

As Easter Approaches

Every woman is interested in

HATS

This morning's express brought us another fine line of LADIES' HATS from the most Famous Designers. They are mostly plain tailored, but have such dash and chic that they unmistakably proclaim their aristocratic origin.

You will find a big variety of shapes and colors neatly trimmed.

Paul V. Johnson, A. B. Gardner, Lee M. Urush, J. B. Ashby and Henry Pasco, serving as a jury in the court of Justice Urush, decided yesterday that a man's wife had a right to call him all sorts of names. And not only that, but if she was really mad at him, she was not violating the law in scratching him up a little, all of this being a woman's privilege. This question of what is right and what isn't, was decided yesterday in the case of a charge of disorderly conduct against Mrs. Jessie Stoller.

County Superintendent of Schools W. M. Smith is today sending to school districts a part of the county school fund. This time it amounts to $13,567.20. Each district receives its share of this fund based on $5 for each person between the ages of four and 20 years. The distribution this week is $1.10 for each name on the school census. The Salem school district is credited with 3650 names and will receive $4,015. There are more than 3650 persons in Salem between the ages of four and 20 years, but the census is generally taken in October when so many are out in the prune tracts or working away from home.

Base ball enthusiasts will be pleased with the rumor that every one from the state house to the effect that there is possibility of the organization of a ball nine among the denizens of the big dam, and that the old twilight series may be revived. There is alleged to be a lot of good material hidden away among the younger group of clericals up there, and if the organization can be brought about there will be something worth while to fill up the long evenings in Salem.

Wilford Allen, of the Industrial accident commission, has recently received a letter from his oldest son, Neil, who is now serving in the rank of 2d lieutenant in the 8th infantry, and is located at Camp Pontonosen, Brest, France. He sends along a copy of a four page paper bearing the title "Pontonosen Duckboard" of which he is one of the originators and is now engaged in its publication. It is printed in the interests of the camp and the American soldier generally. It is packed full of news from the camp, including a column of nonsense and sport matters, and a sprinkling of advertisements. Among other items in the late issue is an account of a visit of Colonel House at the camp, together with his complimentary remarks with regard to the fine condition of the camp.

A contingent of the 91st division, including a large group of Oregon men veterans of the Argonne forest and St. Mihiel and Ypres, arrived in New York yesterday, in charge of Colonel H. L. Gavanagh. Among the Portland and Willamette valley boys were the following: Lieut. Thomas Boyd, son of Dr. John L. Boyd of the First Presbyterian church of Portland; Capt. Chas. M. Ross, Portland; Sergeant Leonard Ward, Portland; John Bartel, Guy Stockman, Forest Grove; Allen Shelby, Eugene; Corporal Bill, Salem.

ry, Lieut. Bettha Campbell, recently returned from France, will give a most interesting account of her experiences in base hospital work. This will include a number of thrilling episodes. Everybody cordially invited. Eight o'clock.

Just to give people an opportunity to try themselves out and determine whether they have some latent ability as actors, the Bligh theater announces that it will put on an amateur night Friday evening. Those who really feel that acting in public is in their line, will be given an opportunity to show off. As the theater has no regulation "book," each aspirant for applause will be permitted to complete his or her number. It promises to be interesting.

The special gospel meetings at the South Salem Friends church continue to be well attended and are creating much interest. Reverend Lee preached last evening on "Spiritual possibilities of the church and why we are living below it." Practical sermons will be continued throughout the week.

The good housekeeper need not look for any reduction in groceries. One of the leading grocers said this morning that lard had been advancing and probably would advance a cent or two more a pound. All wheat products are up, due to the government's charges for carrying the crop. Coffee continues to hold firm with just a suspicion that it may show an advance within a week or two. Canned fruits are scarce and there isn't a ray of sunlight in the grocery bill that would suggest lower prices.

It is a fact that people are taking interest in suggesting a name for the Willamette valley prune that might be used for advertising purposes, just as "Sunkist" is used to indicate California oranges. The Commercial club has received additional suggestions for the fine Oregon prune as placed on the market and these suggestions include the following names: Heart o'Gold, Liberty Sun Sweets, Roundale Maid, Salem Pride, Dinky Sweets, Sun-ripe and Willamette Beauty.

try, the pupils have discovered Oregon and also that Salem is the capital. They had probably seen some Oregon boys at Norfolk and thought the country was worth investigating. Hence one of the pupils wrote the following to the Salem Commercial club: "Will you kindly send me a bulletin on information of your city. Please send it as soon as you can. We are studying it in our schools." The inquirer lives on rural route 5, Norfolk, Va. But the sad part of the story is that the Commercial club has no data on Salem or vicinity later than that compiled about five years ago.

Stanford M. Fairweather, first district superintendent of the Northern Pacific railway, died in Spokane Monday. He was a financier and well known throughout the northwest.

Why Druggists Recommend Swamp-Root

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine. It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do. Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.
