Clean Exterior Of Engine, Is Good Advice

Too frequently motorists are satisfied to keep their engines free from carbon, but do not attempt to keep the exterior of their power plants clean. They should take a lesson from the steam engineers who keep their machinery bright and shiny in addition to removing all dirt. A motor car engine is exposed to more severe operating conditions than a steam eagine. Dirt, road dust and mud mix wit hoil, forming a gummy mass. When this mixture of all and dirt reaches working parts it has the effect of eery. It is detrimental to magneto, dis tributor and earburetor operation and also impairs the efficiency of the cooling system of the engine eventually.
