Women of Salem

JUST TRY TO IMAGINE OVER A MILLION AND A HALF PEOPLE WITH NOTHING IN THE WORLD BUT WHAT THEY HAVE ON THEIR BACKS, AND A FEW LITTLE TREASURES THAT THEY WERE ABLE TO CARRY IN THEIR HANDS WHEN THEY WERE DRIVEN FROM THEIR HOMES ALL OVER EUROPE DURING THE VARIOUS GERMAN OCCUPATIONS. Then dig into your closets, trunks, and boxes and haul out those perfectly good clothes that you can very well do without--also those old shoes which are whole, but out of date or outgrown--and those baskets and bundles full of outgrown but not worn out baby clothes. Don't you think it selfish to keep them locked up indefinitely, when there are so many people to whom they would bring comfort and joy? If your district is not mentioned above telephone to 139 if it is not possible to bring the things to the USED AND SURPLUS CLOTHING HEADQUARTERS at 123 North Commercial, just north of the U. S. National bank, and we will gladly send for them.

Star Spangled Banner.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Giles of Nebraska, avenue, are soon leaving Salem on an extended visit in Nebraska, and other eastern points. A few of their friends, particularly those who have been members of the Bible class that Mrs. Giles has taught so faithfully for many months, took her completely by surprise Thursday afternoon. Violet and daffodils as usual at this time of year gave the rooms a spring like attire, Mrs. H. Rawson joined the festive group a little late and took a snap shot of all present, that Mrs. Giles might have a pleasant reminder of her friends, and also as a small token of appreciation felt by all for Mrs. Giles' faithful work in the Englewood United Brethren Sunday school, these ladies presented her with a knitting bag of the usual good size capacity. Mrs. H. Pascoe making the presentation. The guests had brought a delicious lunch which was served by Mrs. Frank H. Noff and Mrs. Albert Fuestman.

Among others present were Mrs. Alphonso Palmer, Mrs. H. Richmond, Mrs. E. Hoxie, Mrs. P. S. Schultz, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. H. Rawson, Mrs. L. Moody, Mrs. Ben Davis, Mrs. D. Lightfoot Mrs. J. Garnell, Mrs. Harry Rowe, Mrs. F. W. Castle and Mrs. H. Pascoe.
