Some Woodburn Boys Are Home From France

Captain Grover Todd surprised his overjoyed family last Sunday night by his arrival home. It was thought that he would first have to go to Camp Lewis, but instead he was honorably discharged from service at Camp Dix. It was Captain Todd who commanded Company I when the company left here for France and who came back with the same company, thirty of whom were from this section. The captain was in charge of the depot division at Soissons and trained recruits principally in automatic and machine rifle work. After a ten day course of instruction the men were ready for duty in that line. They handled some day, a thousand men.

Ted Balda was greeted by his many friends here when he arrived last Thursday from France via Camp Lewis. He was a member of the 102d band and later was transferred to the 6th Wisconsin band. For a few months he was a sapper in a cavalry troop. He had lots of experiences and had traveled about 20,000 miles. The routine in France was working up on their instruments from 8:30 to 9, playing from 9 to 11 a. m., playing one hour after dinner, during the parade from 3 to 4 p. m., also giving concerts three times a week in the parks and huts in the evenings. They had detail work as well as the others. The band consisted of 50 pieces and the music was enjoyed by the French, who were especially elated over the lively airs when played.

Chester Soules arrived last Thursday from Camp Lewis, having recently come from France, where he was a member of battery D, 65th coast artillery, a full account of the movements of which was given in a recent issue of the Independent. He was on the St. Mihiel, Verdun and other fronts, going over the top and thru the Hindenburg line. He has promised the Independent a full account of his movements in France and the different engagements in which he was.

Wagoner Willard Branigan came back from France yesterday, arriving in Woodburn on the early morning train, having been released at Camp Lewis. He was in the 102d supply company and among the many acts to his credit was the capturing of two German spies at Bordeaux while he was on guard one night. He is looking well and has gained 20 pounds.

ing well and has gained 20 pounds. Corp. Lloyd Demarest, who was also with the same supply company, also returned. Both are glad to get home again.

Corporal Ralph Branigan came home last Thursday from Camp Lewis, where he had arrived from overseas, and left Sunday on his return to Camp Lewis to be mustered out. It was plain to be seen by the smiles chasing themselves across his handsome face that he was glad to get home again. He left here with Company I and was transferred to the 164th infantry. He was among those whose duty it was to school those going to the front.

Corporal Ralph Gilbert arrived home last Sunday from Camp Lewis, having received his discharge from the service. He went over to France with Company M of Salem and was most of the time at Compiègne in the training camp. He says that the rifle training of the troops was one thing over and over again until it got extremely tiresome.—Independent.

Civ News

Letters are coming from Florida, Alberta, Canada, Texas, Oklahoma and from North Dakota to the Commercial club, asking for information as to small fruit farms. The letters are from men who are experienced in farming and would make good citizens. Unfortunately Manager McCroskey of the Commercial club has no new advertising matter to send the various farmers who want to come west to Oregon as the only available pamphlets are five or six years old. One farmer from Hallsville, Texas, writes that four families in his neighborhood are tired of raising cotton and of living in a hot country and that they would like to come to the Willamette valley. From Alberta, three inquiries were received today as to land conditions in the valley.

The case of Roy Green, the Oregon Electric brakeman, charged with the delinquency of a minor child, will be called in the circuit court Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. He is now out on a cash bond of $1000.

Next Friday morning at 10 o'clock a meeting will be held of the committee appointed to locate the roads for the proposed market roads of the county. Hurley Moore of Woodburn is chairman and with him are associated 10 men appointed to represent every part of the county. On the afternoon of next Friday the general committee on the proposed market roads will hold a session. T. B. Kay, chairman of this committee and with him are associated 25 men. It is probable that at this meeting, the location of the proposed market roads will be definitely decided by the location committee, which will report to the general committee. The location of the roads will not appear on the petition for the election, but on the measure placed on the ballot, the exact location of the new market roads will be given.

LOWER FOOD PRICES IN RELATIVELY NEAR FUTURE IS PREDICTED

George N. Peek, Chairman Of Industrial Board Qualifies Statement.

Washington, Mar. 24.—Lower food prices in the "relatively near future" were predicted today by George N. Peek, chairman of the industrial board, now driving to bring down war prices in all commodities. After a conference with food administration officials, Peek made this statement:

"There is every reason to expect lower food prices in the relatively near future. This view, I believe the men in charge of the affairs of the food administration will share."

Peek based his predictions on lower food prices, he said, on the possibility of an enormous wheat crop this year and the fact that the government, under the wheat guarantee bill, has ample authorities to guarantee the $2.25 wheat price and then sell the wheat or the flour at a loss to bring down food prices.

