or three days looking after property interests in that city. Mr. Peed stated today that he has about 40 acres of very fine red clover, which he sowed as an experiment, and his hopes are being fulfilled in regard to the promise of a good stand. He stated that he was advised not to plant clover, as it would not do anything, but indications are that the pessimists will be routed. In addition to a good crop, the clover will build up the land as nothing else will, so Mr. Peed is satisfied that his experiment will pay him handsomely.—Roseburg News.

WOODBURN MAN BUYS.

A great number of real estate deals of more or less importance have been made in the Myrtle Creek vicinity recently, many returning soldiers having bought land on which to make their homes. One of the most recent deals occurred a few days ago when O. H. Boje, formerly a lieutenant in the aviation service and a resident of Woodburn, bought the M. A. Manley place which contains one of the best petite prune orchards in that section.—Roseburg Review.

MARRIED.

Miss Lucy Kilian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kilian of this city, was united in marriage Sunday at the Methodist parsonage, to James B. Brady, of Falls City. Rev. Plummer was the officiating clergyman. The happy young couple left the scene of the wedding for their future home at Falls City, where Mr. Brady holds a good position with the lumber company of that place.—Appeal.

Salem And Lincoln Play For Championship

Eugene, Or., Mar. 15.—The Salem and Lincoln high school of Portland basketball teams will meet tonight to play for the state interscholastic basketball championship as a result of the two game semi-finals played here this morning in which the Salem five white washed the Ashland quintet with a 38 to 17 score and the Lincolnites eliminated Silverton with a 33 to 16 victory. Ashland and Silverton won their right to meet in the semi-finals last night when Ashland defeated Hood River with a 49 to 12 walk away and Silverton rung up a 44 to 16 victory over the Marshfield basketbats.

The Salem-Ashland clash this morning was a surprise to Oregon fans as Ashland was heralded as one of the best teams in the state and a probable combatant in the final series. The southern Oregon squad failed to play up to the form they showed last night, while Salem played a whirlwind game from start to finish. Salem led at the end of the half with a 16 to 7 score. Gill and Latham were the high point men for the winners with Ashland, Samson guard, holding Bryant, Ashland's brilliant forward to but two field goals. Latham chalked up a total of ten baskets with Gill gathering three and converting two out of 7 foul throws. Bryant converted 9 out of 12 foul shots for Ashland.

Lincoln high jumped into the lead over Silverton from the first minute of play in their contest this morning. The Portland men played much faster ball throughout. The score at the end of the first half was 16 to 11 in their favor. Wright at forward was high point man of the Lincoln team with 7 field goals and 7 converted fouls out of 13 attempts to his credit. McClary was chief point winner for the Silverton men.

SILVERTON AND SALEM LEAD IN STATE CONTEST.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Mar. 15.—The Lincoln high basketball team of Portland won the first game of the state basketball tournament here today. Lincoln drew Eugene in a lottery for places and defeated the fast valley team by a score of 23 to 10.

In the second game of the afternoon's series Silverton slipped a win over Astoria by a count of 20 to 17. This game was fast and furious from start to finish, and while neither team played exceptional basketball they were evenly matched. Astoria was ahead at the end of the first period 9 to 8, and the lead changed hands several times during the contest. Astoria can blame her defeat to the fact that Hulbert had an off day on shooting fouls. Out of 14 chances to gather a point he converted only 7.

Silverton had considerable luck during the afternoon. Morley made one beautiful shot from the center of the floor that brought the crowd to its feet. Harwood, forward, and Astmeyer, center, played the best game for Silverton, while Lee and Hulbert got the honorable mention for the Astoria quintet.

A credit of $5,000,000 in favor of Roumania was announced Thursday by the treasury department.

There have been 20 continuous days of snow at Mencham. The depth is now five feet.

Standard List Not Changed In Today's Short Session

New York, Mar. 15.—The Evening Sun financial review today says:

While there were numerous issues which were bid up briskly at the opening of today's short session of the stock market, the standard list was not materially changed nor did it present any feature of more than passing interest. As trading developed, more and more irregularly gave a spotty appearance which was not dissimilar from the surface manifestations of yesterday.

The steel and copper shares were again soft. The motor and distilling issues were little more than firm, although they had some strong moments early. American International, Central Leather, Mexican Petroleum and United States Rubber were well bought. The rails, like the industrials, were disposed to ease off in very light dealings.

Henry B. Spencer, vice president of the Southern railway, has been appointed director of the railroad administration's department of justice.