Government To Take Action.

Peek was of the opinion that some action of this kind will be taken by the government.

Just how the provisions of the wheat guarantee bill will be carried out is now up to President Wilson, it was stated.

Peek believes that if the price of flour or wheat to the public can be brought down despite the fact that the farmer receives $2.25 a bushel, practically all other food prices will drop.

"The phrasing of the grain bill," Peek pointed out, "clearly indicates that the one billion dollar appropriation was made by congress, not only to make good the $2.25 guarantee to the farmers but to enable the government to sell wheat and flour at the guaranteed prices, or such other prices and on such terms or conditions as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of the act 'and to enable the people of the United States to purchase wheat products at a reasonable cost.'"

This phrasing, Peek explained, made the grounds for any action by the government to subsidize wheat or flour so that it may be sold to the public at lower prices than it actually costs.

PORTLAND MAN GAINS 24 POUNDS

Was Hardly Able To Work Before He Began Taking Taulac.

"When I started taking Taulac I was so weak I could hardly do anything at all, and it has not only almost made a new man of me, but I have gained twenty four pounds besides," said Charles E. Shaffer, an employee of the Grant Smith Porter Ship Building company, living at 508 West Charleston street, Portland, Or., the other day.

"A little over a year ago," he continued, "I suffered from a bad case of indigestion that pulled me down till I was hardly fit for a thing. I lost my appetite and what little I managed to force down soured on my stomach and felt as hard as a lump of lead in me, and I was miserable night and day. Then several weeks ago I had an awful attack of tonsillitis that had me so bad I couldn't swallow a bit of nourishment for ten days, and it came near putting me out of business. I felt tired and worn out all the time and lost every spark of energy I ever had. When I went to bed I would roll and toss so much that I never got a good night's sleep, in fact I haven't been able to sleep much in the last three or four years, and I always got up in the mornings feeling just as bad as when I went to bed. I lost considerable in weight and got so weak and run-down that at last I just had to quit working altogether."

"I read so much about the good Taulac was doing others that I decided to try a bottle. I began to pick up right smartly from the very first, and in a little while I had my appetite back and was eating and enjoying my meals, and everything now agrees with me. I get as hungry as a bear in three hours after eating a hearty breakfast, and my food is building me up something wonderful. I sleep like a log all night and get up in the mornings feeling just fine and dandy. I am fast getting back my old time energy and have already got a number of my friends started on Taulac and expect to keep on boosting it."

Taulac is sold in Hubbard by Hubbard Drug Co., in Mt. Angel by Ben Good, in Gervais by John Kelly, in Turner by H. P. Cornelius, in Woodburn by Lyman H. Storey, in Salem by Dr. A. C. ## FAMOUS THE WORLD OVER.

To extol the virtues of Royal baking powder is like gilding refined gold. This famous product had its first introduction on the market about fifty years ago and is now a household word all over the world. It goes into millions of homes and is known and used in every country under the sun. The Kaffir in South Africa and explorers at the North Pole find it equally good and time resisting. It has come to be regarded as an indispensable adjunct to the most up to date as well as the most primitive kitchen, and although many other baking powders have come upon the market, Royal holds its place as the highest grade baking powder that it is possible to produce.

The Distinguishing feature of Royal Baking Powder is the fact that it is made from cream of tartar, which is derived from grapes, a delicious wholesome fruit. Constant vigilance and determination of the manufacturers to turn out the best article of the kind that brains, capital and scientific skill can produce has won the endorsement of the most eminent chemists, physicians and dietitians the world over and made Royal baking powder relied upon by countless numbers of women to make pure and wholesome food.

A telephone message was received this morning at police headquarters with the information that the horse and buggy stolen from the Wicklander home, 608 South 12th street, had been found at Melilla. They were stolen several days ago by the two boys who escaped from the reform school.

No Foundation To Reported Demand Of Italy For Fiume

Paris, March 24.—The highest American authorities declared today that there is absolutely no foundation in a report that Italy had threatened to withdraw from the peace conference unless awarded Fiume. On the contrary, they said, they have found Premier Orlando displaying a spirit of cooperation and good humor in all his recent conferences with allied representatives.

In view of the reiterated reports of such a threat by a press association, the official Italian press bureau today is sued another denial, declaring: "It can be authoritatively stated that the Italian delegation took no decision of this nature."

The French press generally is carrying similar denials. For example, the Temps said:

"We are informed authoritatively that the Italian delegation has taken no such decision as has been reported by certain English and American newspapers regarding the Fiume question."
